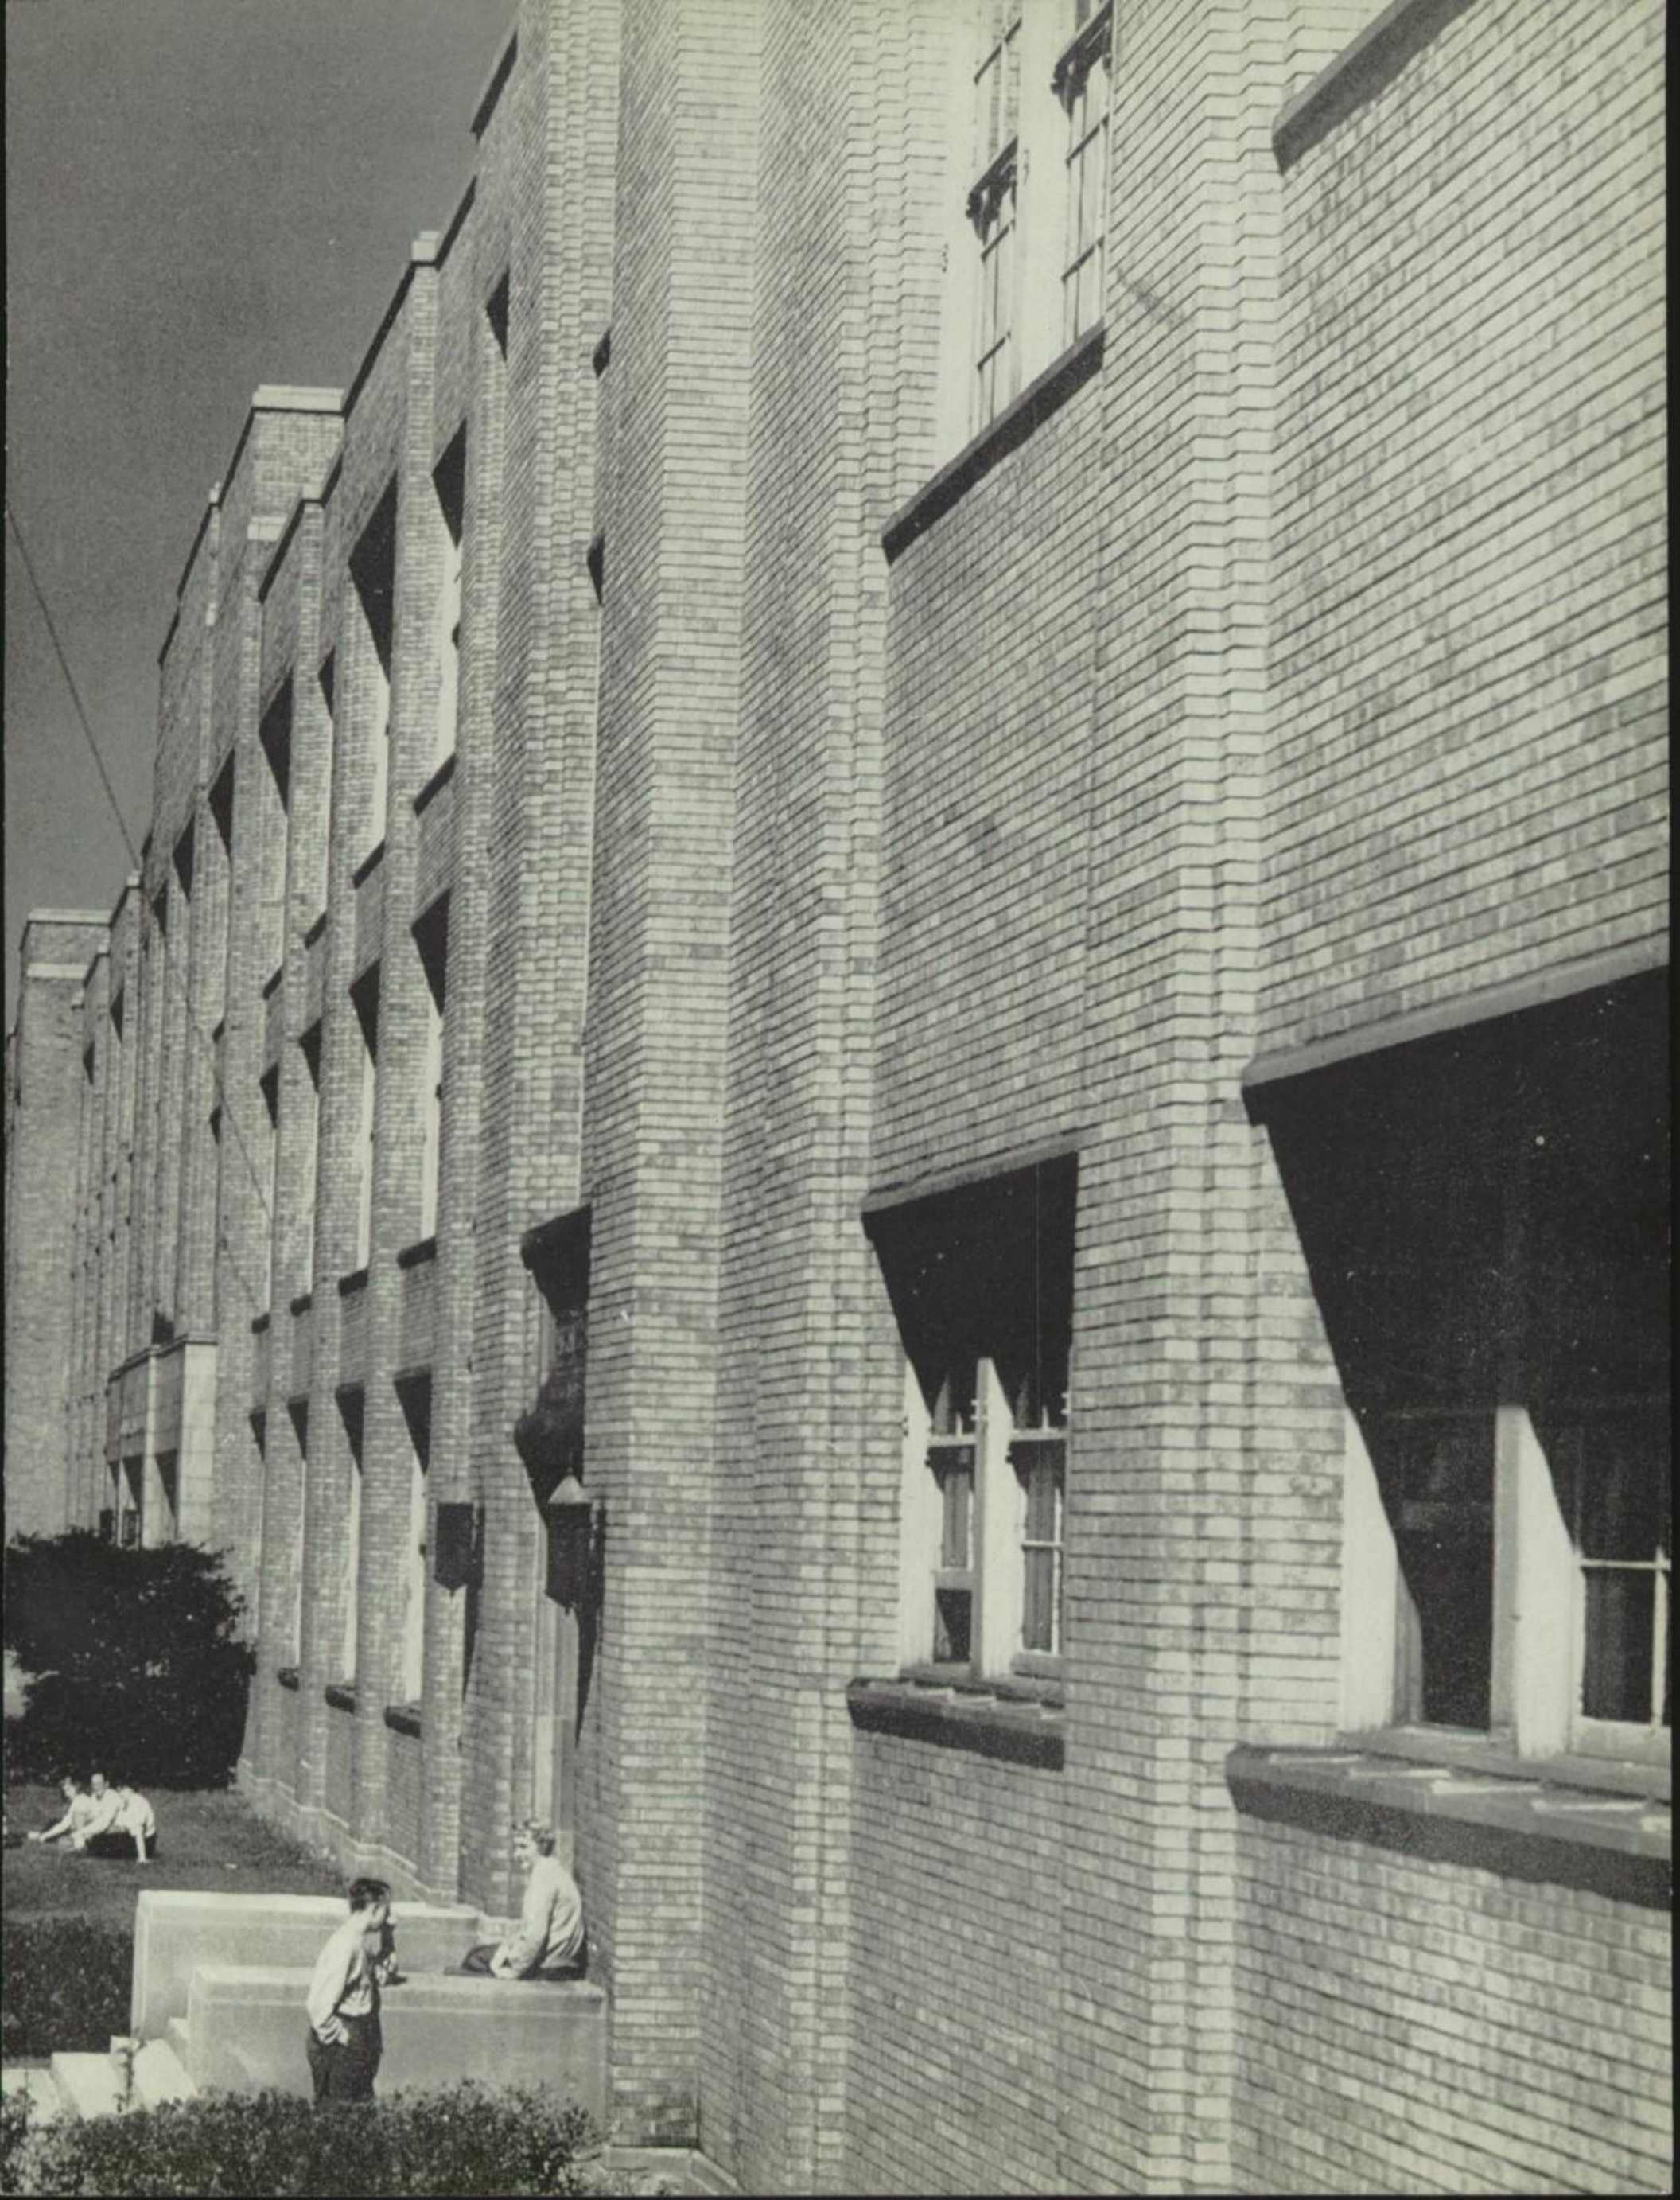
Preamble to Life



To Secure Knowledge

To Develop Worthy Characters

ABOVE

Upper—Sandra Sterling, Thelma Shapiro, and Barbara Rappaport begin their adventures in the world of science by learning dissection in their biology class.

Lower—No one could be more interested in the opening session of Congress than Adrianne Siegel, Ed Filmanowicz, Gerri Heiferman, Bob Knox, Bob Lissit, Sandra Sheinart, and Dan McCarthy as they hover around Sarell Schlutz, listening intently.

Right—Aiming for a greater speed in reading, Norma Hawkinson and Larry Heyman work with the new reading machine.

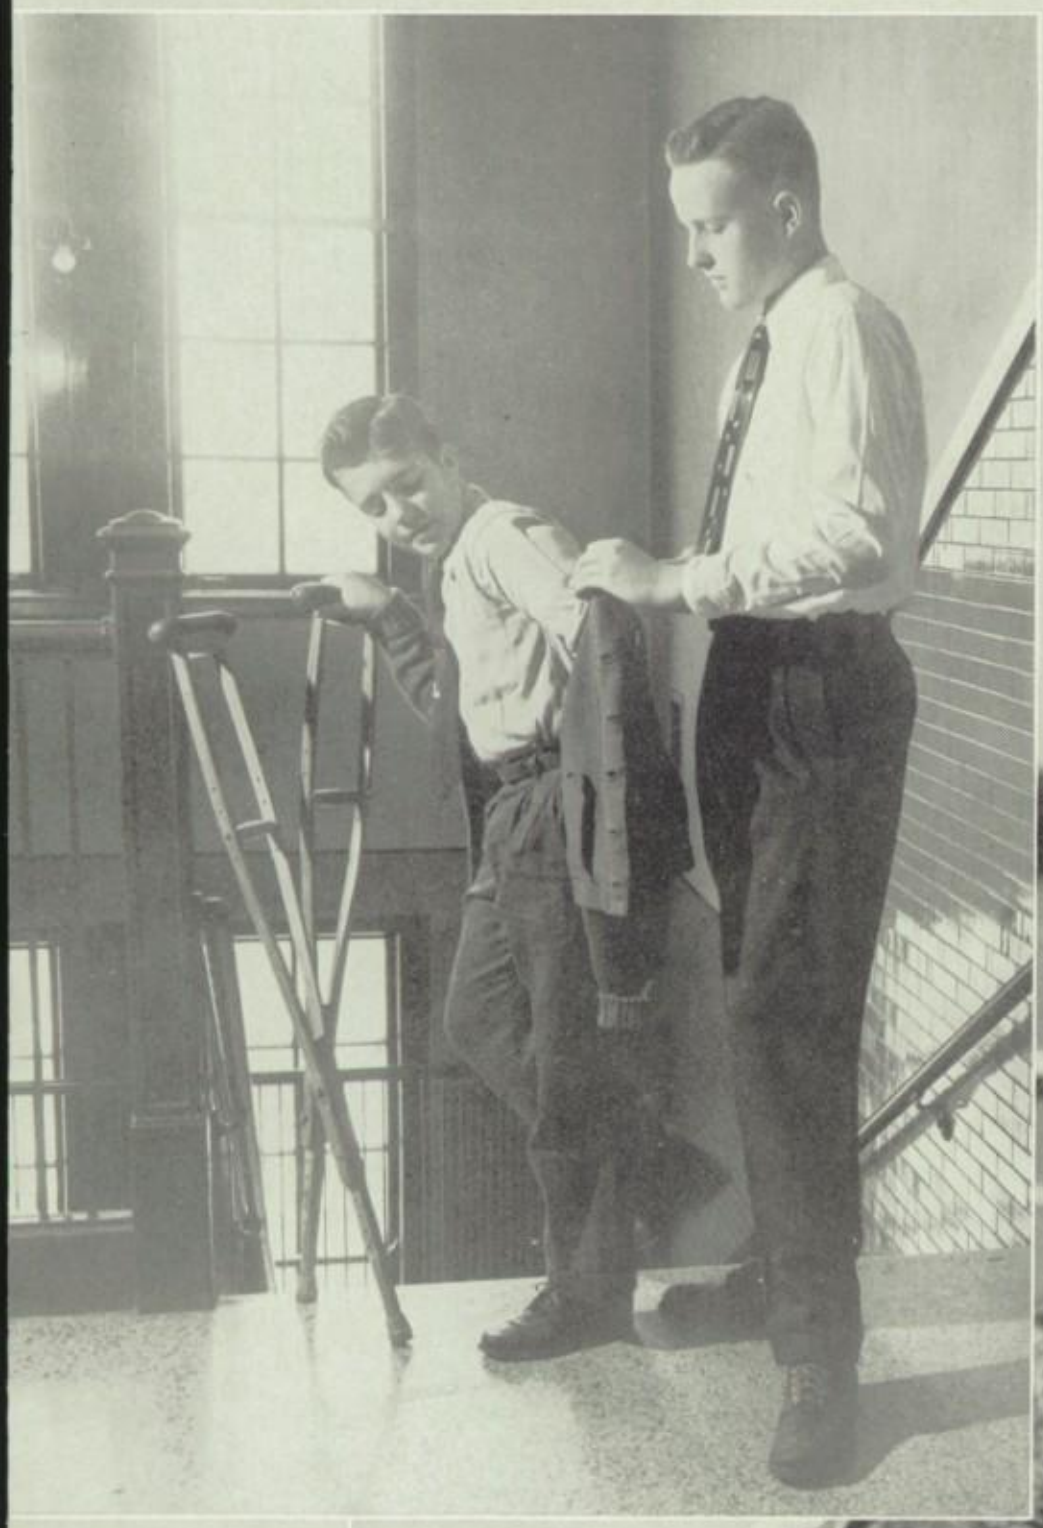
Upper right—Gwen Helaszek smiles her thanks as George Adinamis courteously holds the door for her.

Lower right—Terry Gerrard finds pleasure in relaxing with his most loyal friend.



W9IRU

To Discover Individual Abilities

To Create Lasting Friendships

Upper—"One, two, three, over," repeats Vic Levadi as he and Chuck Rubey desperately try to put ham station W9LRU on the air.

Center—Robbe Friedman, an outstanding public speaking student, speaks to Mrs. Rice's group during Education Week.

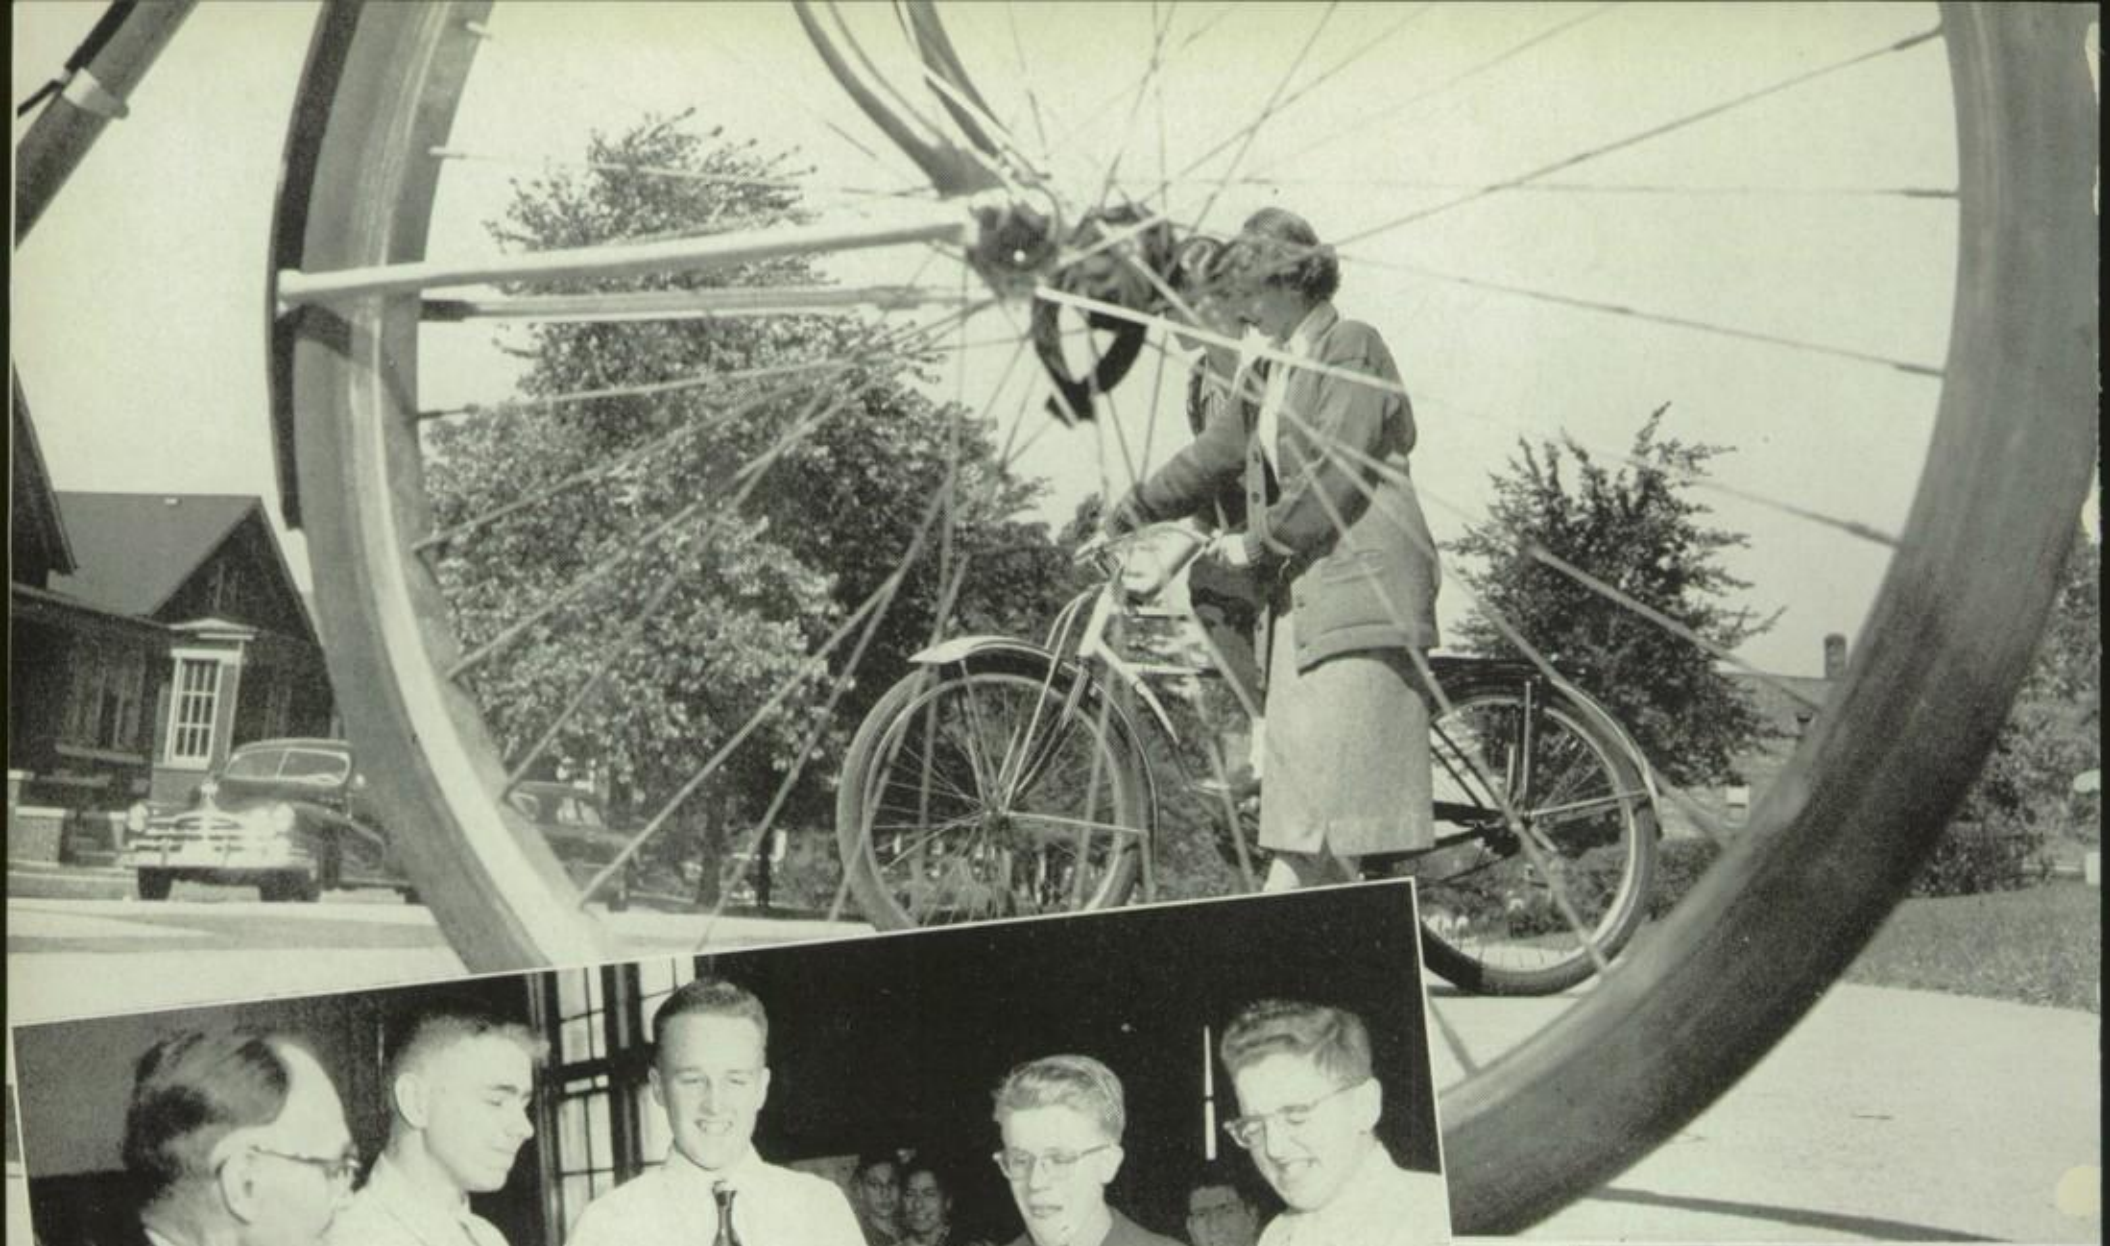
Lower—Bob Sundstrom and Lynn Wilson put the finishing touches on their Pan-American mural.

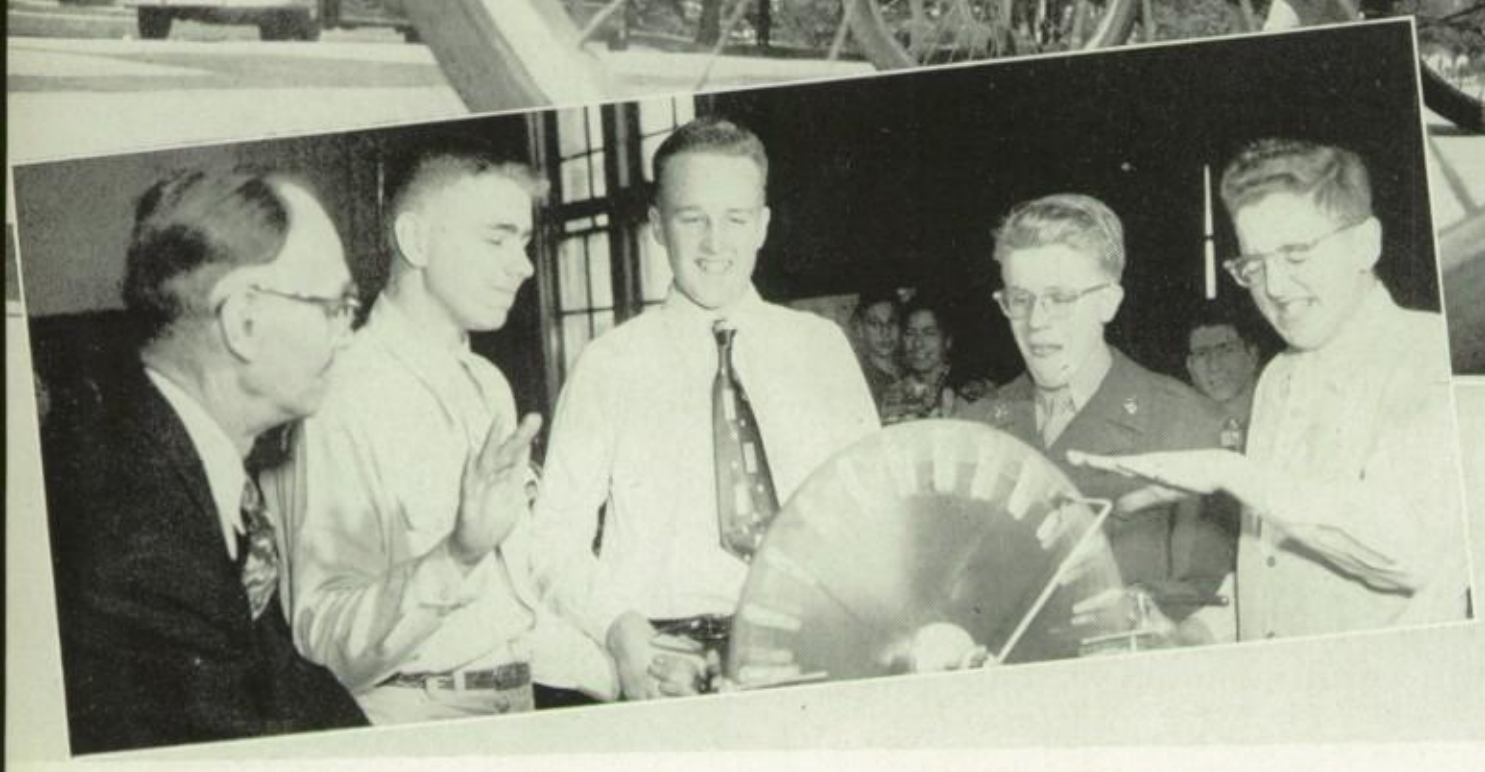
ABOVE

Left—Margaret Bird, Bob Morris, and Dorna MacIntyre chuckle over the tall tale Gene Orton has just told Tom Conner.

Upper right—Sandra Levitt, Ken Pardee, Joe Kater, Beth Saphir, and Ngaire Snow gaze in eager anticipation at Bill who is cutting Beth's birthday cake.

Lower right—Viva Johnson keeps in touch with a friend, even though he may be in some far away land.





To Co-operate With Others To Build Happy Memories

Upper—Lauren Pachman tries to teach Rosemary McMahon how to steer behind the wheel.

Lower—A true spirit of cooperation is shown by Dave Aggerholm, Tom Browning, Rick Doody, and Gary Naktin as they "get" the current from the static generator, worked by Mr. Mongerson.

Right—"Tumbling Tars" Richard Blankmeier, Harry Kentopian, Gene Pope, and Harry Meisenbach exhibit their skill on Fathers' Night.

Upper right—Is it memories of the Wagon Wheel Game that hold King Jim Lundergan in their thrall?

Lower—The end of their lunch period brings relaxation for Paul Rauscher, Parker Mellinghausen, Ray Overholt, and Al Escarraz.

Dear Elsie,
Well, this makes the 7th semester that wiwe had dear Mrs? Rice together. All thru grammar school and now high school is almoch ah a close. — Its hard for me to write what I feel Elsie, wiwe been thru so much together!! I only hope our friendchip will always continue.
Best wishes always. —
Love, Irene

Loads of luck and best of success to a very swell girl David Pizzle

Dear Elsie:-
It sure has been great to be in Div. and other classes together, because I've really enjoyed it. Best of everything to you in the future.
Love

Dear Elsie
One more year for this semester, but after is still next semester you. See you then. Good luck.
Eileen Hackberger

Dear Elsie,
It's of luck to a swell kid,
Jane

Dear Elsie:- Here's wishing lots of luck to one of the swellest "girls"
I've ever known.
Have lots of fun
the summer and "be good"
Love, Carolyn

Through Our Classes

We Secure Knowledge and Develop Worthy Character

Dear Elsie,
One half year to go and we can say good-by to old S.S. but friendship will still be close to me
Carol.

Dear Elsie,
Enjoy your self the luckiest the worst - you're a wonderful girl + a swell friend.
Love,
Janice

Dear Elsie,
Hope you have a swell time this summer and have lots of fun
Love,
Jane

From Twigs Straight Bent

Life's preamble
Is written in her smile
And in her heart
That, as both friend and leader,
She might chart the course of happiness
In this, our life.

The goals she sets
Encourage us with book and mind
To think, to learn,
That veils of ignorance might be rent
And knowledge, thousand-candle bright, Illuminate.

And memories
Of clubs and of our classrooms
Where she has joined in fun and work . . .
More memories:
Of autumn football games where she has cheered,
Of summers' solemn graduations
We have of her.

The twig is bent,
And from then on, the tree's inclined.
Kind gardener with steady, friendly hand,
To guide with care
And set us straight in future life, is she.
The trees now grow both strong and tall . . .
From twigs straight bent.

Dr. Isabel Magan, Principal

Mr. South Shore

Mr. Clarence Fossier, Assistant Principal

One of the dynamos of South Shore is Mr. Fossier, assistant principal. His many duties consist of programming classes, organizing and disciplining the students, and substituting for the principal in her absence. He understands the students' point of view and is always ready to aid a troubled pupil or his parents.

In spite of all his duties, Mr. Fossier still finds time for a good joke, a round of golf, or a few frames of bowling. He is a regular at almost all school sport events and enjoys nothing more than watching the Tars win.

Business As Usual

The clatter of typewriter keys and the monotonous noise of the mimeograph machines are familiar sounds to the ears of the Office Clerks.

In their keeping are financial records, transcripts, and teachers' attendance records, all the odds and ends so vital to the smooth running of a school.

Each clerk is, in effect, a private secretary to administrative officers, serving everybody from principal to wide-eyed incoming students.

Mrs. Kathryn Kreuz

Mrs. Rosemary Krautlein

Miss Berdine Cardosi

In Memoriam

Miss Jennie B. Austin

On February 16, 1952, Miss Jennie B. Austin, a member of the English Department, passed away. A native of Missouri, Miss Austin had been on the faculty of South Shore since the school opened in 1940.

Because of her intense interest in art, Miss Austin came to Chicago originally to study at the Art Institute. She changed her plans, however, and obtained her Master's degree at the University of Chicago.

As sponsor of the June 1952 Class and Tide Literary Staff, she was the guiding hand that helped many students "chart a straight course." Her character and personality will ever remain an inspiration to all those who knew her and worked with her.

In Memoriam

Major Charles A. Newman

On August 19, 1951, Major Charles A. Newman, beloved instructor of Military Science and Tactics, made the supreme sacrifice at Heartbreak Ridge, Korea. He was a man who understood young people and taught them that co-operation and good fellowship go hand in hand.

Following his graduation from the University of San Francisco in 1940, he was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the U. S. Army. He served in Europe until 1948, when he was assigned to the R.O.T.C. unit at South Shore. He was awarded the Bronze Star, the Silver Star, and the Presidential Unit Citation.

Faculty

Row one—Miss Marie Albright, Science; Mr. Clarence Applegran, Boys' Physical Education; Mrs. Esther Arthur, Commercial; Mr. Oran Artman, History.

Row two—Mrs. Colette Bird, English; Miss Eleanor Bisbee, History; Mrs. Harriet Blair, Mathematics; Miss Dorothy Bock, Mathematics.

Row three—Miss Mary Brock, Science; Mr. John Carroll, Latin; Mrs. Marjorie Coleman, Science; Miss Margaret Compher, Commercial.

Row four—Mrs. Alice Conlon, Attendance Counselor; Mr. Jefferson Crane, Science; Miss Grace Cullen, History; Miss Frances Curtis, Spanish.

Happy Talk

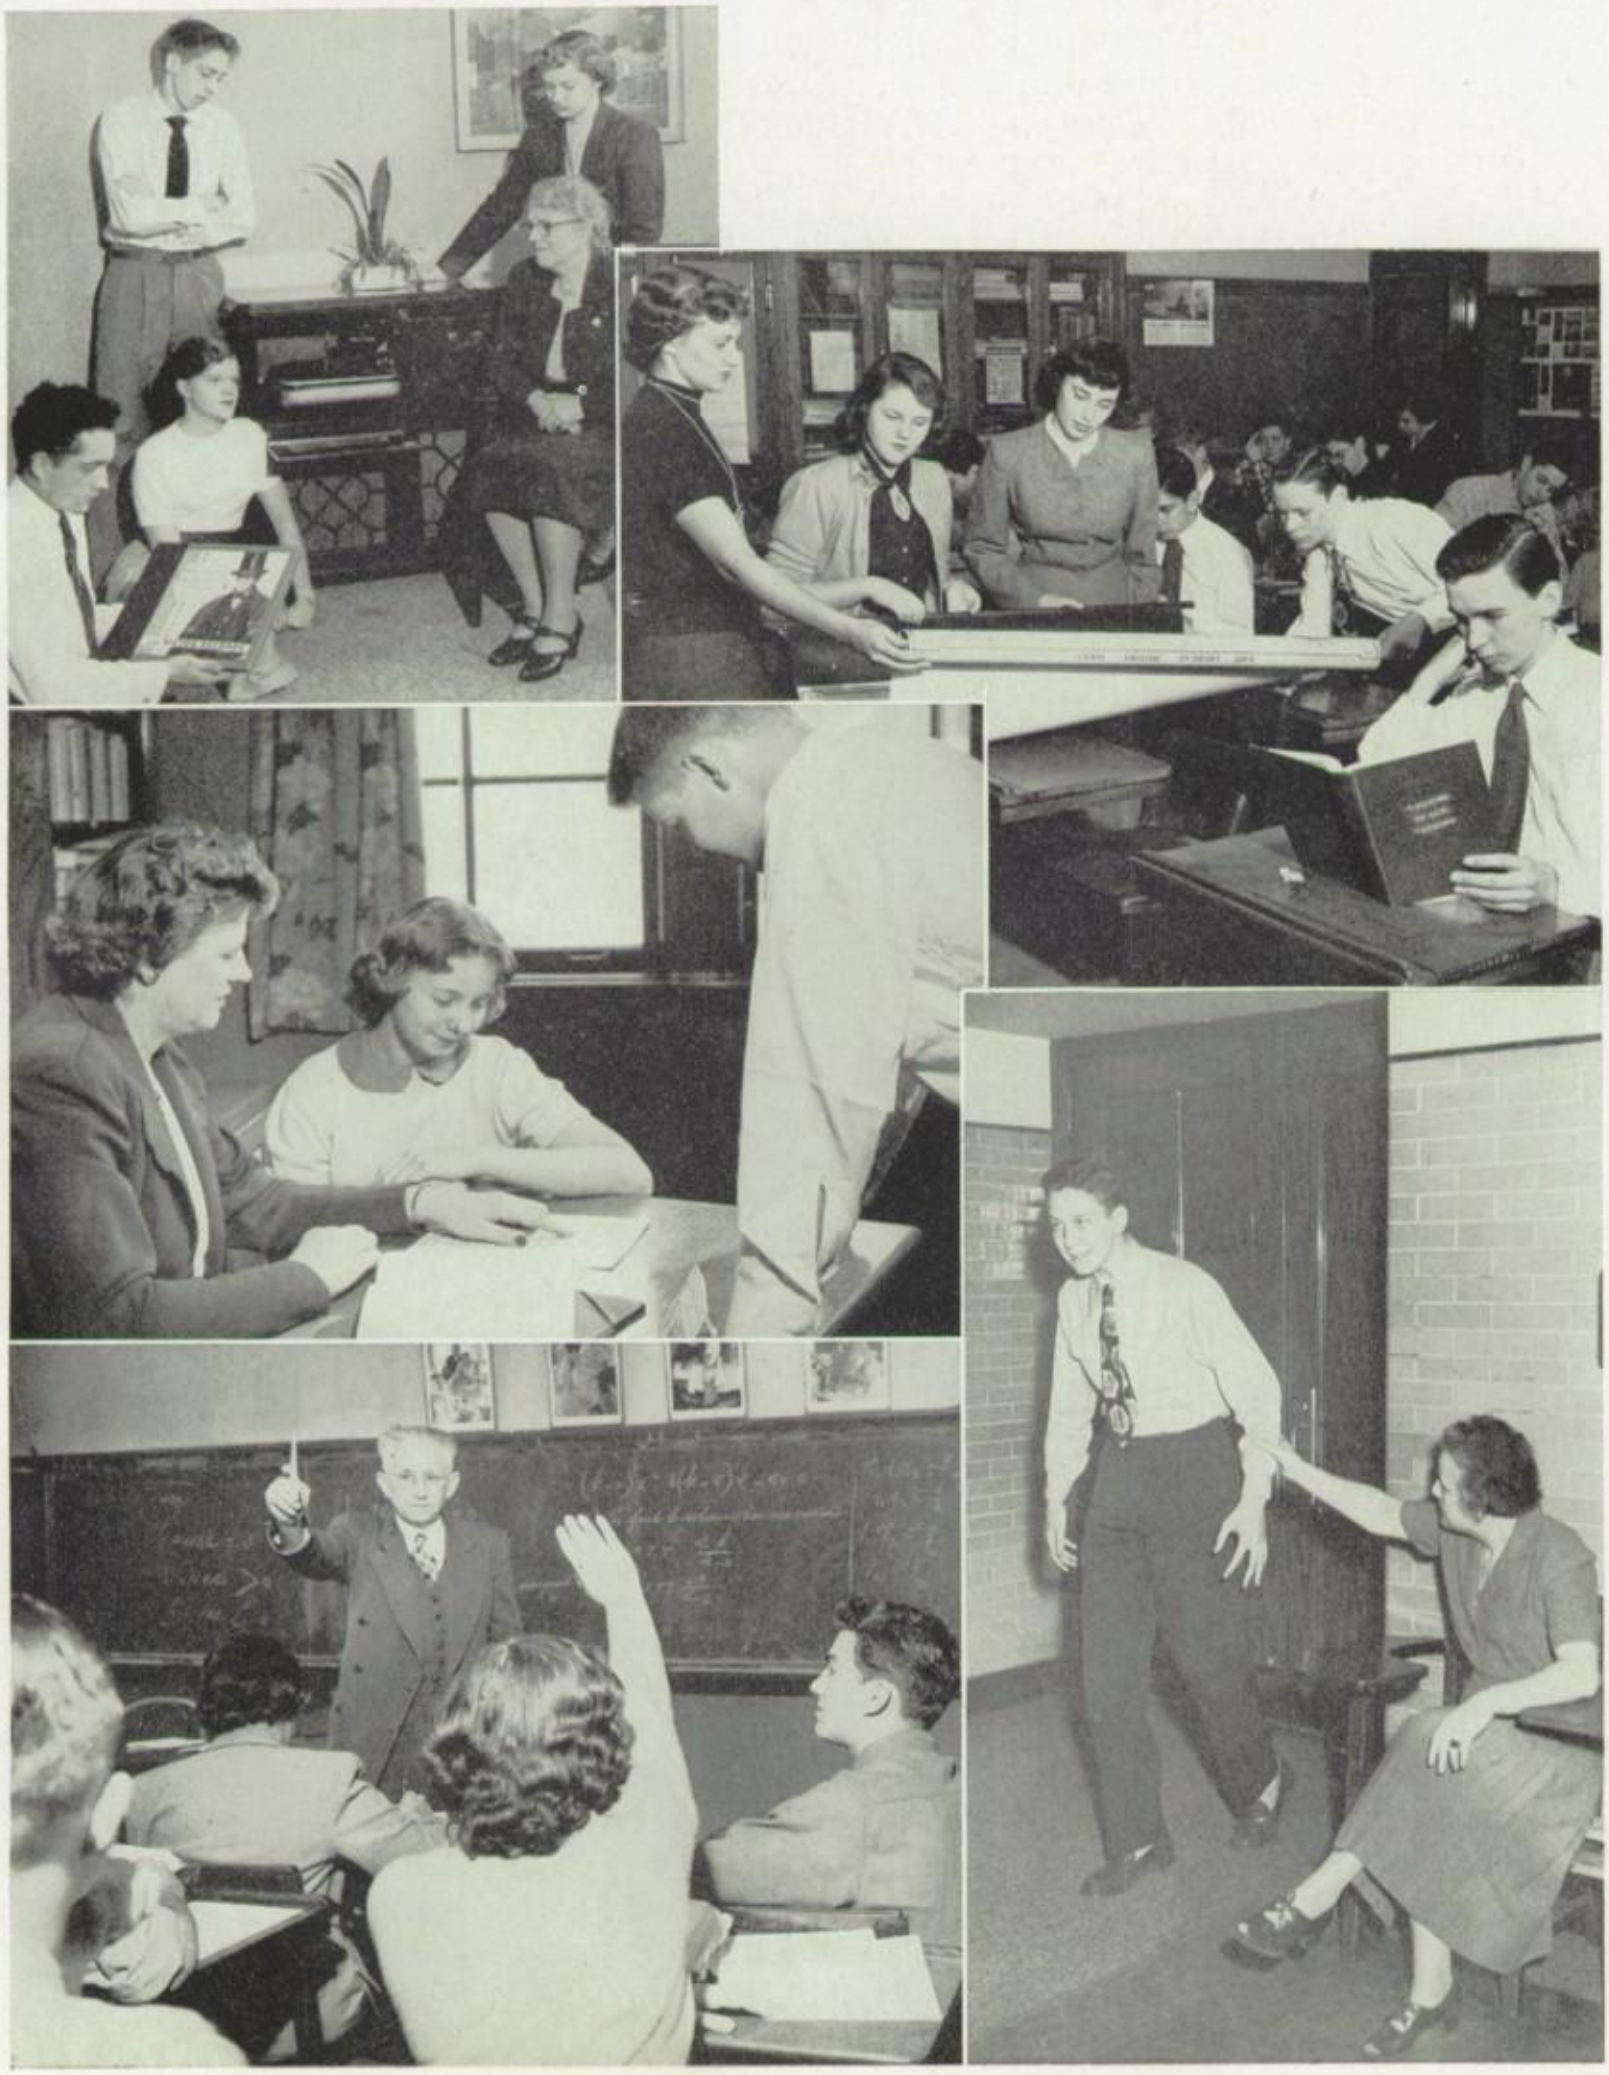
Center—Mrs. Strawn discusses with Judy Ansick and Dick Barbel the results of their aptitude tests.

Lower left—"Who will volunteer to fill out a failure notice?" inquires Mr. Kooistra.

Lower right—George Wharton tries in vain to sneak past Miss Gardner.



"To Gladly Teach"

Row one—Mrs. Catherine Ek, Commercial; Miss Grace Frederick, History; Miss Lucybell Gardner, English; Miss Gwendolyn Giltner, Spanish.

Row two—Miss Marie Graff, Mathematics; Mrs. Lorena Greene, English; Miss Nelle Groh, English; Miss Hazel Hansen, Commercial.

Row three—Miss Laura Hauta, Spanish; Miss Isabel Kincheloe, English; Mr. William Kooistra, Mathematics; Mrs. Isabel Lassen, Girls' Physical Education.

Row four—Miss Amy Mackie, English; Mrs. Iola Majors, History; Miss Frederika Marston, Girls' Physical Education; Mr. Oscar Mongerson, Science.

"And Gladly Learn"

Upper left—Ruth Carlson, Phyllis Galnick, David Nimz, and Arnold Passman make serious plans for their futures as they interview the representative from Chicago Teachers' College.

Upper right—Georgine Harms and Mary Thomson seem elated over their success in detaining Mrs. Stern, who is hurrying to give her U. S. class a "short quiz."

Center—Mr. Alekna explains the intersection of two planes to a "solid" class.

Lower left—The art of making paper mache animals seems fascinating to Eloise Roush, Stanley Blaszczyk, and Clarence Martin in Mr. Wilkinson's art class.

Lower right—"Waltz me around again, Willie," sings Miss Marston to Mr. Williams.

Pedagogically Speaking

Row one—Miss Lucy Mulloy, Home Economics; Mrs. Gertrude Neal, Commercial; Mrs. Gertrude Rice, Mathematics.

Row two—Miss Elizabeth Spencer, Mathematics; Mrs. Hazel Stern, History; Mrs. Josephine Strawn, Adjustment Counselor; Miss Caroline Swanson, Science.

Row three—Mr. Leo Wernick, Industrial Arts; Mr. Maurice Williams, Boys' Physical Education; Mr. Ralph Wiltshire, Boys' Physical Education; Mrs. Sybel Wiltshire, Home Economics.

Row four—Mrs. Frances Witting, Music; Mrs. Ruth Dawson, Librarian; Mrs. Martha O'Kane, Assistant Librarian; Mr. Robert Burchett, Engineer.

Variety's the Spice

Center left—Here's double trouble in the form of South Shore's identical twins! Row one—LaVerne and Fleurette Wriska, Connie and Gerrie Owen. Row two—Jackie and Gerrie Barzinski, Gloria and Vicki Spear. Row three—Vivian and Violet McAtee, Don and Ron Freund.

Upper right—Who said that chivalry is dead? Dick Tapley proves that it isn't by holding door open for Miss Chatterton.

Lower right—"Where'd it go?" wonders "Doc" Artman as he combs what is left.

Upper — Roger Baskes, vice-president of the January class, leads a serious discussion as Carol Larrison, secretary; Bernard Schencker, president; and Richard Schwan, treasurer, listen intently.

Lower — Someone must have said something funny because Kent Beauchamp, president; Howie Simon, vice-president; Doris Lee, treasurer; and Lynn Wernecke, secretary of the June graduating class, certainly are enjoying themselves!

Senior Class Officers

Chosen by their classmates to represent and govern them throughout the senior year, the Senior Class officers work with students and teachers to unify their plans and help the seniors to enjoy a smooth and happy final year in high school. With the help of their committees, they carry out a full program of senior activities, including the Class Play, Prom, Class Day, and Commencement.

Remembered by their classmates for their outstanding personalities and the wonderful atmosphere of friendship which they have created, they will go down in the pages of South Shore history as fine leaders who have done their jobs well and carried on the tradition of good fun combined with earnest effort to make life at South Shore a success.

School of Our Dreams

School of our dreams, thy children we Pledge now our hearts and hands to thee;
Our love shall grow as years roll by,
Strengthened by friendship's golden tie.

Chorus:
School of our dreams, South Shore, South Shore,
Thy name we'll praise forever more.

We shall be true in word and deed,
Thy voice of inspiration heed;
Thy lofty aims our goal shall be,
Thy precepts wise to life our key.

Chorus:
School of our dreams, South Shore, South Shore,
Thy name we'll praise forever more.

Thy stately halls to us grown dear,
Mem'ry will hold forever near;
Thy colors we see floating high,
Symbols fair of earth and sky.

Chorus:
School of our dreams, South Shore, South Shore,
Thy name we'll praise forever more.

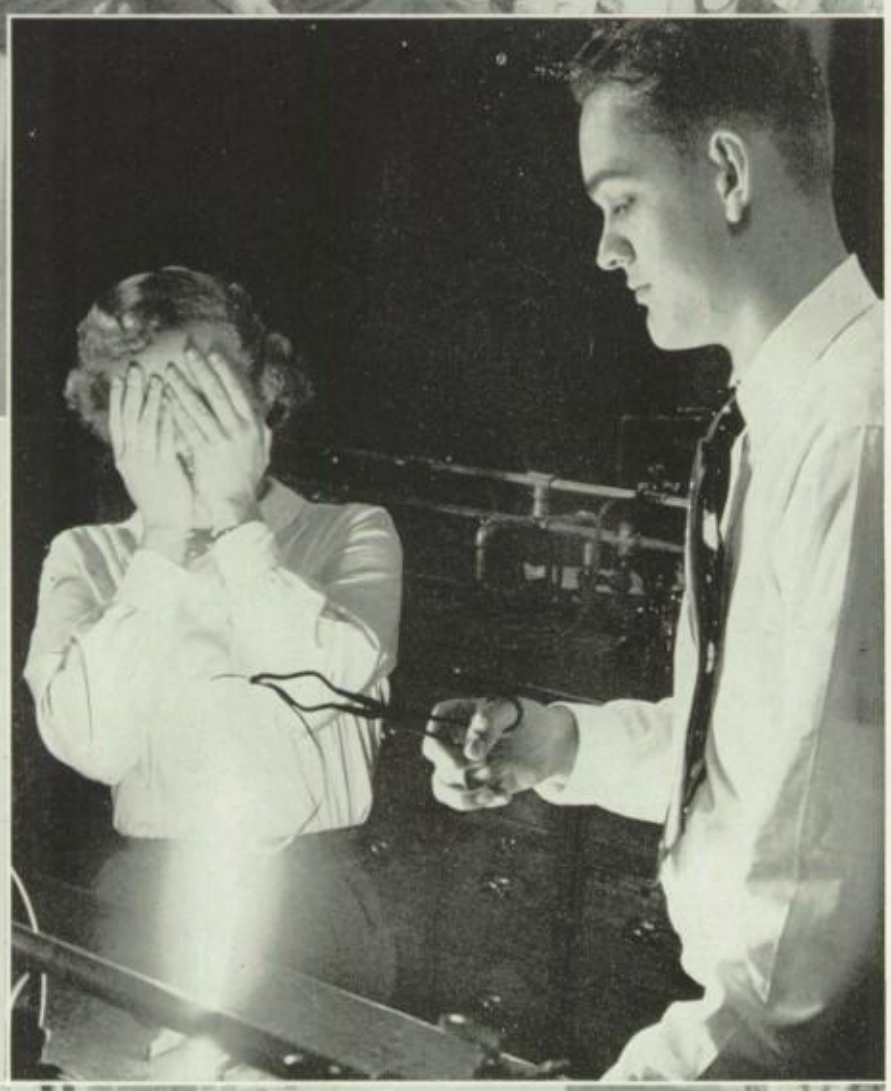
At this rehearsal of "Girl Shy," presented by the January Class, Mrs. Bird watches binignantly as Eileen Maloney, Norman Kimble, Gwen Helaszek, Lillian Powers, and Wally Dyer run through a leading scene under the direction of Richy Kraus, student director.

Mrs. Arthur's 4B Division



The 4B spotlight falls on Mrs. Arthur's division! With Robert Quinn and Myra Rubenstein competing tooth and nail for first place scholastically in the 4B class, the students of the group have maintained consistently high averages, constantly putting their section in the first ranks with the greatest number of students on the honor roll.

Bob Grindey and Bill Johnson have won city-wide honors on the Tar Swimming team, and Les Johnson is a star on the football team.

Upper:

Row one—Anita Robin, Bob Quinn, Sedelle Kniznik, Martin Krasnitz, Evelle Shkolnik, Charles Bennett, Bob Mitgang, Al Meyers.

Row two—David Pitzele, Hank Green, Lorna Schafer, Janice McGregor, David Mack.

Center—Bob Carlson, holding a piece of flaming magnesium before Jackie Buschbaum's eyes, blinds her with his success!

Lower:

Row one—Elaine Kornafel, Janice Bond, Shirley Goodman, Myra Rubenstein, Themis Soter, Pat Overend.

Row two—Leslie Johnson, Elsie Arnold, Leah Embree, Pat Cooke, John Uffendell, Barbara Linton, Arthur Lurie.

Row three—Bob Grindey, Walter Roney, John Beatty, Bill Johnson, Sanford Friduss.

Mrs. Bird's 4B Division

Upper—The T.V. English class broadcasts. Ed Wenzel manipulates the loud speaker while Harold Billings trains camera number one on Muriel Fine. That's Jim Giltmier operating camera number two and Kay Conklin giving signals to the audience as Gerri Broad and Marcia Kubey supervise the monitor box and Jim Letsos controls the amplifier.

Lower:

Row one—Dori Appel, Joan Grabill, Eunice Strauss, Judy Parker.

Row two — Lois Goldstein, Alma Larson, Sandra Flax, Harriet Hyman, Nancy Regelbrugge.

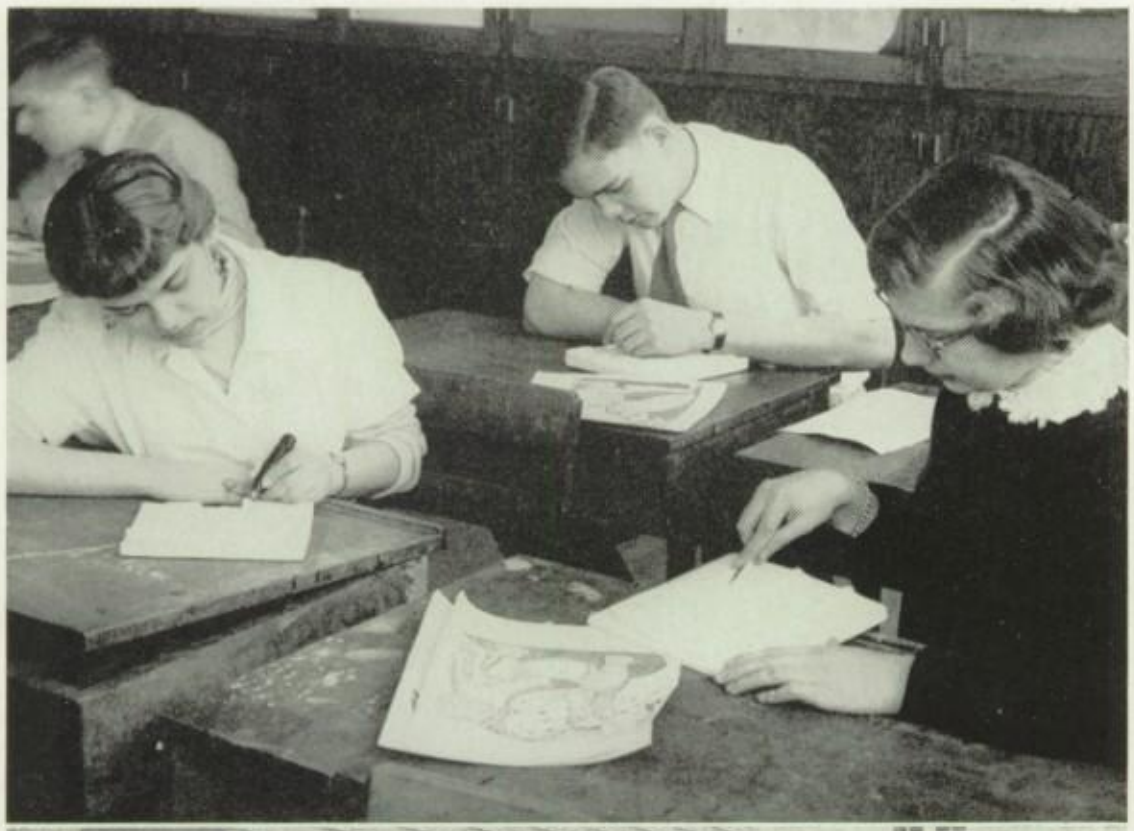
Row three — Dorothy Baker, Marilyn Williams, Temma Rubenstein, Nancy Bond.

When Carnival Night came to South Shore last April, Mrs. Bird's Division participated in every exhibit and event. The students sold the first ticket books, with Charles Martin alone selling sixteen books.

Among the representatives in the Senior Class are Harriet Hyman, Steering Committee representative, and Temma Rubenstein, who voices the opinion of the division at the meetings of the Pin and Ring committee. Dori Appel is helping to plan next year's Class Day.

Joan Grabill of this division is Senior Class secretary.

Miss Gardner's 4B Division



More than once, Miss Gardner's division has led the school in contributions to the School Children's Aid Society.

Sheldon Getzug, 4B Class president and president of the band; Ralph Lindberg, Class vice-president; and Grace Berberian, Nautilae president, are members of this division.

Upper—Certain members of the advanced art class seem to be hard at work. They are Marcia Kubey, Jack Johnson, and Vivian McAtee.

Center:

Row one—Grace Berberian, Rennie Shellow, Pat Dytkiewicz, Ceona Clark.

Row two—Joan Buck, Alice Mandel, Shirley Stein.

Row three—Jerry Donohue, Ralph Lindberg, Barbara Kotler, Doris Smith, Sheldon Getzug.

Lower:

Row one—Charles Whitebloom, Adriene Reinschreiber.

Row two—Helen Daleanes, Sue Glenn, Leonard Evanson, Louise Rosenthal, Betty Regennitter.

Row three: Bob Gerst, Saly Lavey, Sandra Pick, Constance Thome, Betty Krashen.

Mrs. Rice's 4B Division

Dr. Herold Hunt, Superintendent of Schools, has honored Mrs. Rice's division; a picture painted by Irene Frieder is hanging in his office. Leaders in the S.S.L. are Doris Soderberg, secretary; and Florence Strand, an active member of the S.S.L. Assembly Committee.

Mrs. Rice, Tide business sponsor, has in her division three members of the business staff, namely Lois Hirsch, assistant manager; Jean Muir, and Betty Hausman.

Upper—All eyes are upon Mr. Crane as those pearls of knowledge fall from his lips.

Center:

Row one—Carol Janisch, Roberta Busch, Lois Hirsch.

Row two—Irene Frieder, Lorna Hamilton, Elizabeth Gleason, Nancy Levato.

Row three—Chuck Grunhard, Bob Goldberger, Doug Adams, Tom Carlton.

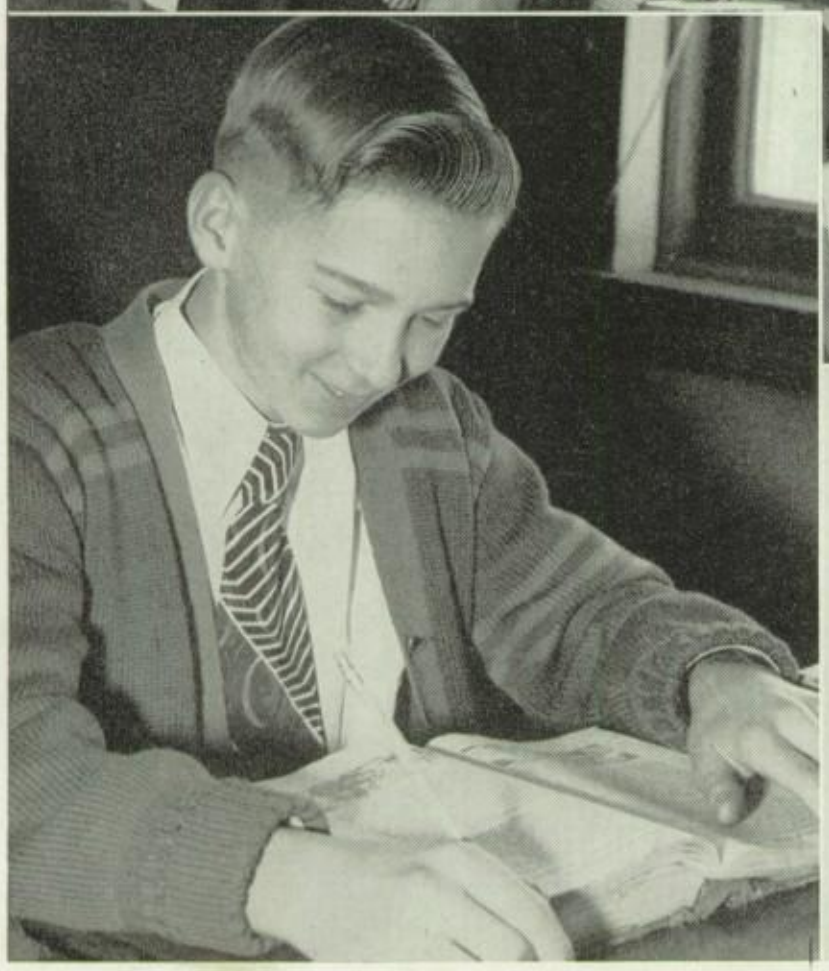
Lower:

Row one—Cathy Varga, Doris Soderberg, Florence Strand.

Row two—Harriet Hyman, Jean Muir, Sharon Pinch, Elsie Wenzel, Veta Reizner.

Row three—Don Keller, Elliott Stiegel, Allen Schlegman, Jim Moore, Ralph Weaver, Al Nemeroff.

Mrs. Stapleton's 4B Division



Not only have the students of this division had a Rumpus Room get-together with another 4B division and a class picnic, but they also gave a going away party for Janet Fulrath when she moved to Utah.

Among the present students are Barbara Smith, S.S.L. treasurer and Library Club president; Georgia Rogatz, Tide staff member; and Helen Lavin, Junior Red Cross representative.

Ruth Kopel is one of the few girl sharpshooters to shoot along with the R.O.T.C.

Upper:

Row one—Jan Casper, Marilyn Edwards, Aleda Peters.

Row two—Bob Reinert, Ruth Kopel, Helen Lavin, Eileen Hochberger.

Row three—Tom Glynn, Bob Pearson, Bill Carlson.

Center:

Row one—Barbara Smith, Janet Fulrath, Joan Sobol, Angie Chiou, Bill Hunding, Ronald Chegwidden.

Row two—Russell Major, Lois Holt, Betty Himmel, Susie Clamage, Rochelle Wilson, Helen Hansen.

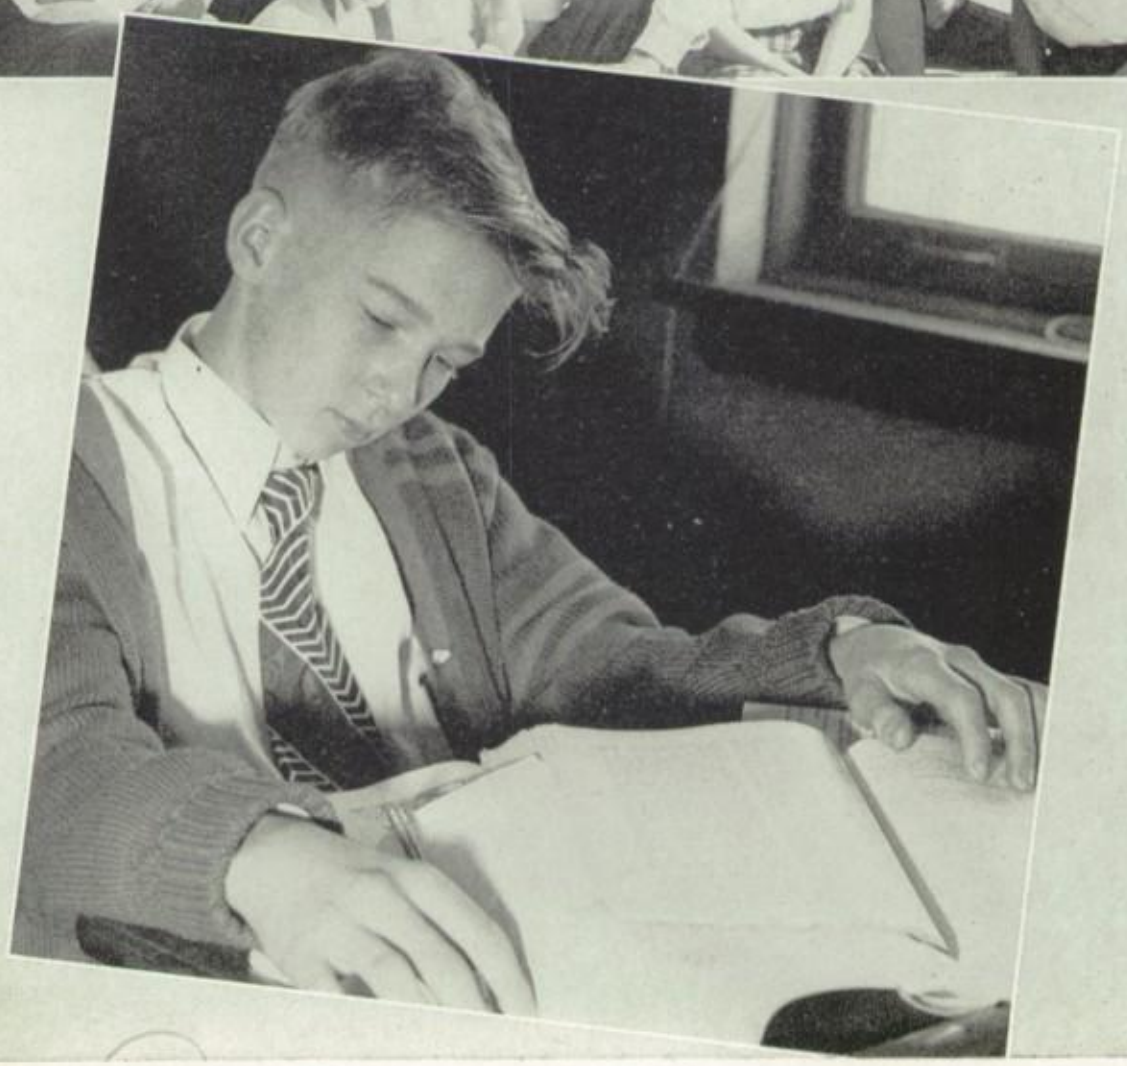
Row three—Ronald Kaplan, Bob Sundstrom, Ronald Ringenberg, Bob Dill.

Lower—Richard Smith, hard working junior, is sunny and smiling as the school day begins.

Mrs. Coleman's 3A Division

Members of Mrs. Coleman's division have shown remarkable ability in holding school offices. Joan Lasker, secretary of the Clean-up Committee, and Adrian Fox, secretary of the Stamp Club, are evidence of this ability.

The group has done its part in athletics also, with Barbara Clark, Ed Kaplan, John Colosimo, and Bob Lissit receiving activity letters.



Upper:

Row one: James Barrett, Ken Brown, Stephanie Czarnecki, Marge Ford, Barbara Clark.

Row two: Paula Carle, Wally Engle, Shirley Brown.

Row three: Marvin Facktor, Adrian Fox, Judy Brown, Marcia Crawford, Judy Adams, Jerry Birnbaum.

Center:

Row one: Joyce Krippahne, Ed Kaplan, Mary Lois Lester, Marlene Schmidt.

Row two: Bob Lissit, Joan Lasker, Frances Sandmann, Arlene Nowak, Phyllis Holmes, LeRoy Tews.

Row three: Shirley Sobucki, Don Szafranski, Herb Levin, Louis Dolemba.

Lower: Looks as though Richard Smith has had a tough day!

Miss Cullen's 3A Division

Scholarships and school activities figure prominently in Miss Cullen's section. The students have someone to be proud of in Donna Hodnik, who won the $500 Patricia Stevens modeling scholarship for 1952; and Swimmer Betsy Keith, who has placed high in the G.A.A. swim meets.

With all their activities on the Steering Committees, in the music departments, and on athletic teams, the group still finds time for fun with their Thanksgiving and Christmas parties in the Rumpus Room.

Upper—The pleas of John Uffendell, Rita Freidin, and Ralph Lindmark are of no avail as they are stopped by the adamant hall guard, William Schwebke.

Center:

Row one—Fran Shapiro.

Row three — Joe Kriechbaum, Gayle Jordan, Dave Brown, Bob Spaulding, Bob Schwartz.

Row four — Alfred Eppel, Betty Cronin, Sue Serafin, Frank Caraher.

Lower:

Row one—Lauren Pachman, Harold Wallis, Marilyn Kenney, Richard Linkemer, Verda Riley.

Row two—Betty McKey, Barbara Baugh, Hazel Black, Rose Mary Thorsen, Helen August.

Row three — Donald Gaan, Jane Barker, Ed Yalowitz, Ray Overholt, Dorothy Anderson.

Miss Curtis's 3A Division

Betty Jo Greenawalt, girls' swimming champion of South Shore; Elaine Frank, secretary of the Girls' Bowling League; and Nick Gershon, president of the Chemistry Club; offer proof of this division's active participation in school organizations.

Dick Jaffee is division chairman. Iris Levy and Edward Filmanowicz lead in scholarship. Evelyn Fink is chairman of the 3A Steering Committee.

Senior Girls' Chorus claims Kay Prescott, Elaine Frank, and Dolores Roberts. Pat Gately and Su Boyle belong to the Senior Mixed Chorus.

Upper:

Row one—Betty Jo Greenawalt, Gwen Olson, Dolores Roberts, Kay Prescott.

Row two—Roberta Mendel, Marvin Goldsmith, Ed Filmanowicz, Phil Bransky.

Row three—Dave Becker, Margaret Erickson, Donna Hartman, Alan Beel, Larry Cohen, Nick Gershon.

Center:

Row one—Iris Levy, Evelyn Fink, Kenneth Sone, Susan Boyle, Diane Glass.

Row two—Elaine Frank, Patricia Gately, Del Lesage, Eileen Simon.

Row three — Bruce MacNeish, David Kroll, Dick Jaffee, Gloria Skidell, Lorraine Reinglass, Frank Gold.

Lower — The warmth radiating from within draws Paula Ekman from the cold of the outdoors.

Mrs. Ek's 3A Division

Members of Mrs. Ek's division show a remarkable amount of leadership and executive ability in school activities.

Geraldine Feinstein is publicity manager of the Shore Line and treasurer of the Library Club; Ann Weston and Joann Leasure are secretary of the band and treasurer of the G.A.A. respectively.

Division officers are Shirley Lawson, president; Joseph LaGuess, vice-president; Martin Cohen, secretary; and Lois Shutter, treasurer.

Upper:

Row one—Theresa Oesch, Jean Zimmerman, Janet Kornafel.

Row two—Joann Leasure, Judy Rittenhouse, Shirley Larson, Lois Shutter.

Row three—Dave Gordy, Al Nelson, Ann Weston, Charlene Hoffman.

Row four—Leon Scheffler, Larry Sager, Joel Miller, Marty Cohen, Joe Womble.

Center—Elliott Stiegel points out the countries involved in world events as Judy Brill reads about them from her American Observer.

Lower:

Row one—Loraine Schneider, Vivian Labbok, Phyllis Hacker, Peggy Bull, Marilyn Vickman, Jerry LaMaskin.

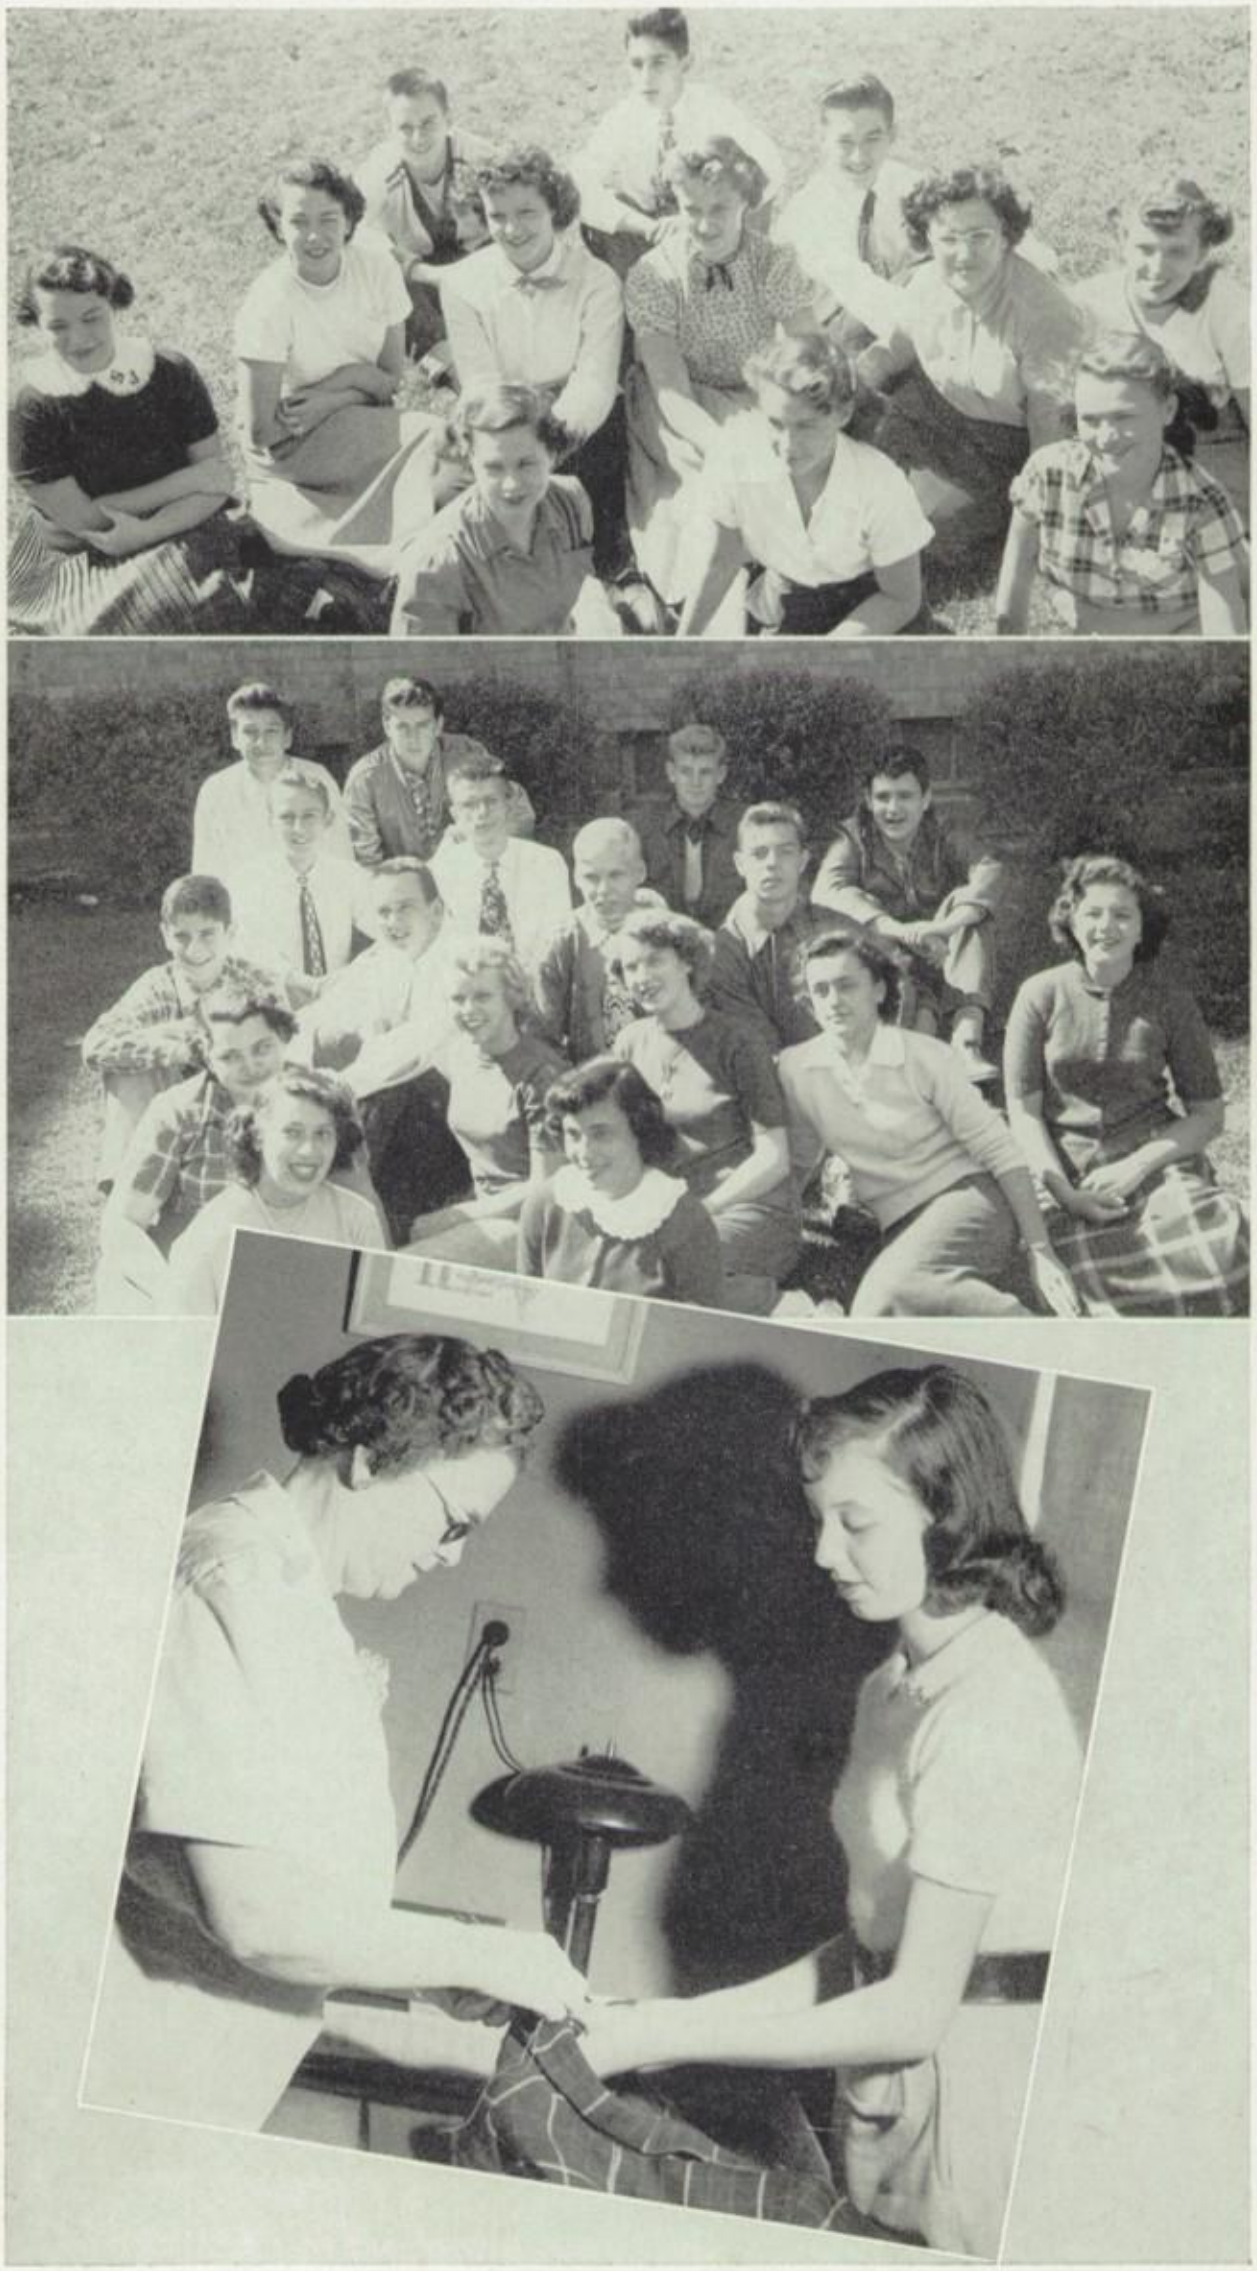
Row two—Joel Kaplan, Rita Freidin, Florence Steinberg, Joe LaGuess.

Row three—Geraldine Feinstein, Diane Gordon, Karen Gustafson, Tom Witzman, Chuck Weise.

Mr. Kooistra's 3A Division

Mr. Kooistra's division is a musical one, for six members are in the Senior Mixed Chorus, three in the Girls' Chorus, and two play in the band.

Alan Gross, business manager of the Shore Line, has received scholarship awards.



Upper:

Row one—Claire Cross, Nancee Farber, Geraldine Heiferman.

Row two — Shirley Jacobson, Joanne Hayes, Pat Krecicki, Carol Granholm, Shirley Pieczynski, Theresa Pilewski.

Row three — Allan Hess, Alan Gross, Bill Ramsay.

Center:

Row one — Adrienne Siegel, Charlene Bennett.

Row two—Sandra Levin, Merlita Anderson, Suzanne McAndrew, Norma Sullivan, Emlyn Mayer.

Row three—Jay Kopstein, Hank Taylor, Carl Johnson, Don Miller.

Row four—Jerry Skovie, Dick Tapley, Wally Thurman, Charles Lev.

Row five—Charles DeWitt, Bob Stuart.

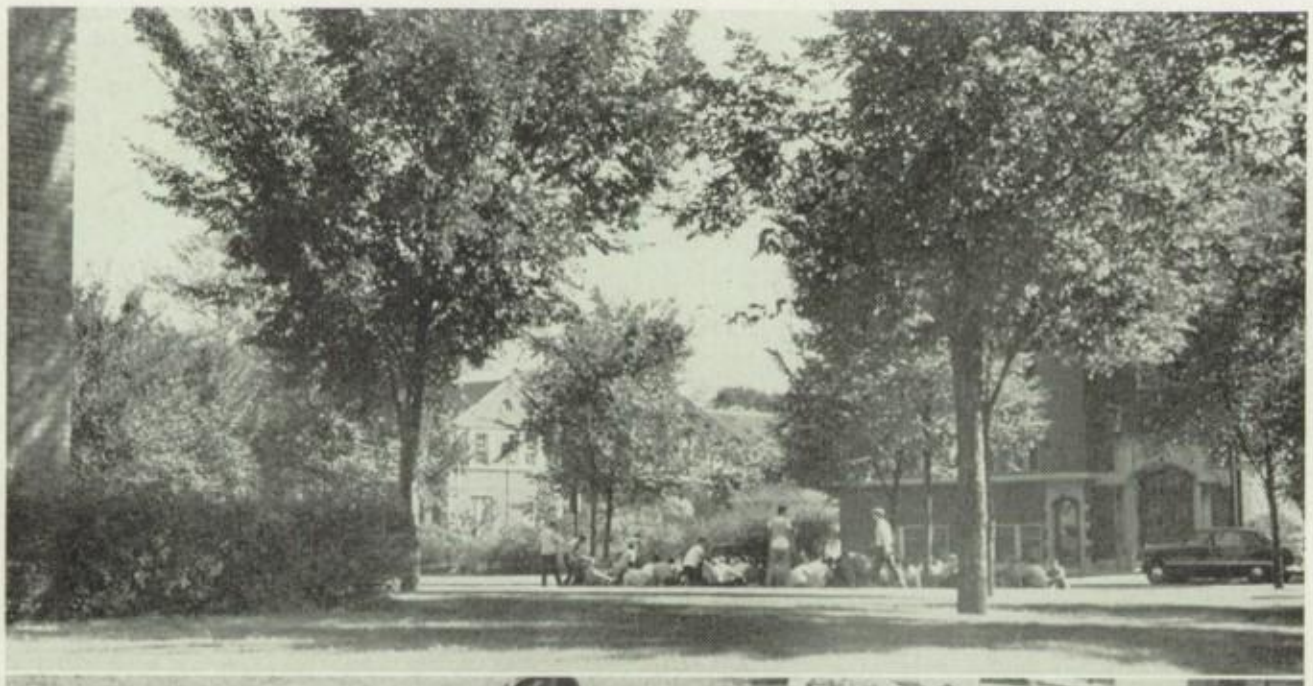
Lower—Mrs. Dalton, matron, helps Sandra Rosin "salvage" the lining of her jacket.

Mrs. Majors' 3A Division

Always being on the honor roll and being one of South Shore's representatives in the city-wide Latin contest are honors accredited to Leah Feld, a member of Mrs. Majors' group.

With a 100% membership in S.S.L., Red Cross, Shore Line, and G.A.A. in their pockets, members can also point with a smile to Lola Einbund, busy member of the Tide and Shore Line Staffs; Tom Neary, basketball star; Barbara Cassel, cheer leader; and Charles Shannon, ex-president of the Pan-American Club.

In a secretarial test given by the Board of Education, Elayne Caro placed near the top in the typing finals, qualifying her as an ace secretary.



Upper: It's not every day these boys can hold class out in the sunshine of such a beautiful fall day.

Center:

Row one: Carole Wilson, Marilyn Chapman, Nathan Yellen.

Row two: Lola Einbund, Marc McFadden, Janet Howard, George Uyttebroeck.

Row three: Barbara Cassel, Henry Karel, Joe Gray, L. J. Meyers, Jim Miller, Charles Shannon.

Lower:

Row one: Nancy Huggans, Aurrie Specyal, Elaine Rosch.

Row two: Margie Feder, Marion O'Neil, Hannajoy Fischer, Elayne Caro, Stanley Nasarzewski.

Row three: Ed Keeley, Norman Kozak, Richard Myers, Jim McKernin, Jerry Addis.

Mr. Mongerson's 3A Division

Marshall Katzman, math whiz, represented South Shore in the inter-scholastic math contest. In sports the division cheers for Al Locascio in football, and for Don McGinnis and Ed Sheridan in basketball.

Marilyn Moore, Nancy Rich, and Joanne Price are Tide staff members and Herb Levin is a Shore Line sports reporter.

Upper—Mary Pinkerton prepares tea and sandwiches for the 8A Orientation Tea.

Center:

Row one — Margaret Bird, Pepper Blackwood, Cherie Embs, Tom Ferry, Marcia Gilbert, Helene Goldberg.

Row two—John Pilon, Mike McCormick, Marilyn McKenna, Marion McKenna, Don McGinnis, Nancy Rich.

Row three—Ed Sheridan, Joan Piowaty, Joanne Price, Tom Tiffany, Ron Patinkin.

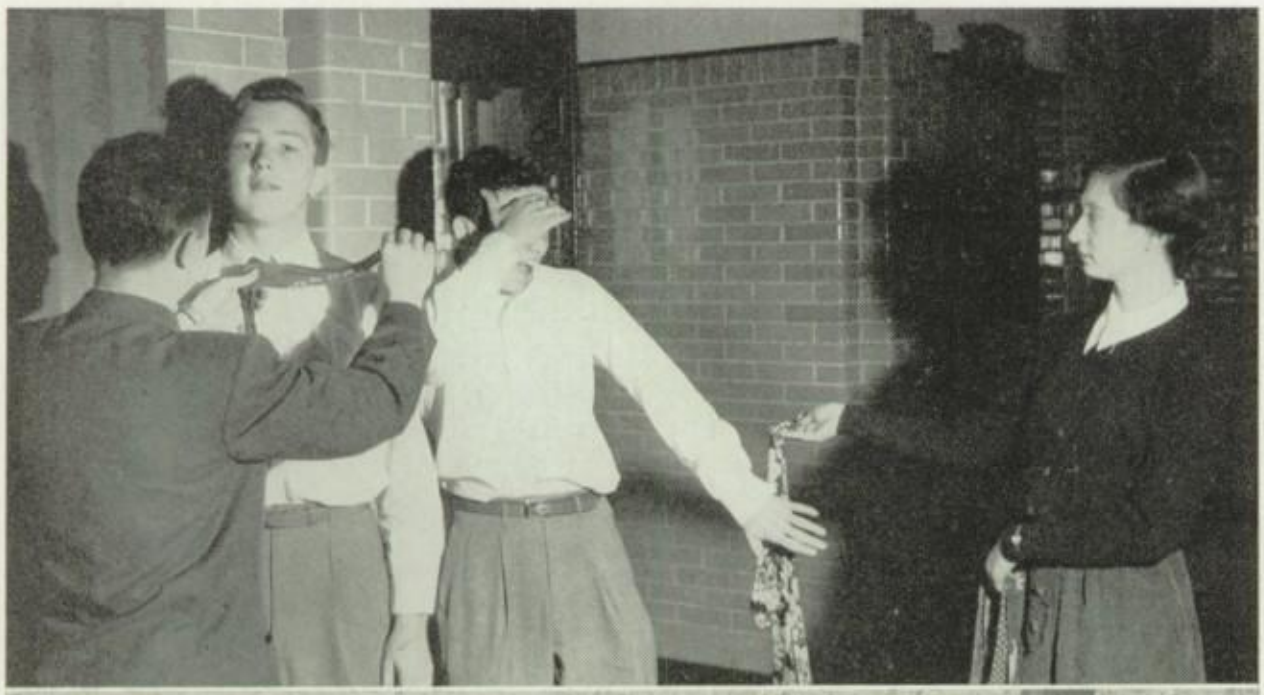
Lower:

Row one — Barbara Siegel, Marilyn Goldstein, Grace Trzeciak, Marshall Mann.

Row two — Marilyn Moore, Loretta Michau, Shirley Starr, Glenn Harris, Al Locascio.

Row three — David Nimz, Gerda Meves, Lois Nitzsche, Herb Levin, Marshall Katzman.

Miss Spencer's 3A Division



Lois Blum, recently appointed news editor of the Shore Line, and Betsy Lagen, new make-up editor, wield the writers' quill for this division, while Shirley Johnson has her own sports' column.

Sarell Schlutz is on the 3A Steering Committee, while Fred Good and Gene Harris are Tar Cagers.

Division officers are Gene Harris, president; Daniel Crane, secretary; and Shirley Johnson, treasurer.

Upper: It's tie day again! Lois Blum hands that dreaded article of clothing to Russ Major while Mr. Wernick helps Harold Wallis tie his.

Center:

Row one: Betsy Lagen, Shirley Johnson, Dina Lowenthal.

Row two: Leah Feld, Sandra Gordon, Pat Barker, Suzanne Economos, Ellen Bonifield.

Row three: Ben Butler, Fred Good, Harold Lyman, Dan Crane, Gene Harris, Carl Jorgensen.

Row four: Jim Alt, Olle Carlson.

Lower:

Row one: Harriet Sax, Sue Wharton, Lois Blum, Richard Smith, Elaine Stein, Sarell Schlutz.

Row two: Paul Lieberman, Tom Stepanich, Tom Rybarski, Jim Smith, Arnold Passman, Lyle Rosenthal.

Row three: Bob McLeod, Chuck Oakley, Gilbert Pearson, William Stewart.

Miss Brock's 3B Division

Members of Miss Brock's division have rendered service to the school as office aides, library helpers, and members of the Shore Line staff; they have also distinguished themselves in the fields of music and sports.

Among their members are Rick Doody, president of the band, and several representatives of both the Girls' and Mixed Choruses.

The group's co-opertaive spirit was proven conclusively during the Thanksgiving drive, at which time it ranked among the top four divisions in the school.

Upper: Speaking Spanish is fun for Miss Curtis's students while examining souvenirs from Old Mexico.

Center:

Row one: Lorry Greenberg, Carol Hofer, Joanne Dahl.

Row two: Sandra Barnbaum, Lois Altmann, Barbara Falk, Evelyn Carlson, Virginia Hill.

Row three: Jerry Brown, John Chelius, David Aggerholm.

Row four: Richard Blankemeier, Lydia Karkazis, Jerome Chambless.

Lower:

Row one: Barbara Stein, John Nickerson.

Row two: Mary Mandarino, Tom Gebhardt, Nancy Shupe, Bob Simari.

Row three: Martin Ernsteen, Rick Doody, Elaine Pam, Betty Mandarino, Bob Levi.

Row four: Charles Wong, Jack Colander, Don McGiffin, Maynard Thompson, Terry Gerrard.

Mr. Crane's 3B Division

Chuck Lask and Richard Krooth, both on the football and basketball teams, merit the cheers of this division. June Forde is treasurer of the Aqua-Debs; Beryl Ragins is treasurer of the Girls' Chorus.

Division officers are Phil Pomper, president; Edgar Ellinghausen, vice-president; Chuck Lask, treasurer; and Victor Winquist, secretary.

Ken Brown leads the 3B class in scholarship.

Upper: Marlene Schmidt, Donna Polansky, and Arlene Nowak focus their attention on a color selector in the Home Management Class.

Center:

Row one: Gloria Chmielewski, Shirley Brownstein.

Row two: Richard Krooth, Cathie Lucas, June Forde, Gordon Johnson.

Row three: Richard Cassidy, Monette Ives, Elvira Bylinski, Donna Kost, Frieda Lome.

Row four: Edgar Ellinghausen, Ken Brown, Joan Darrah, Ferne Gomberg, Sandy Jacobson, Mark Lieberman, Tom Browning.

Lower:

Row one: Beryl Ragins, Arline Pavelin, Binnie Rosenberg, Rachel Patinkin, Dorothy Straub.

Row two: Ronald Subeck, Bob Silver, Shirley Pierson, Mercedes Severns, Pat Modrowski.

Row three: Victor Winquist, Mary Velleco, Paul Migdal, David Rosenberg, Charles Lask, Parker Mellinghausen.

Miss Frederick's 3B Division

Left—No, Sandra Pick and Marsha Anderson are not in prison; they are just shapening pencils and sorting cards in the gym office.

Upper right:

Row one—Joanne Decker, Harriet Elias.
Row two—Geraldine Swee, Bob Smith, Sandra Levitt, Alan Engel, Roann Conder.
Row three—Roy Isakson, Thelma Shapiro, Beverly Beer, Joann Butler, Brina Jaffee.
Row four—Roger Zuttermeister, Bob Fenzan, Jerry Edelstein, Joy Kestnbaum, Guthrie Riley.

Lower right:

Row one—Judy West, Gail Miller, Mary Pinkerton, Cynthia Crotty.
Row two—Earl Salomon, Billie Snell, Al Escarraz, Carol Adams.
Row three—Clifford Barton, Sheldon Stark, Jean Sanders, Virginia Daniel.
Row four—James Collings, Melvin Kantor, Kenneth Pardee, Harold Johnson, Don Gibbs, Harry LePan.

The president and secretary of the 3B Steering Committee, Don Gibbs and Jean Sanders, are members of this outstanding division.

Sheldon Stark stars on the basketball team, while Don Gibbs, Guthrie Riley, and Bob Fenzan are football stalwarts.

Their division mates are justly proud of Mary Pinkerton, the winner of the G.A.A. Posture Contest, and Thelma Shapiro, a finalist in the contest.

Miss Long's 3B Division

With Miss Long as their teacher and 121 as their meeting place, the students in this division might well be expected to be musically inclined, and they are. Barbara Brown is president of the Junior Girls' Chorus and Ruth Carlson is the Chorus's secretary.

Two S.S.L. awards are held by members of this group, one for service, received by Ruth Carlson, and another for scholarship, received by Alice Greenberg.

Upper—Bill Bird points out to his class the different parts of the miniature Spanish home which he has constructed.

Center:

Row one—Louise Oesterle, Sherry Leopold, Dave Einbinder.

Row two — Ruth Carlson, Georgianne Larson, Beverly Burke, Sally Hind, Joan Stewart, Faye Lathom.

Row three—Donn Ebert, Nowell Korey, Don Mitteldorf, Don Sayre, Michael Friedman.

Lower:

Row one—Alice Greenberg, Jackie Bloom, Barbara Brown.

Row two—Beth Saphir, Carol Robinson, Patsy Meyerson, Marlene Edlund, Dan Gerstein.

Row three — Dan Goldsmith, George Berger, Bert Greenberg, Larry Hirsh, Gary Naktin, Jeannette Cairns, Ted Naktin.

Row four—Harry Slan, Patrick Coughlan, George Peterson, Owen Deutch, Ronald Stone.

Miss Bisbee's 2A Division

Left:

Row one—Eileen Panozzo, Judy Gerrick.
Row two—Phyllis Yochelson, Paul Winer, John Hamilton, Joan Brown.
Row three—Larry Madderom, Milton Strauss, Robert Chelius.
Row four—Joe Anderson, Nancy Jevert, Marylyn Doktorsky, Julie Unger, Carol Rosenthal, Edward Bood, Leonard Lickerman, John Kelly.

Upper right—Marlene Zisook sells tickets for the Wagon Wheel game to George McKenna and Mary Trevelyan.

Lower right:

Row one—Gay French, Carol Mulhall, Marilyn Hoover, Eulalie Austerlade, Marilyn Kitzis, Karla Swanson.
Row two—Joyce Lange, Leora Reames, Fredelle Knaster, Peggy Hoch, Rosetta Solomon, Jerry Friedman.
Row three—Anthony Loftus, Bob Kirchner, Bud Roseman, Gary Graff, Bill Brandwein, Allen Grais.

Sports seem to be an important aspect of school life to the members of this division. Ed Bood is on the Senior Basketball team and Jerry Friedman is on the Junior team.

Merman Larry Madderom scored many of the points which have made the swimming team victorious this past year. Carol Mulhall is vice-president of the Aqua-Debs.

With baseball time here, Ed Bood, Jerry Friedman, and Paul Winer are all getting their share of hits and runs for the horsehide-walloping Tars.

Buddy Roseman was the only South Shorite chosen to compete in City Track and Field Competition.

Miss Bock's 2A Division

Three "all S" honor-rollers, Joe Kater, Cordelia Wagner, and Jim Taylor, are, scholastically speaking, the outstanding members of Miss Bock's division.

Other students in the division are active in school activities. Lettermen Jim Taylor, John Mizanin, and Joe Kater hold the athletic honors for the group.

Upper:

Row one—Jim Taylor, Jean Wolstenholme, Sandria Sterling, Leslea Wenk.
Row two—Mary Thomson, Cordelia Wagner, Martha Troxell.
Row three—Myrna Salomon, Norman Baskes.
Row four—Joe Kater, Gerry Ward, Les Davis, Peter Abrams, Richard Kraft, Bob Greitzer, Ed Crowell, Jim Reddel.
Row five—Larry Kilcran, Joe Appel, Gilbert Biddle, Greg Shepis.

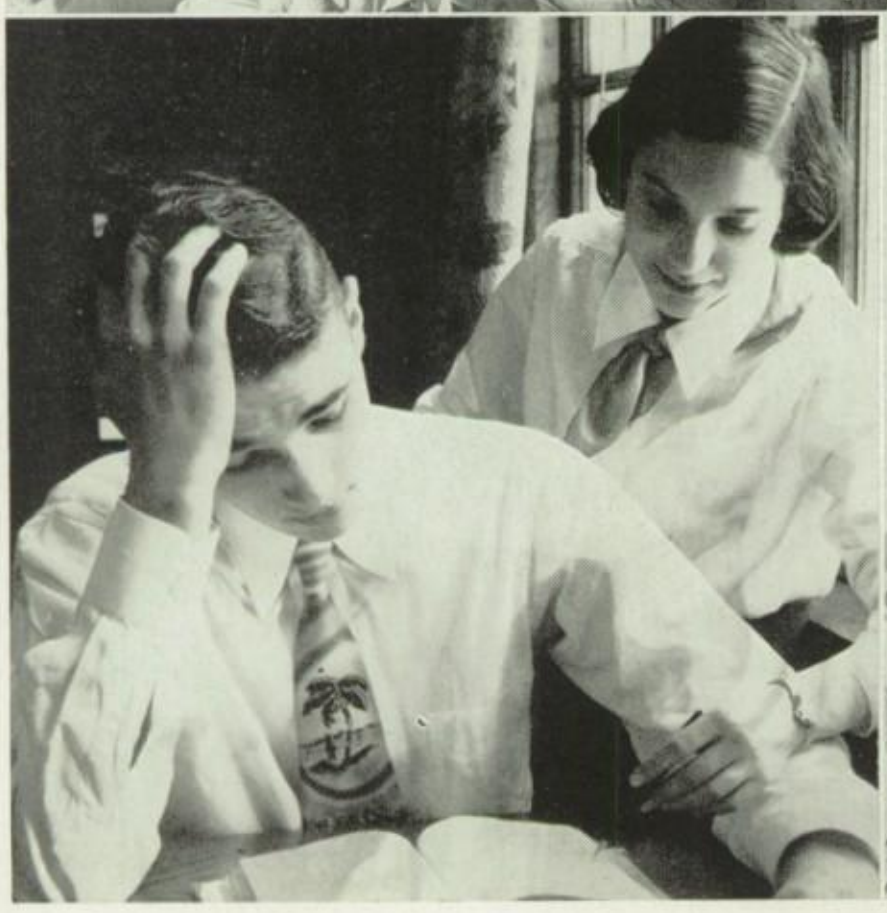
Lower right:

Row one—Diane Berger, Barbara Allen, Carol Friend, Kay Cohen, Beverly Hillman, Patsy Cuvelier.
Row two—Audrey Jurgilas, Roslyn Brown, Joanne Barrowman, Beverley Becich, John Mizanin, Marlene Eve, Allen Born.
Row three—Aaron Bran, Ronald Anderson, Eddy Adelman, Ken Goldberg.



Mrs. Feldman's 2A Division

"We have a splendid division," claims Mrs. Feldman. "Included in our group of workers are Bob Rubin, vice-president of the Clean-up Committee; and Larry DuBois, president of the Movie Operators."

The division is led by its officers, consisting of Joseph Rothberg, president; and Gloria Bianchi, secretary. Suzanne Wall, a talented musician, has played piano solos several times at S.S.L. assemblies.

Upper — South Shore's Frank Sinatra, Jim Lundergan, croons his way into the hearts of Anita Weiner, Virginia McNanna, Judy Critz, and Joan Poulos.

Center:

Row one—Joe Rothberg, Donald Przybyla, Suzanne Wall, Susan New.

Row two — David Patchen, Jerry Pruzansky, Edwin Seeh, Ruth Weckinger, Marian Nieubuurt.

Row three—Bob Rubin, Arnold, Markl, Jack Mitchell, Pat McMahon, Charlotte Rollin.

Lower:

Row one — Louis Edelstein, Lois Freeman, Lois Frenzel.

Row two—Richard Barta, Benny Katz, Laura Exman, Gloria Bianchi, Marcia Laks, Joan Konovsky, Bob Chapter.

Row three—Sally Jo Knowles, Sharyon Banks, Jackie Littsky, Marilyn Eisner, Susan Juve, Betty Diman.

Row four — Sandra Kaplan, John Fulton, Jerry Grunwald, Bill Crane, Larry DuBois, Marshall Hirsch.

Miss Giltner's 2A Division

Miss Giltner's division has its own prize winner, Sheila Mettel, who won fifty dollars for her composition on "How the Automobile Dealer Serves His Community."

Division officers are Sheila Mettel, secretary-treasurer; and Diane Anderson, president.

David Crane is a straight "S" student, a member of the Steering Committee, and S.S.L. representative. Such spirit! Josephine Duggan is Tide representative; Monette Ives is Red Cross representative; and Geraldine and Constance Owen hold the positions of G.A.A. and Shore Line representatives, respectively.

Upper:

Row one—Paula Price, Mary Trevelyan, Jo Duggan, Carol Johnson, Art Wielkopolan, Maurice Cain.

Row two—Judy Nelson, Diane Anderson, Dan Trower, Fred Bushey, Tom Szafranski.

Row three — Rita Kolowski, David Anderson.

Row four—Doris Wainwright, Betty Lee, Bertram Kosberg.

Center:

Row one—Lorraine Heiferman, Sandra Bernstein, Dona Masters, Barbara Meyers.

Row two—Joline Cobb, Sheila Mettel, Aline Kahn, Constance Owen, Geraldine Owen.

Row three—Ross Todd, Don Brownell, David Crane, Hydrick Gardner, Edwin Radas, Ed Rolff.

Lower—Bob Fenzan demonstrates the fact that a ruler is an important instrument in doing work in architectural drawing.

Miss Groh's 2A Division

What other 2A division can claim 100% in three organizations? Miss Groh's division can boast of all-out participation in the Junior Red Cross, S.S.L., and G.A.A. Marlene Przybyla is president of the Junior Red Cross for South Shore High School.

A scholastic rating of "S" for each semester is a distinction held by Esther Harrison.

In the athletic field Marshall Gonsky and Al Lorenc are on the Frosh-Soph Football team, and Curtis Coutts is on the Swimming team.

Upper:

Row one—Nancy Slou, Barbara Rappaport, Barbara Rodin.

Row two—Carol York, Deanie Yalowitz, Paula Wasserman, Ann Markel, Fern Volk.

Row three—Marlene Przybyla, Helene McDermed, Dorothy O'Neill, Barbara Turley.

Row four—Al Lorenc, Spud Spindel, Jordon Wexler, Willy Schwebke, Howard Rosenwasser, Henry Lowenthal.

Center—It seems as though Marie Dahlin and Nick Pitsoulakis have "I'm Always Chasing Butterflies" as their theme song.

Lower:

Row one—Sunny Klein, Harry Jachim, Joan Harris.

Row two—Mary Hamscher, Sandra Carr, Mary Hoeft, Barbara Earth, Esther Harrison, Janice Davenport.

Row three—Verna Godman, Nancy Feingold, Jean Anderson, Charles Gabriel, Fletcher Carroll.

Row four—Curtis Coutts, John Calvin, Marshall Gonsky, Dorothy Kaveshan, Egon Kahn, Ted Czarnecki.

Mrs. Kulle's 2A Division

In this division Bonnie Thome is the student salesman and the Shore Line representative. The job of Tide salesman belongs to Herbert Binswanger.

As a group the division boasts 100% membership in both the Junior Red Cross and the S.S.L. Division leaders are Joyce Averbuch, division secretary, and Martin Volk, S.S.L. representative.

Herbert Binswanger and Erwin David compose the list of students who have been on the honor roll for three consecutive semesters.

Upper:

Row one: Jackie Warneke, Barbara Schindell.

Row two: Mildred Yovich, Virginia Newton, Adrienne Zeitz, Barbara Wolfson.

Row three: Gerrie Rosch, Jean Turner, Carol Sax, Katherine Sims.

Row four: Charles Player, Dan Osier, Basil Kromelow, Nicholas Pitsoulakis, Bonnie Thome, Martin Volk, Pat McCartin, Rhea Shifrin, Reneta Slusarski.

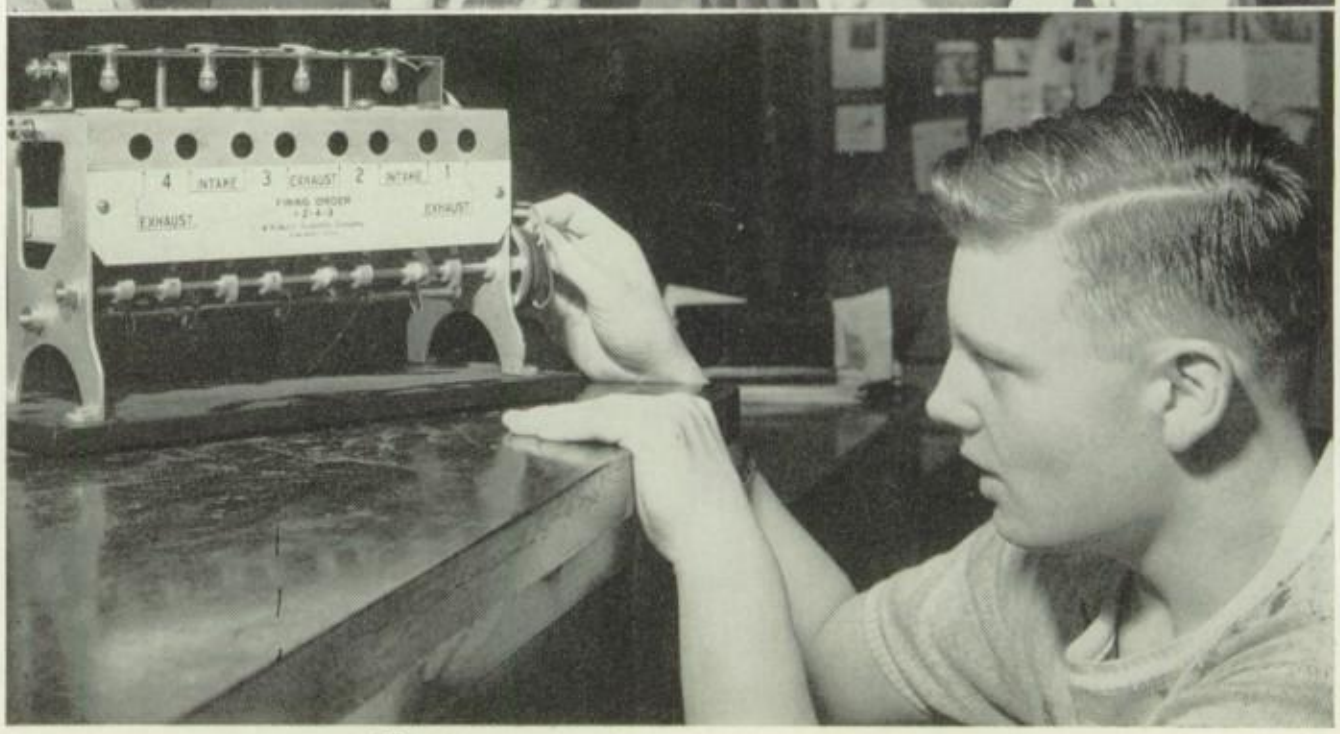
Center:

Row one: Irwin David, Pat Fitzgerald, Kay Fitzgerald.

Row two: Bob Chegwidden, Laurence Eiger, Joyce Averbuch, Harriet Fink.

Row three: George Guest, William Kruse, Georgine Harms, Juanita Brown.

Row four: Bob Cahill, Charles Leber, Harold Berg, Pat Liston, Gene Barboro, Herbert Binswanger.



Lower: Bill Moore tinkers with a gasoline motor-block in Mr. Wernick's shop class.

Miss Marston's 2A Division

Left: Patsy Cuvelier shows John Calvin the floor of a typical woodland terrain.

Upper right:

Row one: Roy Bryant, Leonarda Mounteney, Pamela Stephens, Verna McEndree.
Row two: Stanley Blaszczyk, Jules Laser, Shirley Koshork, Mary Montgomery, Sandra Kaufman, Dorothy Malloy.
Row three: Jerry Kaplan, Sheldon Migdal, Ted Mallires, Art Lange, Jim Zuckerman.
Row four: Clarence Martin, Ronald Izydorek, Tim Martin.

Lower right:

Row one: Gunther Koffinke, Lucille Youngren, Nancy Pyatt.
Row two: Paul Rauscher, Ada Brown, Larry Gruszkowski, Joanne Fredrickson, Diane Zussman.
Row three: Frank Hailand, Howard Mencker, Dan Kaplan, Barbara Lekki, Barbara Bender.
Row four: Bob Morris, Dennis Hartman, Nancy Michau, Eileen Norwood.

"Keep to the middle of the road" has been the motto of Miss Marston's normal American group of students. They have never soared too high above the clouds of "all-around"; still they have reaped their own harvest of honors.

Jerry Kaplan leads the division scholastically.

A round and robust 100% has been theirs in S.S.L., Shore Line, Tide, and G.A.A.

Art Lange, Frank Hailand, and Jim Zuckerman are members of the pool-spanning Swim team.

Mr. Wiltshire's 2A Division

Officers of Mr. Wiltshire's division are Jerry Thurman, president; Babs Horsley, vice-president; Carolyn Vandersee, secretary; and Maxine Goldman, treasurer.

Two all "S" students are Carolyn Vandersee and Herbert Peck.

Judy Johnson is S.S.L. representative and Babs Horsley is G.A.A. representative. Steve Schuham is a Letter Man and Judy Johnson is on the G.A.A. Board.

Upper:

Row one: Maxine Goldman, Alice Andrews, Jackie Ach.

Row two: Paul Horwitz, Sid Brottman, Mike Lyons, Judy Johnson, Barbara Latimer.

Row three: Babs Horsley, Angie Allen, Jim Blisk, Will Brown, David Cohen, Marlene Heinemann, Sandra Johnston.

Row four: Chuck Caldwell, Chuck Bradford, Bob Hechler.

Center:

Row one: Nancy Parsons, Maureen Swidler, Carol Van Scoy, Carolyn Vandersee, Joan Pagenkopf, Lorraine Perruso.

Row two: William Summerfield, Joan Weber, Herbert Peck, Alan Saperston, Paul Newberger, Jerry Thurman.

Row three: Carolyn Powell, Lois Morrow, Lary Stone, Steve Schuham, Richard Pareira, Ronald Ratcliff, Edward Mazure.

Lower:

Miss Annan needs a shopping bag to carry all her English 5 class note cards.

Mrs. Fitch's 2B Division

Upper:

Row one—Dan Kessler, Jesse Iverson, Marleen Zisook.

Row two—Lillian Smith, Toby Gothelf, Myrna Levy, Ira Satyr, Charlene Hamer.

Row three—Lois Wasserman, Geraldine Olson, Donna Vanderkloot, Pat Stephen, Judith Hale, Pat Nickelson, Vivien Lyon.

Row four—Don Will, Paul Greenwalt, George Toole.

Lower—Pouring out of their balcony retreat after a long session are members of Mrs. Fitch's division.

Myrna Levy, as president, leads Mrs. Fitch's division with Treasurer Marlene Zisook and Secretary Pat Nickelson.

The members of the party-wise Social Committee are Beverly Howson, Lil Gross, Lillian Smith, Geraldine Olson, and Wendy Wolper.

Lois Wasserman, Adrienne Simon, Lillian Gross, Vivien Lyon, and Paul Greenwalt are members of the broom-in-hand Clean-up Committee.

Wendy Wolper and Ken Shelhamer are captains of the group's girls' and boys' baseball teams.

Mrs. McNamara's 2B Division

President Larry Mintz heads Mrs. McNamara's division, which has a 100% membership in both the S.S.L. and the G.A.A. An outstanding member of the division is Jay Precourt, an all "S" student and member of South Shore's Swimming Team.

Upper:

Row one: Kay Potter, Jean Miller, Illeana Mihas, Lois Wittbecker.

Row two: Barbara Peulecke, Pat Rose, Roy Nichelson, Bob Packer, Marilyn Larson, Morton Berg.

Row three: Joel Spungin, Jim Johnson.

Row four: Helen Reader, Jay Precourt, Gary Cairns, David Hedberg, Richard Barker, Steve Gray, Tom Hinckley.

Center:

Row one: Harry Kentopian, Sally Payne, Myrna Goldman.

Row two: Ina Lev, Debra Pollack, Jacqueline Lurie, Phillip Westerhouse, Natalie Stern.

Row three: Don Freund, Anne Sapstein.

Row four: Ron Freund, Steve Sadlek, Lois Rosenberg, Celia Yochelson, Penny Chapter, Larry Mintz.

Lower: "How do hands get so dirty?" puzzle Verna Godman, Joyce Averbush, and Egon Kahn.

Mrs. Neal's 2B Division

Upper:

Row one—Jim Carlson, Jerry Levy, Earl Hagberg, Fred Freeark.

Row two — Leona Harth, Vernon Craig, Edward Fineberg, Helen Aldridge, Barbara Conrad, Paula Brennwasser, David Hargrove.

Row three—Leonard Kaplan, Yolanda Dodge, Sheldon Lichtenstein, Don Broder, Charles Greene, Phil Barnett, Tony Bedard.

Lower left:

Row one—Harold Tickell, Lorene Petersen, David Rosenthal, Margaret Matten.

Row two—Shirley Sucherman, Penny Weaver, Donna Moen, Bernice Zimmer, Mary Stewart.

Row three — George Scott, Dennis Netherton, David Wright, Gene Poole.

Lower right—Blocks illustrating mitosis interest Don McGiffin.

Mrs. Neal's division, headed by President James Carlson, possesses an unusual combination of brains plus brawn. Scholastically, Earl Hagberg, Norton Wasserman, Bernice Zimmer, and David Hargrove are strong contenders for the all "S" honor roll.

Earl Hagberg, baseball and football Letter Man, paces the other athletes of the division.

Miss VonBremer's 2B Division

Upper:

Row one—Ned Ribback.

Row two—Bruce Sutton, Donald Schabel, Barbara Stein, Donna Tagmeyer, Maryanthe Panutsos.

Row three—Fred Vargo, Marvin Pales, Richard Scheffler, LaVerne Wriska, Rose Villas, Fleurette Wriska, Barbara Schwartz.

Row four—Wilmar Weinberg, Don Zehme.

Center—Mrs. Feldman holds the spotlight in her health class as she explains a clipping.

Lower:

Row one—Marilyn Barzinski, Joyce Cummings, Sandra Israel, Beverly Briley, Judy Leeds, Roberta Bracey.

Row two—Lucia Buck, Helen Lenczycki, LeRoy Brown, Iris Feldman, Patricia Farrell.

Row three—Calvin Feldman, David Marschke, Michael Heyman, Richard Klein, Jerry Barancik, Robert Berghoff, Michael Lee.

President Sidney Booth heads the first organized division club in the school, called the "Von Bees," which is completely run by the students.

Activities in the division are numerous. Members take part in the Clean-up Committee, the S.S.L., G.A.A., P.T.A. Shore Line, Tide, and Dance Band. Don Zehme is president of the South Shore Stamp Club, and four students have received scholarship or service awards.

Division parties are held throughout the semester to celebrate various holidays. The "Von Bees" are a gay, lighthearted group that typify the students of South Shore.

Miss Chatterton's 1A Division

Upper:

Row one: Sally Peters, Bill Beros, Betty Meadows, Pam Michau.
Row two: Eloise Roush, Ed Silverman, George Mitchell.
Row three: Barry Moses, Sandra Rosin, Burton Hamrell.
Row four: Jerry Roeske, Shirley Black, Beverly Rubenstein, Donna Diamant, Donna Daniel, Rose Ann Golber.

Lower:

Row one: Matthew Kraly, Jack Friedman, Ronald Rubenstein, Betty Wells.
Row two: Bill Horgan, Jack Harkins, Larry Fisher, David Ramis, Barbara VanDuyse, Catherine Witschey.
Row three: Bill Moore, Ralph Rusco, Jim Walsh.

Right: "Whoops! There it goes!" Looks as if Janet Hieronimus were having a hard time.

One of the most active and friendly divisions in South Shore is Miss Chatterton's. It contributed generously to the Junior Red Cross, ranking among the highest contributors in the school.

The Student Service League representative, Ed Silverman, was mainly responsible for the very successful 1A picnic in June.

Barbara Sweeney has been recognized as a fine actress and has appeared in many student productions, among them the 8A Orientation Program last fall.

Two members of the Swim team, Larry Fisher and Bill Moore, helped to bring honors to South Shore by placing high in the City Swim meets.

Miss Compher's 1A Division

This division has swung into things almost immediately, being 100% both in G.A.A. and S.S.L., thanks to Representatives Janet Lawton and Leonore Burnjas.

The group is justly proud of Patricia McLeod, who has been elected vice-president of the 1A class. Janet Lawton, Jim Malkus, and Noel Wyandt have maintained all "S" averages.

Upper:

Row one—Nancy Anderson, Robert Turley, Ruth Decker, Pat McLeod.

Row two — Marlene Gerst, Clifford Sandine, Tom Smith, Nancy Leander.

Row three—Barbara Borstein, Harold Gordon, Gary Slagle, Phillip Gordon.

Row four — Marilyn Citron, Naomi Kaplan, Janet Lawton, Nancy Musial, Jeanette Falvey.

Center—Hallowe'enists Barbara Dunlop and Paula Ekman surprise the unsuspecting Bob Frazier.

Lower:

Row one — Joanne Miller, Rochelle Feldschreiber.

Row two — Beverly Michelson, Jack Marks.

Row three — Jim Malkus, Roberta Rendler, Joyce Householder, Lenore Burnjas, Marsha Anderson.

Row four—Robert Zalewski, Beverly Greenberg, Noel Wyandt.

Row five—Norene Kominsky, Patricia Wilton, Arnold Karzov.

Miss Nowaczyk's 1A Division

Upper left:

Row one—Joan Weinstein, Joan Hart, Marilyn Frieder, Lois Jaffe, Eleanor Rose.

Row two—Jane Dinges, Sidney Dessauer, Rachelle Cohan, Judy Wagner, Lorraine Factor.

Row three—Bob Ramsay, Stewart Agoos, Stewart Prosk, Barbara Getz, Robert Isakson.

Lower left:

Row one—Diane Kaufman, Carol Ann Jackson, Richard Harris, James Kaveshan, Susan Price.

Row two—Marcia Behrstock, Nancy Norris, Diane Townsend, Lee Kingsmill, Judy Becker.

Row three—Barbara Shankland, Charles Connors, Guy Manaster, John Weicher, Rudy Sundberg, Warren Quinn, Dixie Compton, Jerry Rosenblatt.

Row four—Michael Dunbar, Jim Williamson.

Right—"'Tis the last rose of summer" that Jim Taylor gallantly assists Sue Hall in plucking from this tree.

Students in Miss Nowaczyk's division, although still IA's, participate wholeheartedly in school activities. Several students appeared in "I Remember," a talent show presented by the S.S.L. Social Center Committee.

Officers of the group are Susan Price, president; Marilyn Frieder, vice-president; Bennett Lentczner, secretary; and Lee Kingsmill, treasurer.

The entire class is very proud that it has more people on the honor roll each marking period than any other division in the school.

Susan Price has appeared on the radio show, "Teen-Age Forum." An active division, ranking high in all school drives, this group of students is a credit to South Shore.

Miss O'Hara's 1A Division

Miss O'Hara's freshman division believes in getting ahead fast. The division officers are Joan Grupka, president; Bruce Johnson, vice-president; Janice Eichhorn, secretary; and Don Newa, treasurer. Harold Klawans, Elaine Ruthstein, and Dolores Imbrowicz have been on the honor roll every marking period.

Upper:

Row one: Charles Horberg, Claude Krecicki, Jerry Gordon, Revelle Fleisher, Hazel Kramer.

Row two: Dolores Imbrowicz, Gloria Dolemba, Janice Eichhorn, Luella Ericson, Joan Kravitz.

Row three: Sandra Linkemer, Sandra Blum, Audrey Lopacki, Eunice Jurgilas, Harold Klawans, Stanley Jacobson, Bruce Johnson, John Loftus.

Row four: Joan Grupka, Jere Lamensdorf.

Center:

Row one: Joanne Trzeciak, Esther Scholar, Ene Marcus.

Row two: Elaine Ruthstein, Nancy McCaslin, Phil Yalowitz.

Row three: Ed Wilson, Byron Marcus, Joel Solovy, Edel Mikell.

Row four: Art Steinburg, Carter Scovel, Don Newa, Don Schumacher.

Lower: "Aw, it's only in division cooperation," Herbert Mack tells Harold Gordon as he proudly displays the "S" in his course book.

Mr. Rasmussen's 1A Division

Meeting in a biology lab every day has made the members of Mr. Rasmussen's division partial to the wonders of science, especially when science has four feet and fur. Parent black and white guinea pigs and their litter of young guinea pigs, far smaller than the palm of the hand, provide fun for the students and distraction for Mr. Rasmussen, who tries valiantly to keep his furry wards from being man-handled.

According to Mr. Rasmussen, the legend about girls' always being afraid of mice just isn't true. The girls are getting used to the warm-blooded creatures, but boys such as Bill McMahon, State Latin Contest finalist, remain distrustful of the little animals.

Upper:

Row one: Lois Stratton.

Row two: Allan Steward, Beverly Schechter, Gail Weber, Pat Milligan.

Row three: Charlene Schroeder, Julie Winograd, Nancy Murphy, Phyllis Osinski, Floyd Schlossberg, Carol Winters, Jean Wolstenholme.

Row four: David Wilson, Pennie Peet, Leah Morse, Jim Yarrow, Tom Reece, Richard Sheridan, Ken Carlson.

Center: Larry Fisher proudly points to his division's candidate for Football Queen, but Phyllis Osinski and Judy Nelson are still not convinced that their division room choice should not have the honor.

Lower:

Row one: Barbara Hind, Paula Barkan, Kent Holstead.

Row two: Susan Cohen, Mary Carlson, Elisabeth Foss, Bill McMahon, Jon Dill, Gary Hunt, John Miller.

Row three: Connie Baughman, Nancy Adler, Ethel Goldman, Hilda Goldin, Susanne Kraus, Jeanne Carpenter, Dick Arney.

Mrs. Stern's 1A Division

This division really has started out with its right foot forward. It has as its officers David Cross, president; Carl Chestler, vice-president; Gloria Chapman, secretary; and Sylvia Graham, treasurer. The group is very proud of two budding geniuses, Muriel Goldsmith and Herbert Mack, who have consistently made the honor roll.

Upper:

Row one—Adrienne Sommer, Marilyn Ruda, Anita Weiner.

Row two — Suzan Slifkin, Suzanne Rosenblatt, Carol Leaf.

Row three—Georgia Raft, Mary Lew, Shirley Valles, Adrienne Napols, Wayne Storen.

Row four—Nicky Shepis, John Maloney.

Row five—Irving Weintraub, James Wagner, Jerry Valentine, Herbert Mack.

Center:

Row one — Lorraine Kantor, Alice Krueger.

Row two — Richard Hofeld, Diane Frank, Mike Kornafel, Lenny Carlson, Sylvia Graham.

Row three—Carl Chestler, Beverly Goldberg, Sharon Alpert, Kathleen Hanlon, Gloria Chapman.

Row four — Marjorie Gross, David Cross, Ray Blatchford, Herman Bloom.

Lower — Spelldown in Mrs. Blair's class finds Norton Wasserman pondering over a difficult question as Pam Stephens, Bernice Zimmer, Iris Feldman, Lucille Youngren, Clarence Martin, and Ned Ribback watch in suspense.

Mr. Wernick's 1A Division

Mr. Wernick's division is a well organized one. Officers completely take charge of the group. They are Joan Poulos, president; Myrna Morris, vice-president; Dick Sloan, secretary; and Joseph Grant, treasurer.

Upper — It's Nancy Norris who is working this model of a real diesel engine.

Center:

Row one—Larry Grant, Evelyn Kornetz, Virginia McNanna, Rosalind Hirshfield, Myrna Morris, Marvin Klapman.

Row two—Mary Klawans, Jacqueline Bogomol, Judy Byrne, Bob Lineback, Sara Moore, Howard Mindell.

Row three—Bob Foley, Jerry Kagen, Roger Gould, Ray Asplund, Carl Jevert, Mike McFarland.

Lower:

Row one—Sheila Weinbera, Sandra Shulman, Lynn Newman.

Row two—Judy Schneider, Joan Poulos, Sharon Rosenthal.

Row three — Gordon Shaw, Frances Riforgiate, Lois Sapkin, Jo Ann Zitowsky, Gay Schoemer, Barbara Wimer, Georgia Papayanis.

Row four — Richard Pace, Richard Sloan, Carolyn Todd, Richard Myers, Howard Meyers.

Mr. Wilkinson's 1A Division

Individual honors come easily to members of this division, for Lance Lawson won a $400 Scholarship to the Sherwood Music School and David Shuchter won high series in the South Shore Bowling Contest.

There are no division officers here, but Lance Lawson is secretary of the 1A Class and Tom Barber is the division representative to the Steering Committee Council.

Left—Engrossed in "Treasure Island," David Shuchter doesn't care if he is late to class.

Upper right:

Row one—Carol Anderson, Geraldine Bonifield, Shirley Diman, Paula Ehrlich, Sandra Deutsch, Barbara Graivier.
Row two—Bob Frazier, Jerry Fisher, Morton Fialkoff, Neal Chazdon, Ralph Jones.
Row three—Teresa Demma, Gwen McCallum, Shirley Goldstine, Suzanne Bushey, Nancy Hoyle.
Row four—Tom Barber, Bernard Feldman, Dennis Hochman.

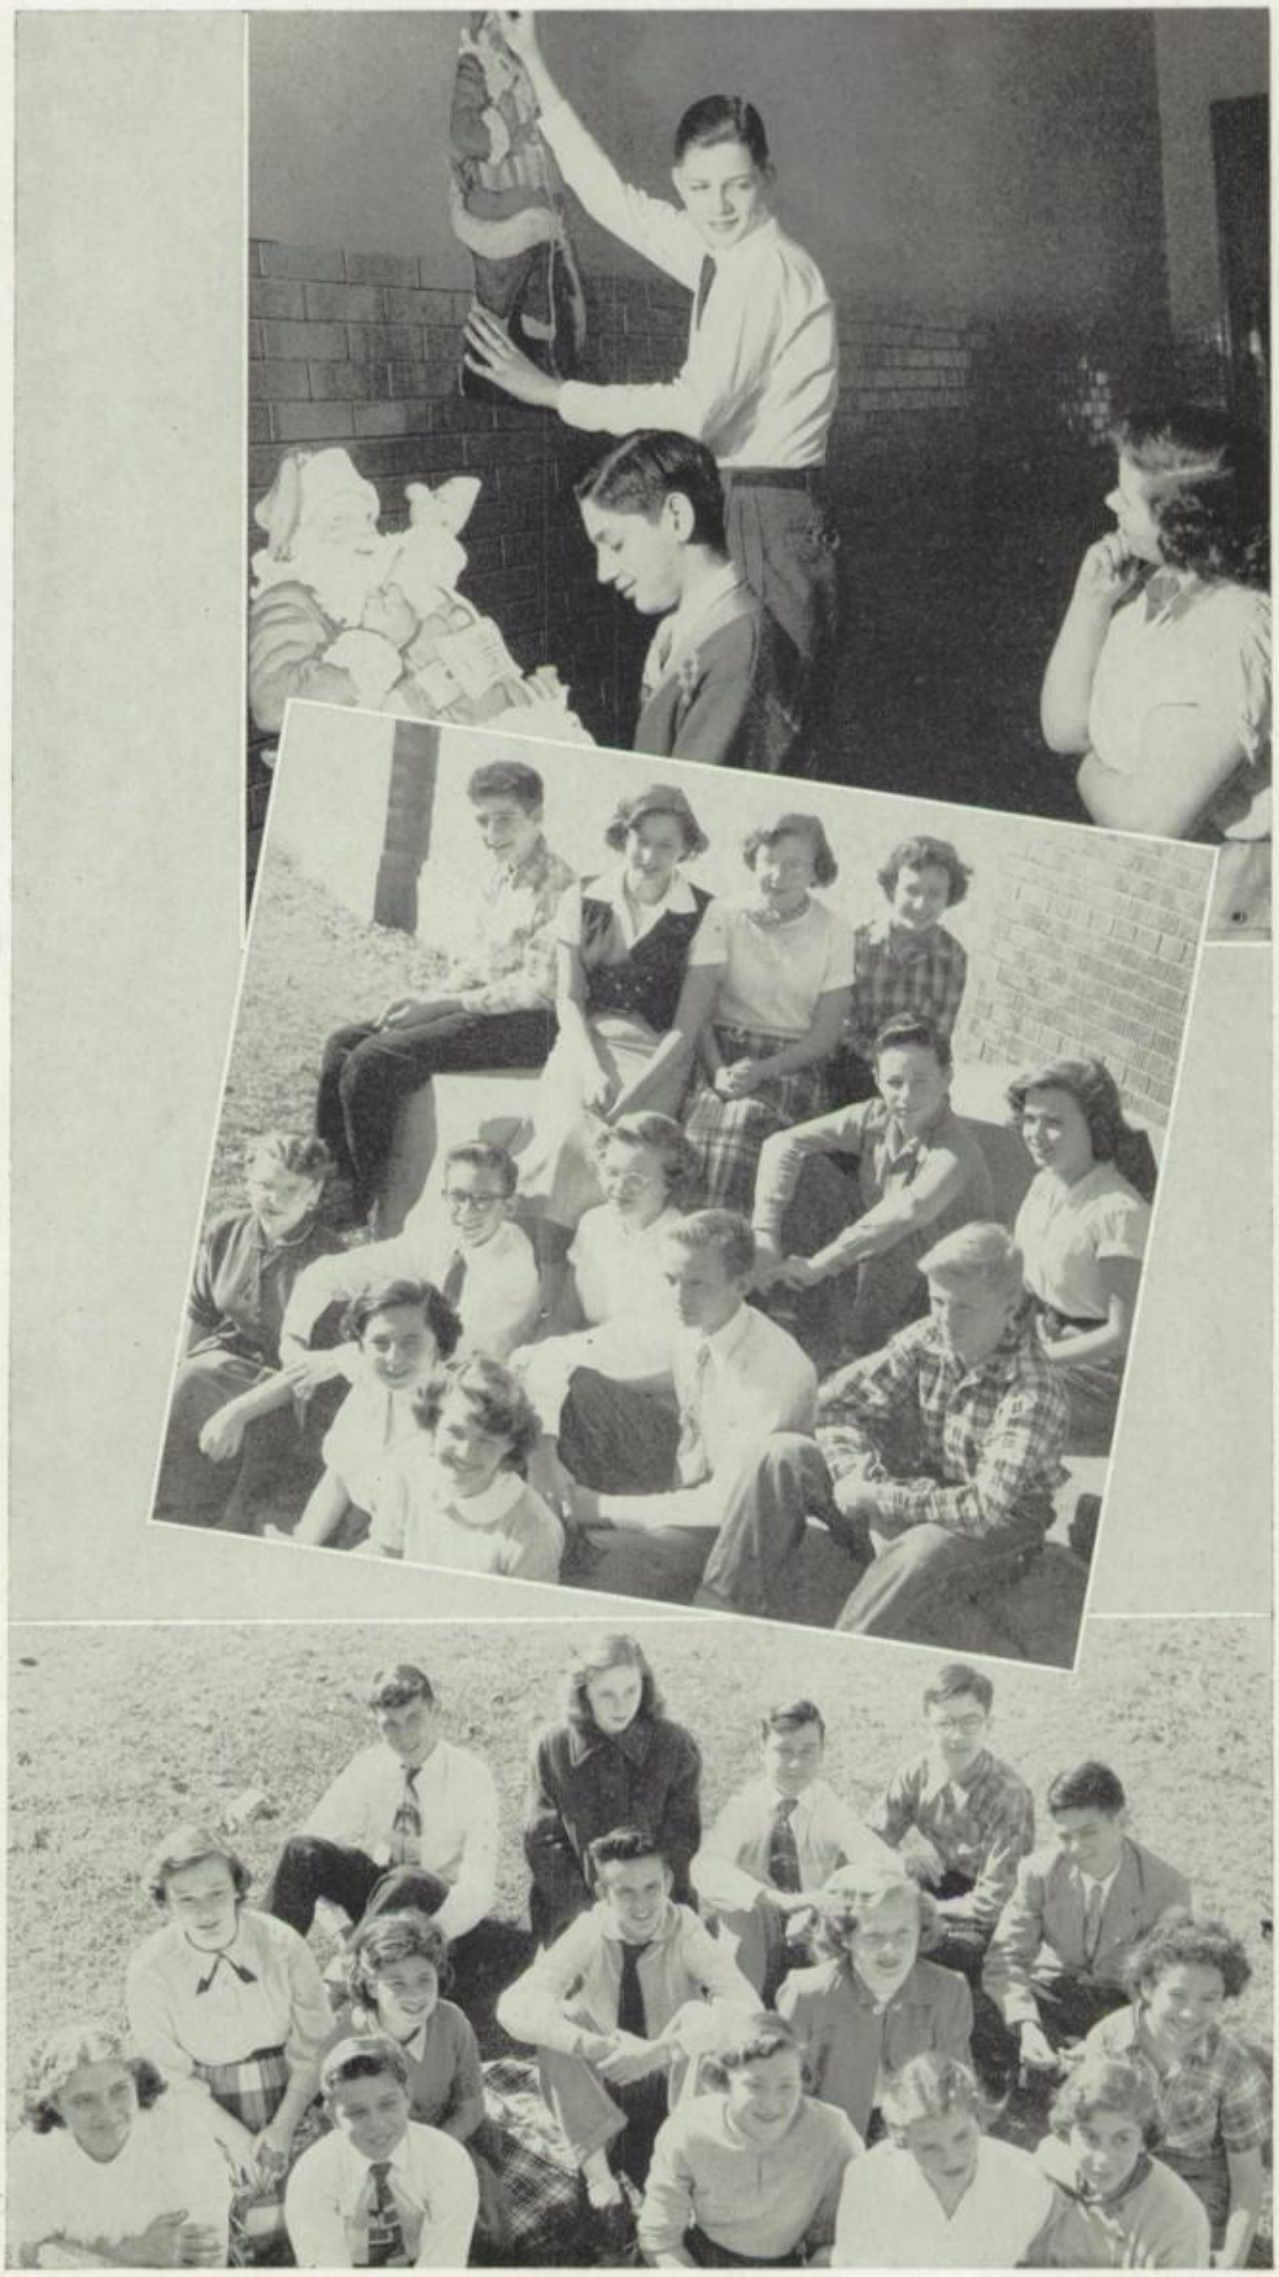
Lower right:

Row one—Marylee Logler, Geraldine Suskin, Deanna Taxman, Phyllis Miller.
Row two—Lance Lawson, Barbara Solomon, Henry Kinson, Marilyn Satovitz, David Shuchter.
Row three—Robert Penninger, Stephen Rashkow, Dale Stahl, Martin Klazmer, Ken Teske.
Row four—Raymond Nelson, Carl Roemer, George Wharton, Jerry Sievert.

Mrs. Willams's 1A Division

This is one division that believes in getting ahead fast; Alice Schwebke and Mary Emody, still 1A's, are already members of the Senior Girls' Choir.

Holding offices is taken in stride by members of the division. Not only do they have a set of elected class officers, but they hold offices in other clubs. Janet Forde is secretary of the French Club and Richard Halpert is president of the Drama Club.



Upper—The continued beauty of the lunchroom is the object of Marshall Hirsch and James Johnson. Nancy Musial gives her approval.

Center:

Row one — Sheila Laughlin, Dolores Silverthorne.

Row two—Patricia Mills, David Smiejek, Barbara Patrick, Barry Engle, Norman Bloom.

Row three — Dick Berkowitz, Judy Neeleson, Jean Butcher, Paula Ekman, Barry Fitzgibbons, Alice Schwebke.

Lower:

Row one—Sarah Villas, Frank Ziolkowski, Mary Ann Emody, Jean Olson, Marge Ohlhausen.

Row two—Doris Retzky, Gerry Ostrow, Harold McNichols, Janet Forde, Patricia Streeter.

Row three — Phil Conklin, Suzanne Curtis, Martin Hopkins, Richard Halpert, Michael Geller.

Mrs. Witting's 1A Division

Meet a division 100% in Tide, S.S.L., and G.A.A., and really proud of it! Thanks go to Judy Gray, Diana Sanford, and Jacky Friedman, student representatives. Molly Moroney is its 1A Steering Committee representative, and Jack Taylor is an R.O.T.C. honor cadet. Judy Gray and Cynthia Stiefel lead the group in scholastic ability.

Upper—Bob Quinn's speedy decisions astound Harold McNichols as he visits the Shore Line office on deadline day. Bob's assistants are Brina Jaffee, Sheila Loughlin, Anita Robin, and Rick Doody. Mr. Carroll looks on calmly.

Center:

Row one — Louellen Novack, Alice Nelson.

Row two—Louise Middlemas, Diana Sanford, George Reeder, Sara Campbell, Arlene Abrams, Jack Taylor.

Row three—Carol Adams, Judy Gray, Ralph Canaday, David Middlemas, Phyllis Bednarski, Nancy Sider, Norm Barron.

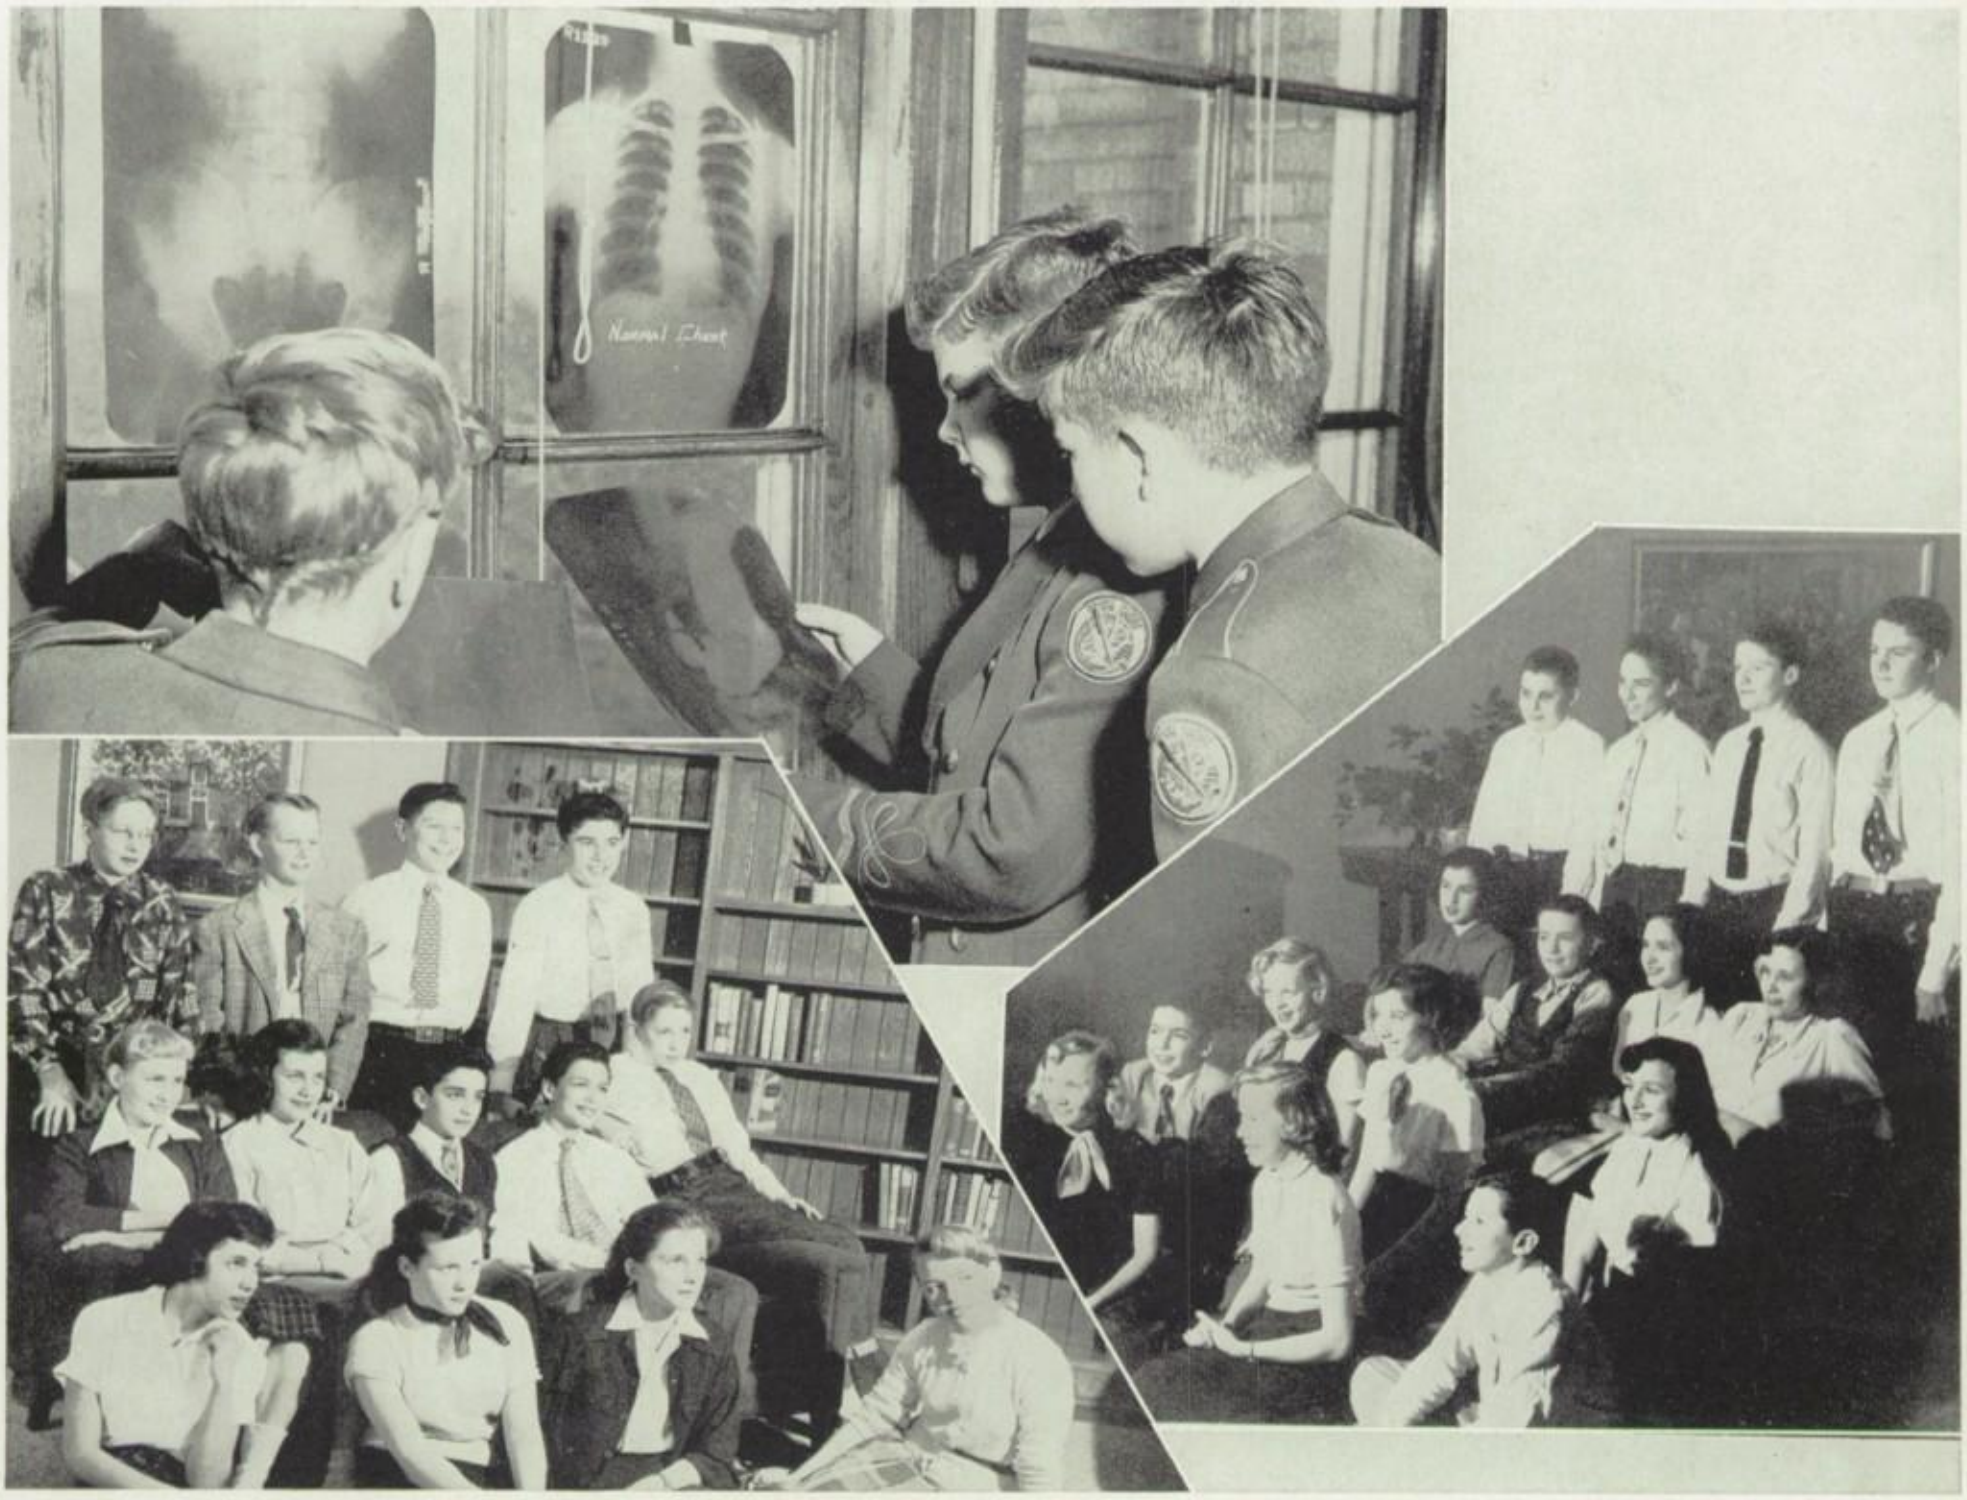
Lower:

Row one — Janet Hieronimus, Tom Dabrowski, Cynthia Stiefel, Margo Bourbules, Jacky Freedman, Bill Gamble, June Madderom.

Row two—Ted Pilewski, Paula Chapman, Margie Landini, Barbara Dunlop, Maxine Brody.

Row three—Joe Matt, Tom Cavenagh, James Ganansky, George McKenna, Molly Moroney.

Miss Bond's 1B Division



Upper—Wondering how their insides compare with X-ray pictures are Barry Moses, John Miller, and Al Bougher.

Lower left:

Row one—Nancy Chiz, Esther Beville, Glennis Bell, Marion Hopkins.
Row two—Jean Bendt, Elaine Green, Chuck Becker, Marty Goldsmith, Glenn Bell.
Row three—John Gruwell, Kent Bruce, Arthur Fenn, George Foundos.

Lower right:

Row one—Jacqueline Jillson, Edith Ringenberg, Ed Shapiro.
Row two—Larry Rosenthal, Roberta Johnson, Patsy Szczesniak, Marlene Kniznik.
Row three—Martha Lesser, Jack Karpen, Adrienne Kaluzna, Cheryl Leming.
Row four—Bob Mars, Rudy Zaransky, Ronnie Williams, John Romans.

Miss Bond's division has a fine slate of officers consisting of Arthur Fenn, president; Cheryl Leming, vice-president; Jean Bendt, secretary; and Martha Lesser, treasurer.

Service and scholarship awards have been won by Charles Becker, Kent Bruce, and Arthur Fenn. Glennis Bell and Rudy Zaransky are 1B Council representatives.

Mr. Donaldson's 1B Division

Brains in this Freshie division are chalked up on the ladies' side of the ledger. For their first three marking periods in South Shore, Sue Koch, Marilyn Linetzky, Dorothy Skovie, and Marcia Walquist have been on the Honor Roll, with all "S" just over the horizon.

Speaking for this group in S.S.L. meetings is Dorolyn Hayes.

Collecting Shore Line subscription money is the job of Lynn Miller. Winifred Levin is the G.A.A. representative, and Sheldon Schlegman holds the office of Class president.

Upper left:
Row one: Nancy Epton, Joan Hirsch, Arlene Jacobson, Rochelle Hoffman.
Row two: Joe Hamburg, Lois Hemberg, Dorolyn Hayes, Sue Koch, Arthur Krugman.
Row three: Don Driess, Ted Boyer, David Bogan, Robert Fagan, Calvin Eisenberg.

Lower left: Even Jimmy Malkus closes his eyes as the blast from his clarinet rings loudly through the room.

Right:
Row one: Babette Wall, Adrienne Pondel.
Row two: Marcia Walquist, Winnie Levin, Dorothy Skovie, Marilyn Linetzky, Bill McRoy, Charles Scheurer.
Row three: Larry Sherman, Bill Peterson, Howard Rosenfeld, Charles Moran, Sheldon Schlegman, Leonard Mawrence.

Mrs. Dragosavac's 1B Division

Upper:

Row one—Elinor Roseff, Marcia Mellinghausen, Sandy Schuster, Diana Stuart.

Row two—Judy Warady, Mimi Teitelman, Warren Uppling, Jim Kane, Marlene Peterson, Stanley Weiss, Sandy Parlin.

Row three—Lester Baker, Lynn Potter, Larry Kayton, Jerry Isackson, Bill Locke.

Center—All the neighborhood schools are well represented at the Orientation Day program for freshies-to-be.

Lower:

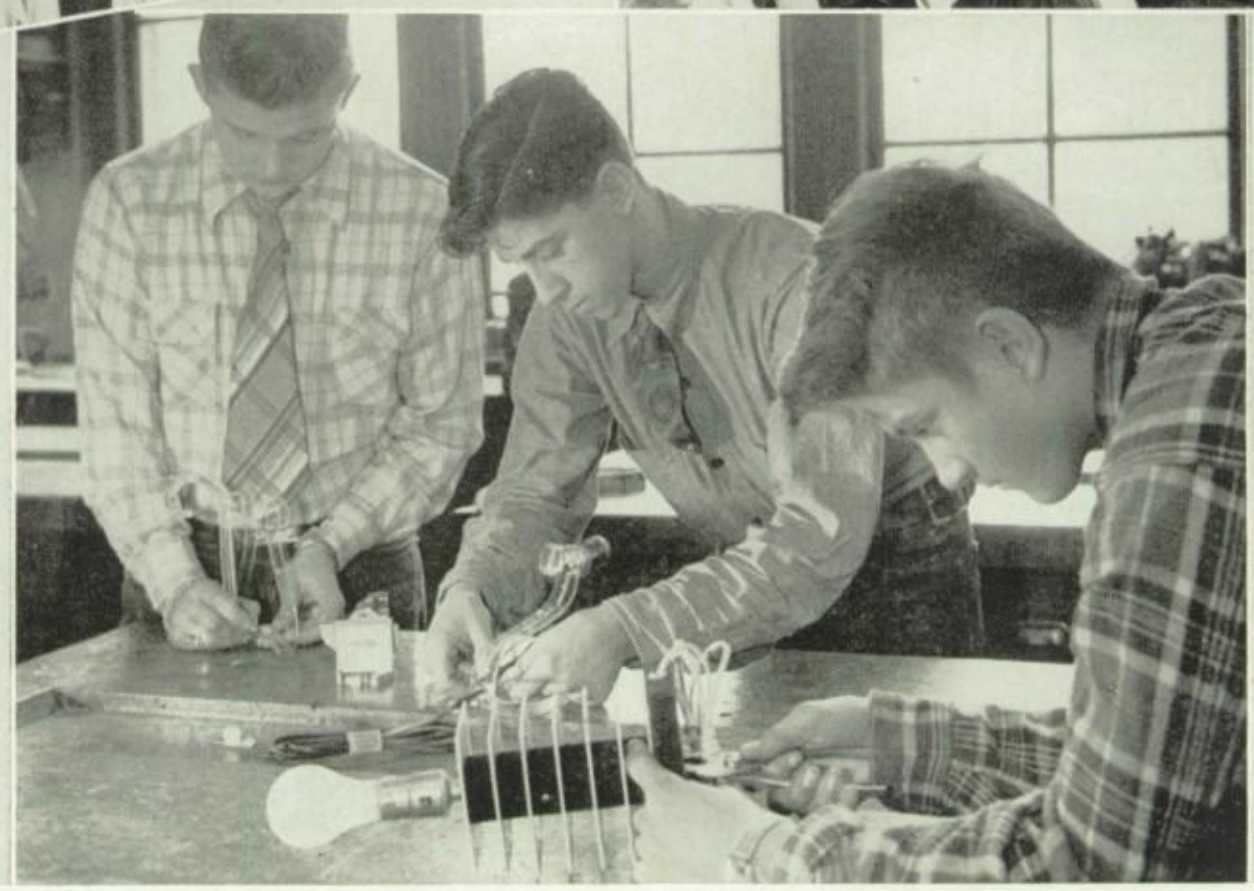
Row one — Frances Busch, Gladys Aronberg, Jan Alexander, Nancy Clark.

Row two—Judy Greitzer, Leonard Dimond, Stuart Friedlander, David Freund, Robert Cohen, Virginia Hochberger.

Row three — Tom Howland, Scott Anderson, Mann Heydorn, Sheldon Feinberg.

"Good officers make a good division," say Mrs. Dragosavac's 1B's. Their officers are Janis Alexander, president; Tom Howland, vice-president; and Judy Greitzer, secretary-treasurer. Their spokesmen in the 1B Council are Leonard Dimond and Judy Greitzer. Three students have made the honor roll.

Mrs. Greene's 1B Division

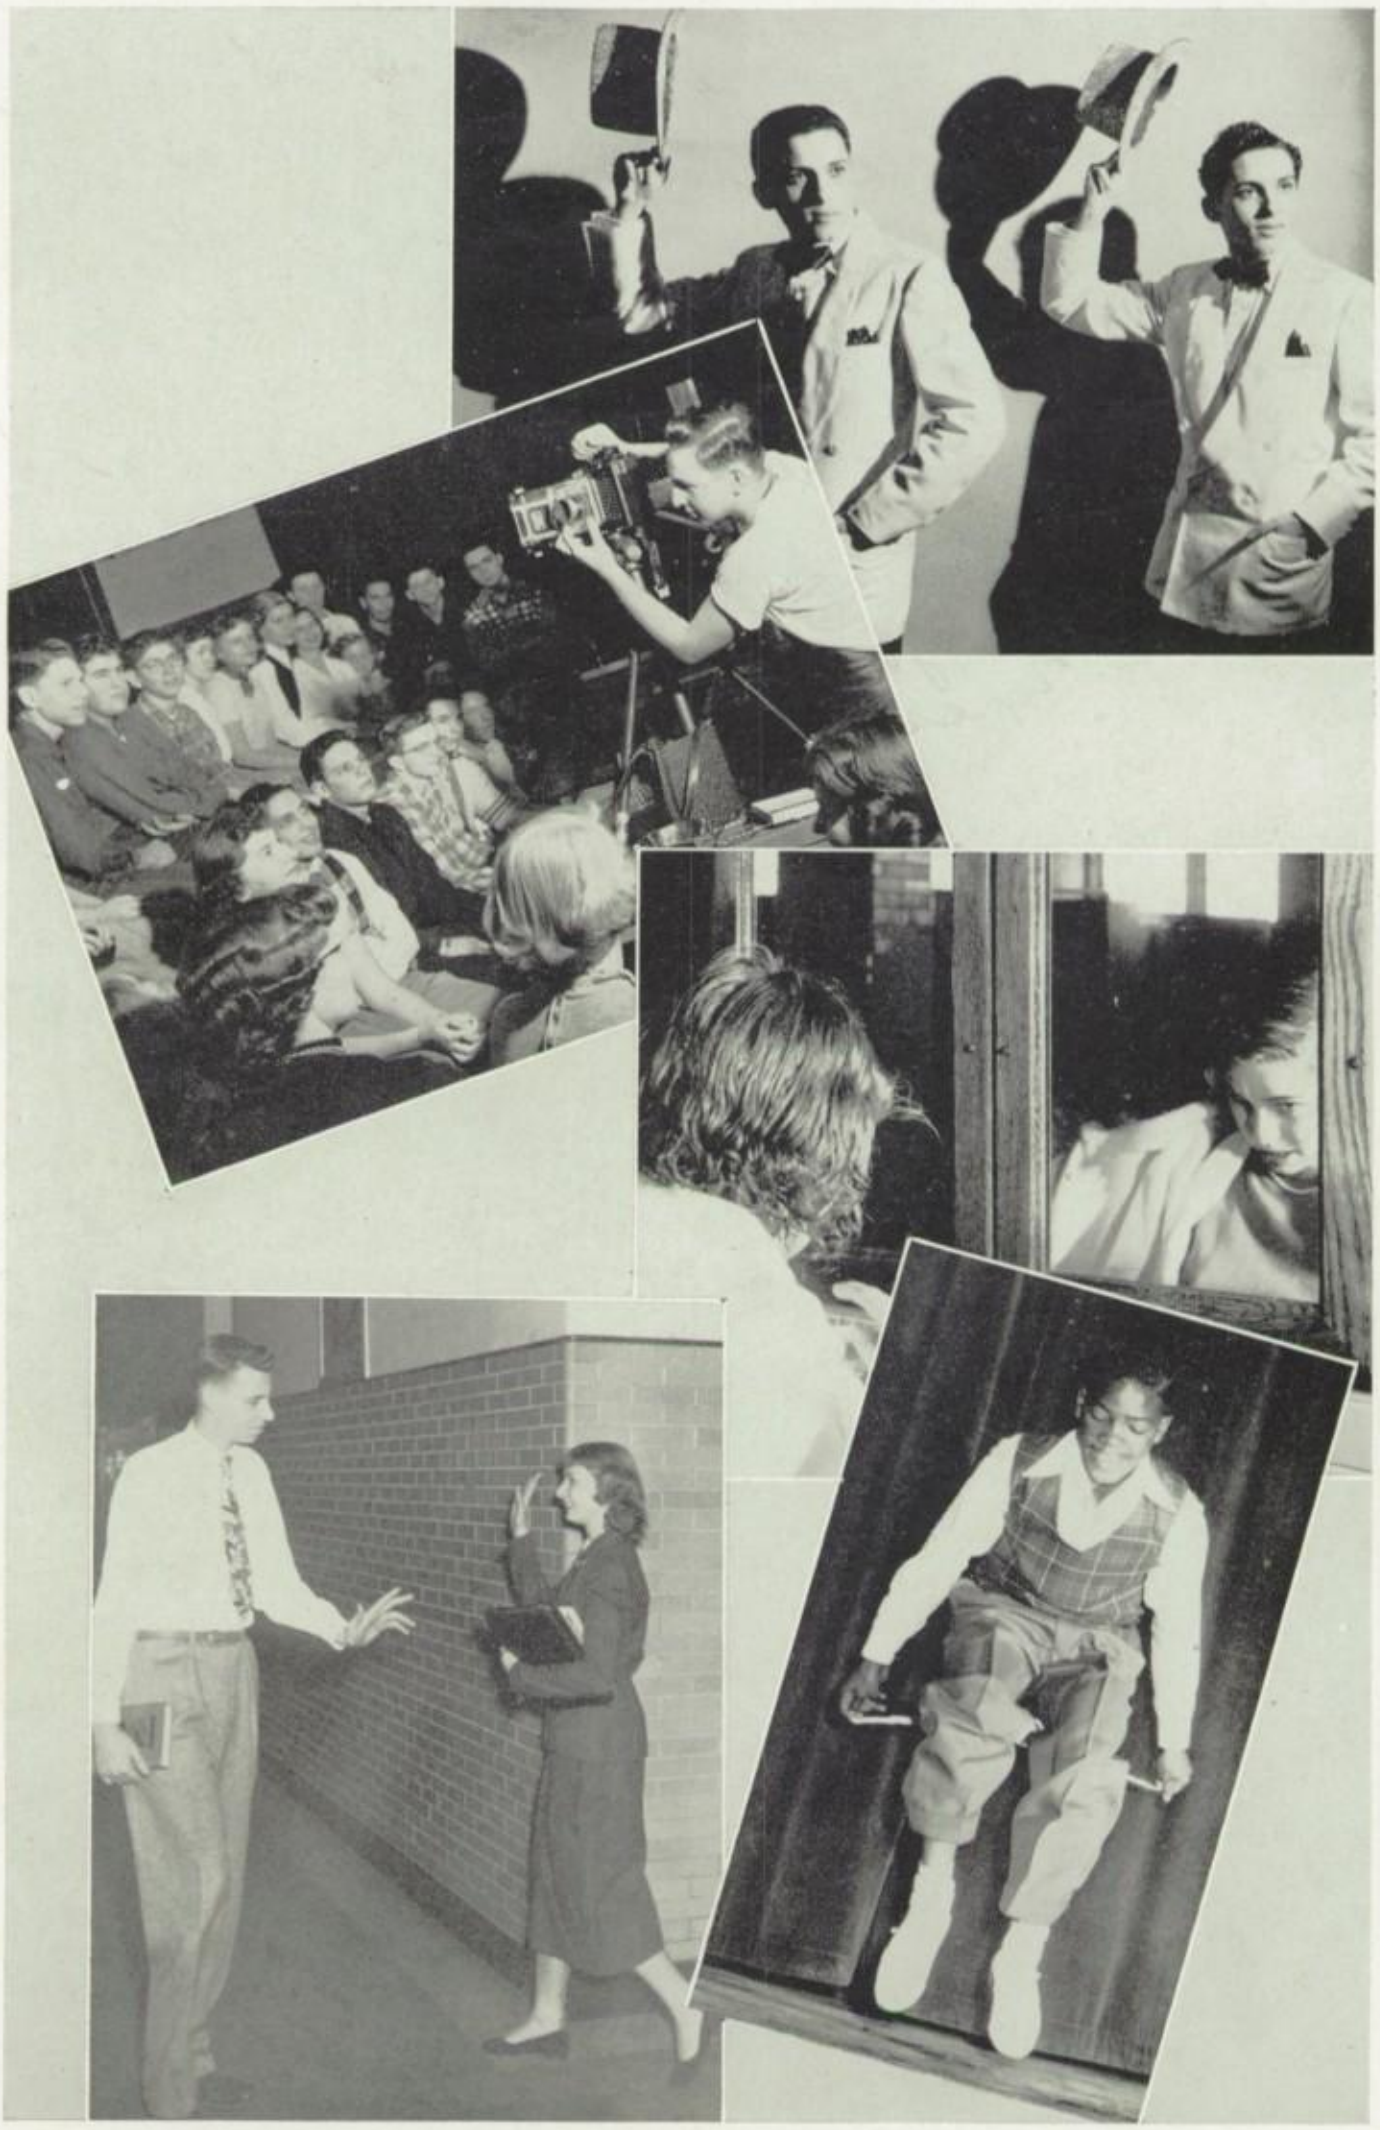


Upper left:
Row one—Barbara Petzel, Marjory Lister, Francine Rosenblatt, Sandra Moss.
Row two—Judy Triest, Joyce Lebowitz, Diane Slifkin, Joan Shea, Elise Marer, Carol Newman.
Row three—Bill Krause, Bob Krugman, Alan Swanson.
Upper right:
Row one—Mary Dodge, Sandra Borg, June Koch, Margaret Johnson.
Row two—Carol Larson, Harriet Hanson, Carole Glassman, Dale Hoidahl, Leon Bender, Dorothy Adams, Syd Demovsky.
Row three—Richard Johnson, Richard Griffin, Herbert Duren.
Lower—Don Will, Bill Bullard, and Ken Halstead will surely put some light on the subject before they're through.

In this division nine members are usually listed on the honor roll. This group also has two 1B Council members, Bob Krugman, who is the president, and Barbara Petzel. Mrs. Greene's division took an active part in the planning of the 1B party in April.

The group showed their willingness to work in a special clean-up project preceding Clean-up Week. Participating were Herbert Duren, Jill Green, Sydney Demovsky, Richard Griffin, Dale Hoidahl, William Krause, Joyce Lebowitz, Elise Marer, James Saperston, and Judy Triest.

Remember?



"Me and my shadow," from the talent show "Remember," are portrayed by Donald and Louis Keith.

Professional Camera bug Jerry Kalish holds audience spellbound in Mr. Crane's third hour Chemistry class.

Freshie Nancy Hoyle tries to repair the damage the pool has done to her hair.

Judy Ansick waves "Hi" to a fellow classmate, Dave Roeske, between bells.

"Nothing to it!" exclaims Bill Cunningham of Morgan Park High School as he gingerly jumps rope with his handkerchief for a South Shore audience.

Dear Elsie.
Lots of luck to a real sweetie, I mean it you really are. We've had a lot of fun this year, lets hope we do next year too. Be good & always have fun.
Love ya
Myrtle.

Lots of luck kid
Be a good kid
Keeping in touch again

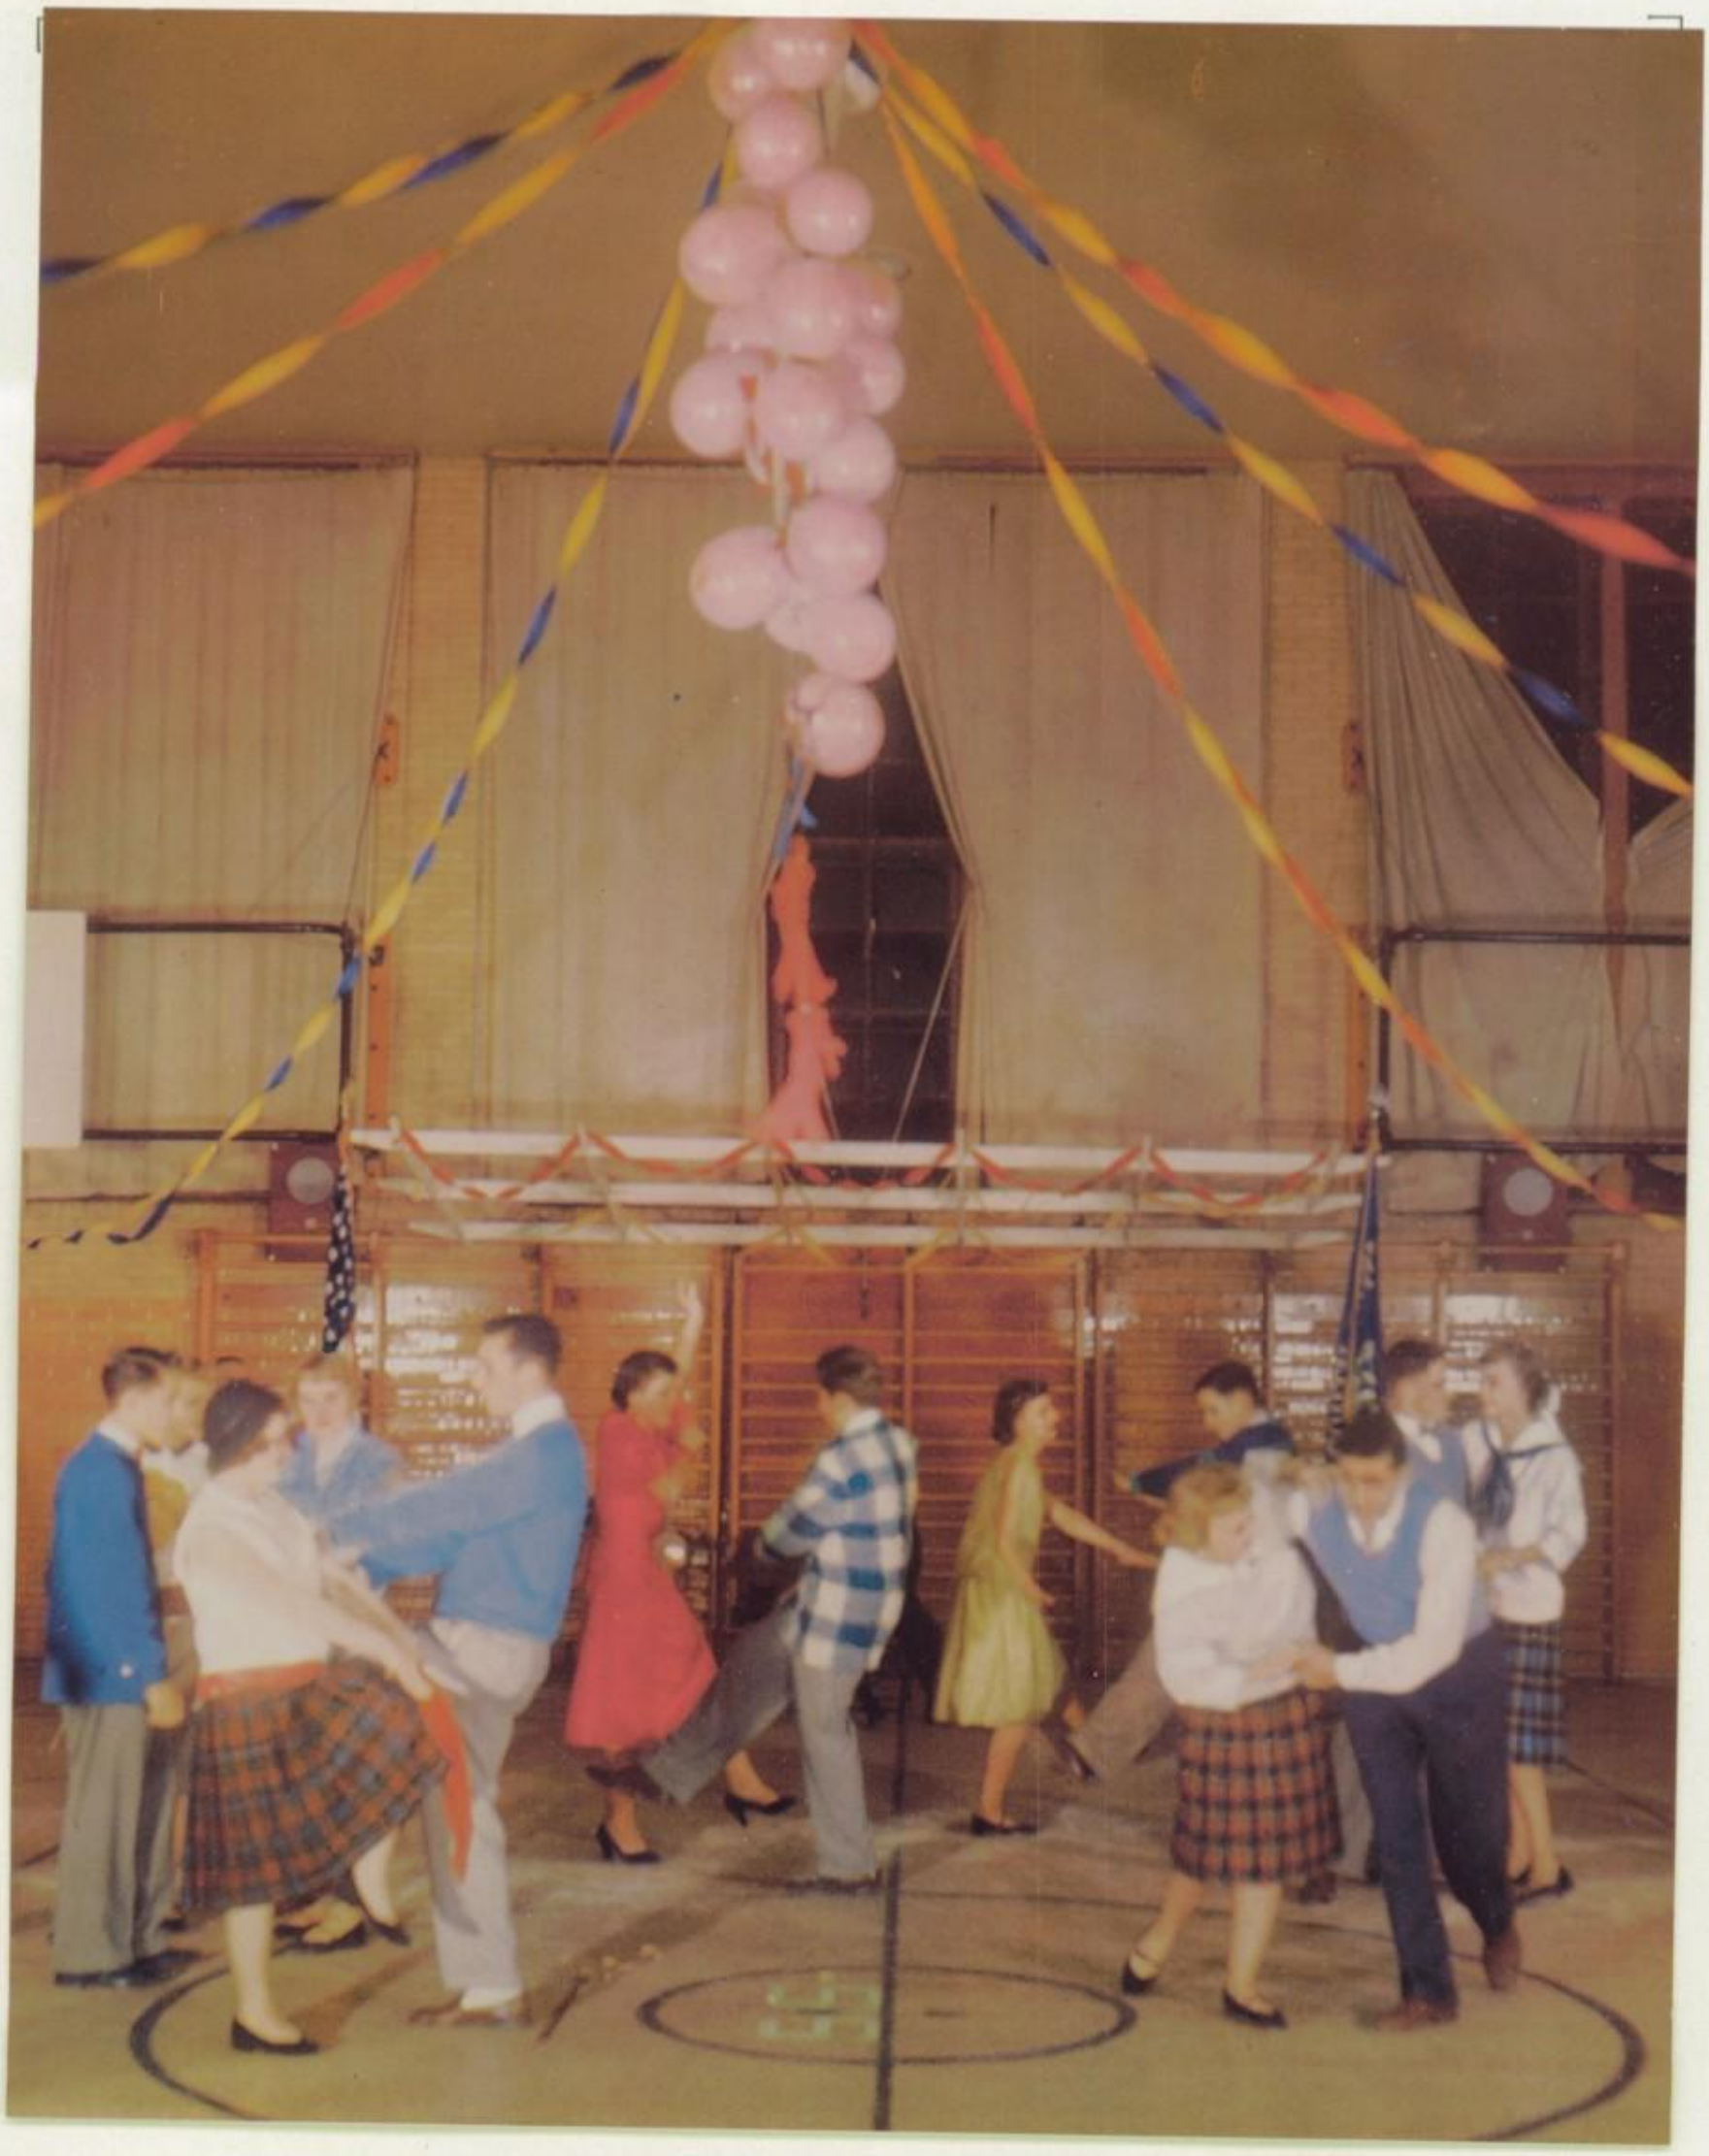
Through Our Organizations

We Discover Our Individual Abilities

And Create Lasting Friendships



Student Service League

The Student Service League, South Shore's student government, is the most all-inclusive organization in the school. Each division has a representative who attends all the council meetings and reports to his division any business discussed at the meeting. In this way the students' views on any school problem are presented to the student body.

Under its auspices six committees function. The Assembly Committee assumes responsibility for the auditorium programs, while the Social Center and Rumpus Room Committees provide recreation. The Organization Committee keeps students' scholastic and service records, and the Clean-up Committee helps to create a "school beautiful."

Upper—Perhaps the soothing music Bob Sundstrom is preparing to play will aid Ceona Clark and Sonya Meyers in planning Rumpus Room activities.

Center—Doris Soderberg, S.S.L. secretary, gives a report to the staff. Listening attentively are Ed Yalowitz, president; John Beatty, vice-president; Barbara Smith, treasurer.

Lower—Vice-president John Beatty discusses committee plans with Social Center Chairman Carol Unrau, Clean-up Committee Chairman Lois Brooks, and Assembly Committee Chairman Sue Glenn.

Junior Red Cross

Upper left—Iris Feldman, Marlene Przybyla, Lola Einbund, George Adinamis, and Marlene Edlund put the finishing touches on cards which are to be sent to hospitals for the soldiers.

Lower left—"It's just an old yarn," but these girls find something to do with it. Florence Steinberg holds the skein for Gwen Helaszek to wind, while Judy West and Luella Humphreys knit squares for an afghan.

Right—Marlene Przybyla, Harold Wallis, Lyle Rosenthal, and Jim Yarrow are doing their share by packing boxes which will go to the needy in foreign lands.

Sponsored by Miss Grace Cullen, the Junior Red Cross, a little-praised organization, carries on its works of mercy quietly and modestly. Under the leadership of Marlene Przybyla, the group this year has collected funds for the work of the National Junior Red Cross, provided educational gift boxes for foreign children, and knitted an afghan for veterans. In addition, as a special project, the members filled a chest that was sent to the needy in Korea.

Such work teaches co-operation and a spirit of compassion for those who are not as well off as we are here in America.

On the Trail of a Book

Upper: Dr. Magan is greeted at the door by the Book Week Tea Welcoming Committee, consisting of Donna Polansky, Gwen Helaszek, Elsie Wenzel, Helen Daleanes, and Joanne Dahl.

Center: Claire Cross and Kay Prescott, members of the Library Club, shelve books as Sharon Pinch adds to Frieda Lome's load.

Lower: Bette Spiro places a magazine inside a plastic cover while Georgianne Larsen and Louise Rosenthal stamp new books. Carol Mulhall arranges magazines chronologically.

Can't find a book? Just ask one of the student library aides. They are members of the Library Club and take an important part in South Shore's everyday life by seeing that the library runs smoothly and effectively.

Members elected the following officers for the spring semester: Barbara Smith, president; Lois Brooks, vice-president; Ruth Decker, secretary; Gerry Feinstein, treasurer. The girls are under the guidance of Mrs. Ruth Dawson and Mrs. Martha O'Kane.

Like Leaves in a Book

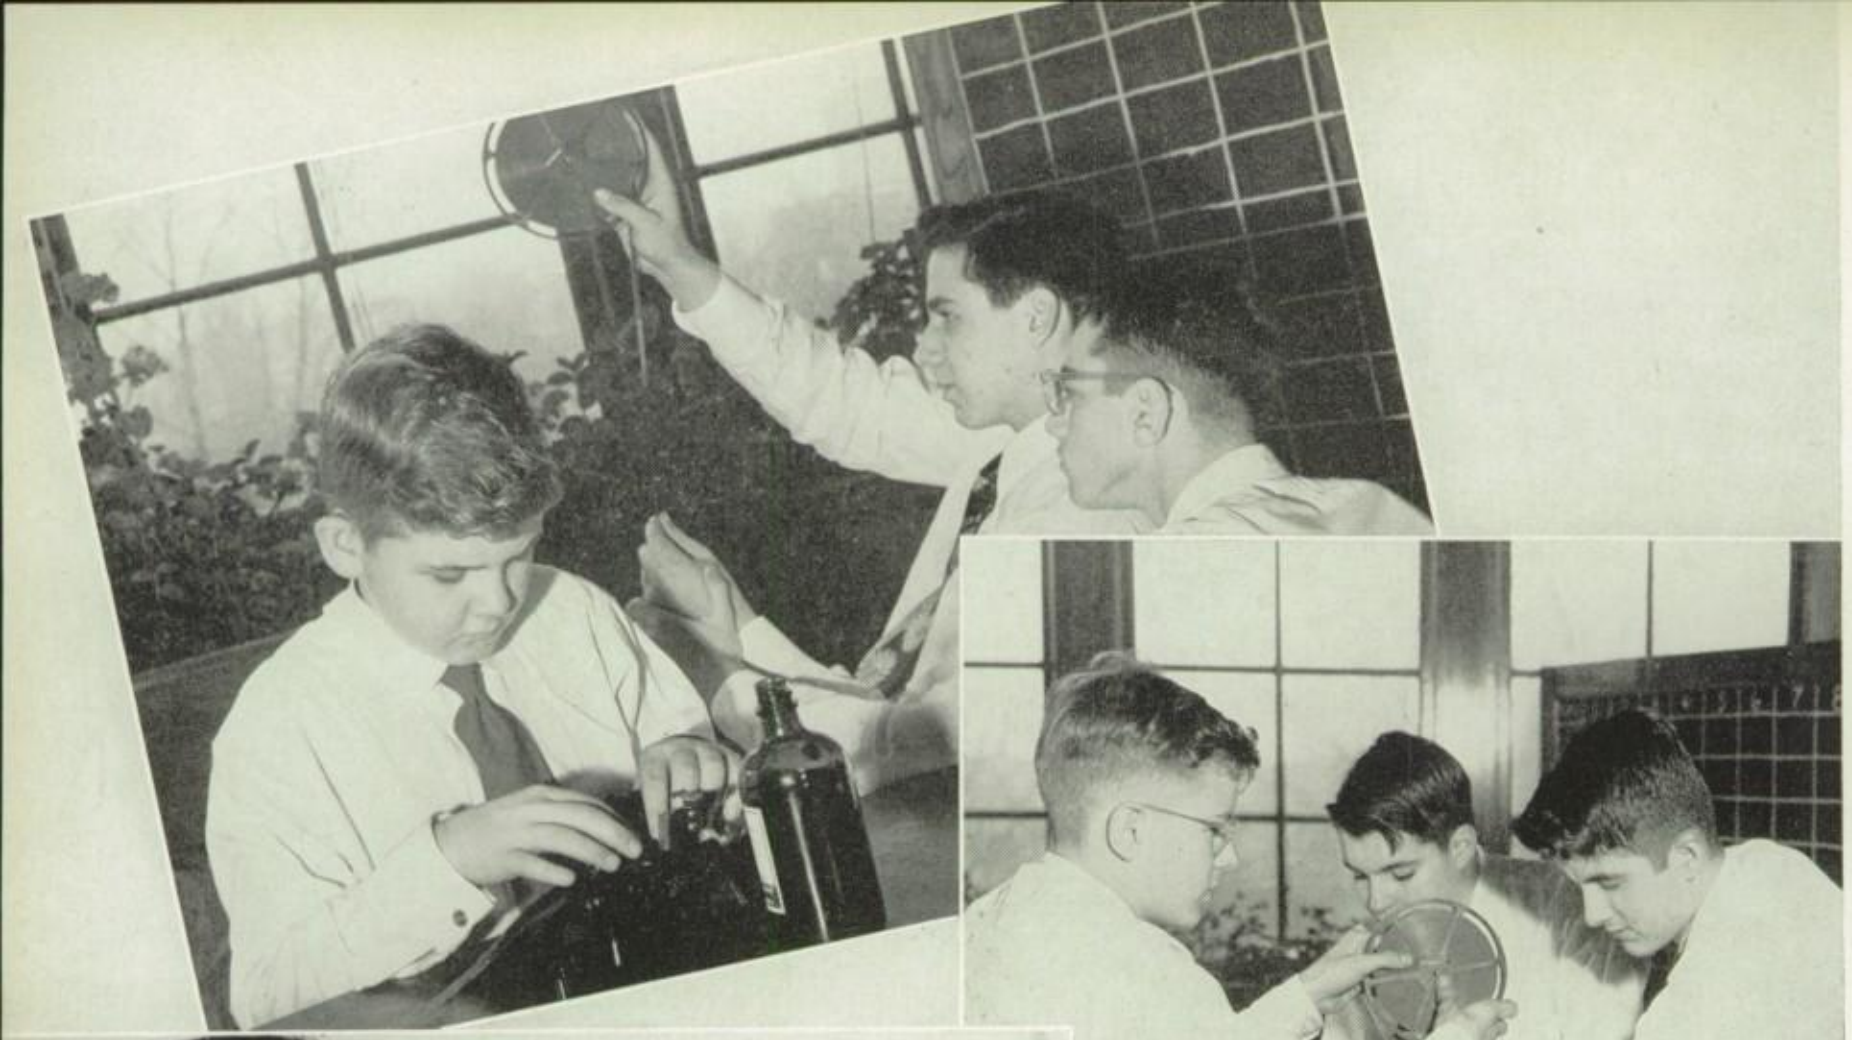
Upper left: Pat Gately and Lois Blum "clear the decks," as Lois Brooks and Norma Hawkinson prepare for the flood of incoming students. The early arrival is Barbara Greenberg.

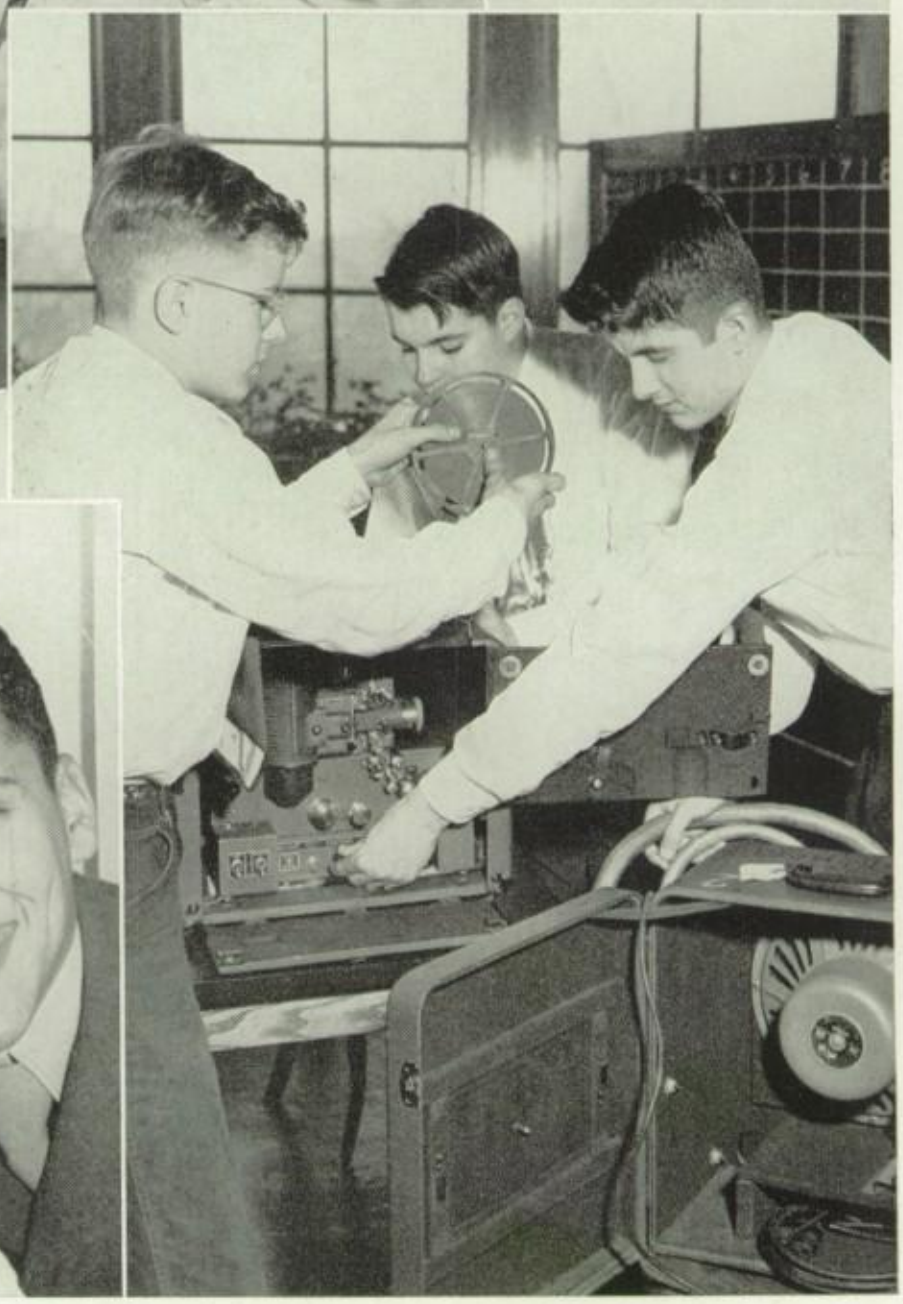
Upper right: Library President Barbara Smith, seated, holds an Executive Board meeting with Vice-President Sally Blades, Treasurer Barbara Lewis, and Secretary Ann Hickman.

Lower: Junior librarians, Elizabeth Busschaert, Ruth Carlson, Violet McAtee, and Jean Miller are kept busy straightening register files.

Highlights of the year on the Library Club calendar are the Book Week Tea, Carnival Night, and the end-of-the-year beach party. The guest list for the tea is comprised of faculty members. On this occasion new books are displayed. Carnival Night also combines work and pleasure. The group, in co-operation with the English department, takes this opportunity to sell used books. The beach party is an "entirely for pleasure" affair.

The special daily tasks of the library workers include checking books in and out, shelving books, and distributing library slips. As everyone can see, they are an efficient group.





Upper—With Ed Yalowitz's help, Sid Brottman holds the reel and straightens the strips of film which John Miller is endeavoring to splice.

Lower left—Three heads are better than one! Here are Fall Officers Jim Miller, secretary; Donald Moss, president; and Donald Keith, vice-president of the Movie Operators.

Lower right—Willy Schwebke places a role of film on the projector as L. J. Meyers and Bob Greitzer test the volume.

Masters of the Reel

The Movie Operators' Club is open to any camera-minded student who is willing and able to devote his time and service to this organization. Under the sponsorship of Miss Brock and Mr. Mongerson, this organization has become an indispensable part of the school.

The officers of the Movie Operators' Club should be commended for the work and service they give. Spring officers are as follows: Larry DuBois, president; Willy Weinberg, vice-president; Roy Isakson, secretary; William Schwebke, treasurer.

National Honor Society

Membership in the National Honor Society is the highest honor a student can attain in high school. This club, under the able sponsorship of Miss Dorothy Bock, discharges many significant duties in the school. Members tutor students, select new candidates, and plan and participate in the Induction Assembly and the tea which is held for new members.

Upper left—Past and present officers of the National Honor Society find time to chat about their common interests. They are Ed Berman, June treasurer; Joan Gold, January vice-president; Kayleen Rosenston, January treasurer; Joan Sukowicz, June vice-president; Susy Saperston, January president; Norma Hawkinson, June secretary; Viva Johnson, June president; and Susan Schmalhausen, January secretary.

Upper right—June National Honor Society members discuss candidates for office. Seated—Louis Keith, John Tontsch, Rita Hogg, Jackie Buchsbaum, Carol Unrau, Jane Lagen, Ethel Kyros, and Rosemary McMahon. Standing — Howard Simon, Ed Yalowitz, David Birkner, Lynn Wilson, Barbara Lewis, and Kent Beauchamp.

Lower—Bernard Schencker, who has already lighted his candle, watches Robbe Friedman light hers, while Dolty Dale and Laurel Cohn await their turn to rehearse for the January installation. Elizabeth Busschaert, Lois Kornafel, Ann Hickman, and Fred Friedlander on the left and Richard Schwan, Elizabeth Brooke, Roger Baskes and Sally Jensen watch.

Upper—Jackie Buchsbaum has been successful in finding her tag, while Rosemary McMahon continues to hunt. Joan Sukowicz pins on Barbara Dunnam's, but alas! poor Jane Lagen can't find hers.

Lower left — While other Nautilae members arrange sandwiches for a tea, Claire Cross steals a sample, to the envy of Pat Gately; Dorothy Dale and Nancy Rich are so busily occupied that they do not notice.

Lower right — After the sandwiches are arranged, hostesses carry them in. As Mary Lou Marrs returns for a refill, Shirley Layman, Lois Kornafel, and Barbara Midkiff bring out fresh supplies.

"Nautilae" Means "Gracious"

A friendly smile from behind a tray of cookies or a tea set is what we think of in connection with the Nautilae. These girls act as hostesses for South Shore. They serve at teas and faculty luncheons, welcome new girls to the school and sponsor the annual Alumni dance, the Christmas Ball.

Officers for the current semester are Grace Berberian, president; Leah Embree, vice-president; Lorna Schafer, recording secretary; Marcia Crawford, corresponding secretary; and Maggie Thomson, treasurer.

"Native Charm Is Theirs"

Upper—Nautilae members, bringing their scrapbook up-to-date, are Marcia Crawford, Marianne Casey, Marilyn Moore, Donna Hodnik, and Dorna MacIntyre.

Lower left—The last minute finds Grace Berberian hurrying to clean up the flower petals while Joanne Matthews, Barbara Clark, Judy Brown, and Betty Boyd arrange the centerpiece.

Lower right—This pleasing group lead our school social service organization. Left to right—Rita Hogg, corresponding secretary; Lynn Wilson, treasurer; Carol Unrau, recording secretary; Viva Johnson, vice-president; and Jean Schroeder, president.

Inspired by their sponsors, Mrs. Sybel Wiltshire and Miss Lucy Mulloy, the Nautilae girls took part in the Spring Carnival at which they earned a profit for the P.T.A. through their sale of brownies.

Under the leadership of Jean Schroeder, their fall president, Nautilae presented its annual Christmas Ball which included, as a new feature, an alumni basketball game. The gala success of this social event reflected the careful planning that is involved in every activity undertaken by the club.

At the beginning of each semester, Nautilae has a tea for the new girls in the school, searching out possible new members and making newcomers feel wanted in their new home of learning.

The Shore Line

Upper—Ruth Kopel, Alan Gross, Ed Berman, and Myra Rubenstein, of the Shore Line Business Staff, are puzzling over a suspected debit! A second shot would have shown that they had found their error!

Center—Flash! Don Keith and Jerry Kalish take pictures of Mr. Emil Firestone, the Tide photographer, as Idele Margolis, Anita Robin, Leta Blumberg, and Rita Hogg look on.

Lower—"Man bites dog" is the headline of the day! Interested Shore Line reporters, Carole Sanger, Jane Lagen, Dorothy Dale, Susy Saperston, and Marianne Casey protect Muffins from Ernie Gershon, the culprit, during their interview.

A firm rock in the school foundation is the Shore Line staff, whose job is that of constantly meeting deadlines. Between these deadlines the literary staff members, backed by Mr. John Carroll and under the direction of the editor-in-chief, accomplish the many tasks that go into the making of the paper.

First, assignment sheets are sent out. Then the staff spends untold hours writing copy, inventing original headlines, reading proof, and editing. The paper, which comes out every two or three weeks (usually a total of seven issues per semester), is well known in the city as an excellent high school production, both for news and make-up.

"Copy! Copy!"

Upper—Assisting Mr. Carroll in planning an issue are June Editor-in-Chief Ethel Kyros; January Sports Editor George Adinamis; January Feature Editor Roger Baskes; and January Editor-in-Chief Laurel Cohn.

Lower left—Judy Brill, Hank Green, Ernest Gershon, Sheldon Getzug, and Kayleen Rosenston dash off to collect subscriptions.

Lower right—Is the question, "Dummy, dummy! Who has the dummy?" Perhaps Bob Quinn, Lois Blum, or Yvonne Seadin could supply the answer.

An organization quite separate from the word-minded literary staff is the money handling business staff of accountants, advertising men, and division representatives. The business sponsor is Mr. William Kooistra, who divides his time between Shore Line ledgers and the chalk and slide rule of his math classes.

Working together, the two branches make the Shore Line a truly American and typically South Shore creation, one of which every student in the school may truly be proud. The combined staffs celebrate the success of their undertaking at the conclusion of each semester in a luncheon during which the next year's staff is announced.

The Tide Staffs

Upper: Noel Wyandt, Harold Klawans, Charlene Bennett, Dave Nimz, and Marilyn Moore have the difficult task of choosing which pictures will go into The Tide.

Center: Catch! Bud Schencker tosses duplicates and discards to Lois Blum, while Iris Levy, Laurie Pachman, and Beryl Ragins check and sort pictures.

Lower: Lola Einbund and Nancy Rich seem to be amused by the photographer's suggestion for the captions of a picture, but Arnold Passman isn't quite sure he agrees.

As the sands mark the changing whims of the sea, so does the yearbook record the living history of South Shore High School.

Newcomers to the staff add new blood to the flow of ideas each year. These ideas mold the character of The Tide.

The main aspects of the work of compiling the yearbook are covered by the three staffs of students and their faculty advisers. The picture staff, under the guidance of Miss Amy Mackie, and the literary staff, under the direction of Miss Nelle Groh, work together to produce the finished product. The business staff, under the supervision of Mrs. Gertrude Rice, manages the budgetary needs of the yearbook.

United, these groups form an able working unit that produces a record of the activities of the South Shore students.

For the Common Cause

Upper: Rosemary McMahon prepares the flash gun for the photographer, while Dorna MacIntyre and Jean Schroeder assist with bulbs. Barbara Lewis and Janet Bacon check the picture lists.

Lower left: Evelyn Fink types captions for The Tide while Dick Jaffee, Jack Marks, and Joel Miller watch.

Lower right: Busily involved in balancing her ledgers is Lois Brooks, Tide business manager, ably assisted by Barbara Rappaport and Lois Hirsch.

Organizing The Tide is a year round job. The staff begins work in September, trying to choose an appropriate and original theme.

With the theme decided upon, the Picture Staff plans the photographs which will further develop the ideas suggested by the theme.

After the photographer has completed the pictures, the difficult task of assembling and captioning them is begun by the Literary Staff. Theirs is the job of writing and fitting the copy into the space designated by the engraver.

This year the staff was headed by Rosemary McMahon, editor-in-chief, and Barbara Lewis, literary editor. Members added to the staff this semester were Dori Appel, Sue Boyle, Jane Dinges, Leah Feld, Henry Green, Duchess Loughran, Robert Mitgang, Robert Quinn, and Sharon Pinch.

Parent-Teacher Association

For the student of a former generation to meet his parents in school meant usually one thing—trouble. Mother was on her way to the office, or she wouldn't be in school!

The presence of parents in South Shore on various occasions during the school year of the present day is symbolic of something else—the fact that the school is a part of the everyday working community, that teachers and parents work together in the development of the students' minds and personalities.

If students come to school to learn about the adult world, parents also come to regular and well-planned monthly meetings to learn through lectures, movies and discussions the proper approach to that wonder of nature, "the juvenile mind," on current social topics and problems.

Row one: Mrs. Gertrude Neal, auditing committee.

On Carnival Night, Dr. and Mrs. Brown pause for refreshments served by Mrs. Rothberg and Mrs. Greenawalt.

Row two: Mrs. Harold Crawford, Citizenship Committee chairman; Mrs. Donald Knowles, Health Committee chairman; Mrs. Donald Tiffany, historian.

Row three: Mrs. Herbert Binswanger, Social Committee chairman; Mrs. Wallace Shropshire, Hospitality Committee chairman; Mrs. D. J. Pachman, Legislation Committee chairman.

Row four: Mrs. H. G. Hieronimus, parliamentarian; Mrs. Ray Freeark, semester representative; Mrs. E. J. Ranfranz, High School Service Commitee chairman.

They Work in Our Behalf

Row one—Back to the 1890's go the P.T.A. fathers on Carnival Night to give their version of the "William Tell Overture." They are Mr. Edward Ernstein, Mr. James Dunlop, Dr. Seymore Warady, Mr. Walter Allen, Mr. Earle Edwards, Mr. Harold Osier, Mr. E. L. Rich, and Mr. Raymond Smith.

Mrs. Andrew Unrau is president.

Row two—Mrs. H. C. Aufderhaar, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Lyman Moore, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. E. L. Rich, 3rd vice-president.

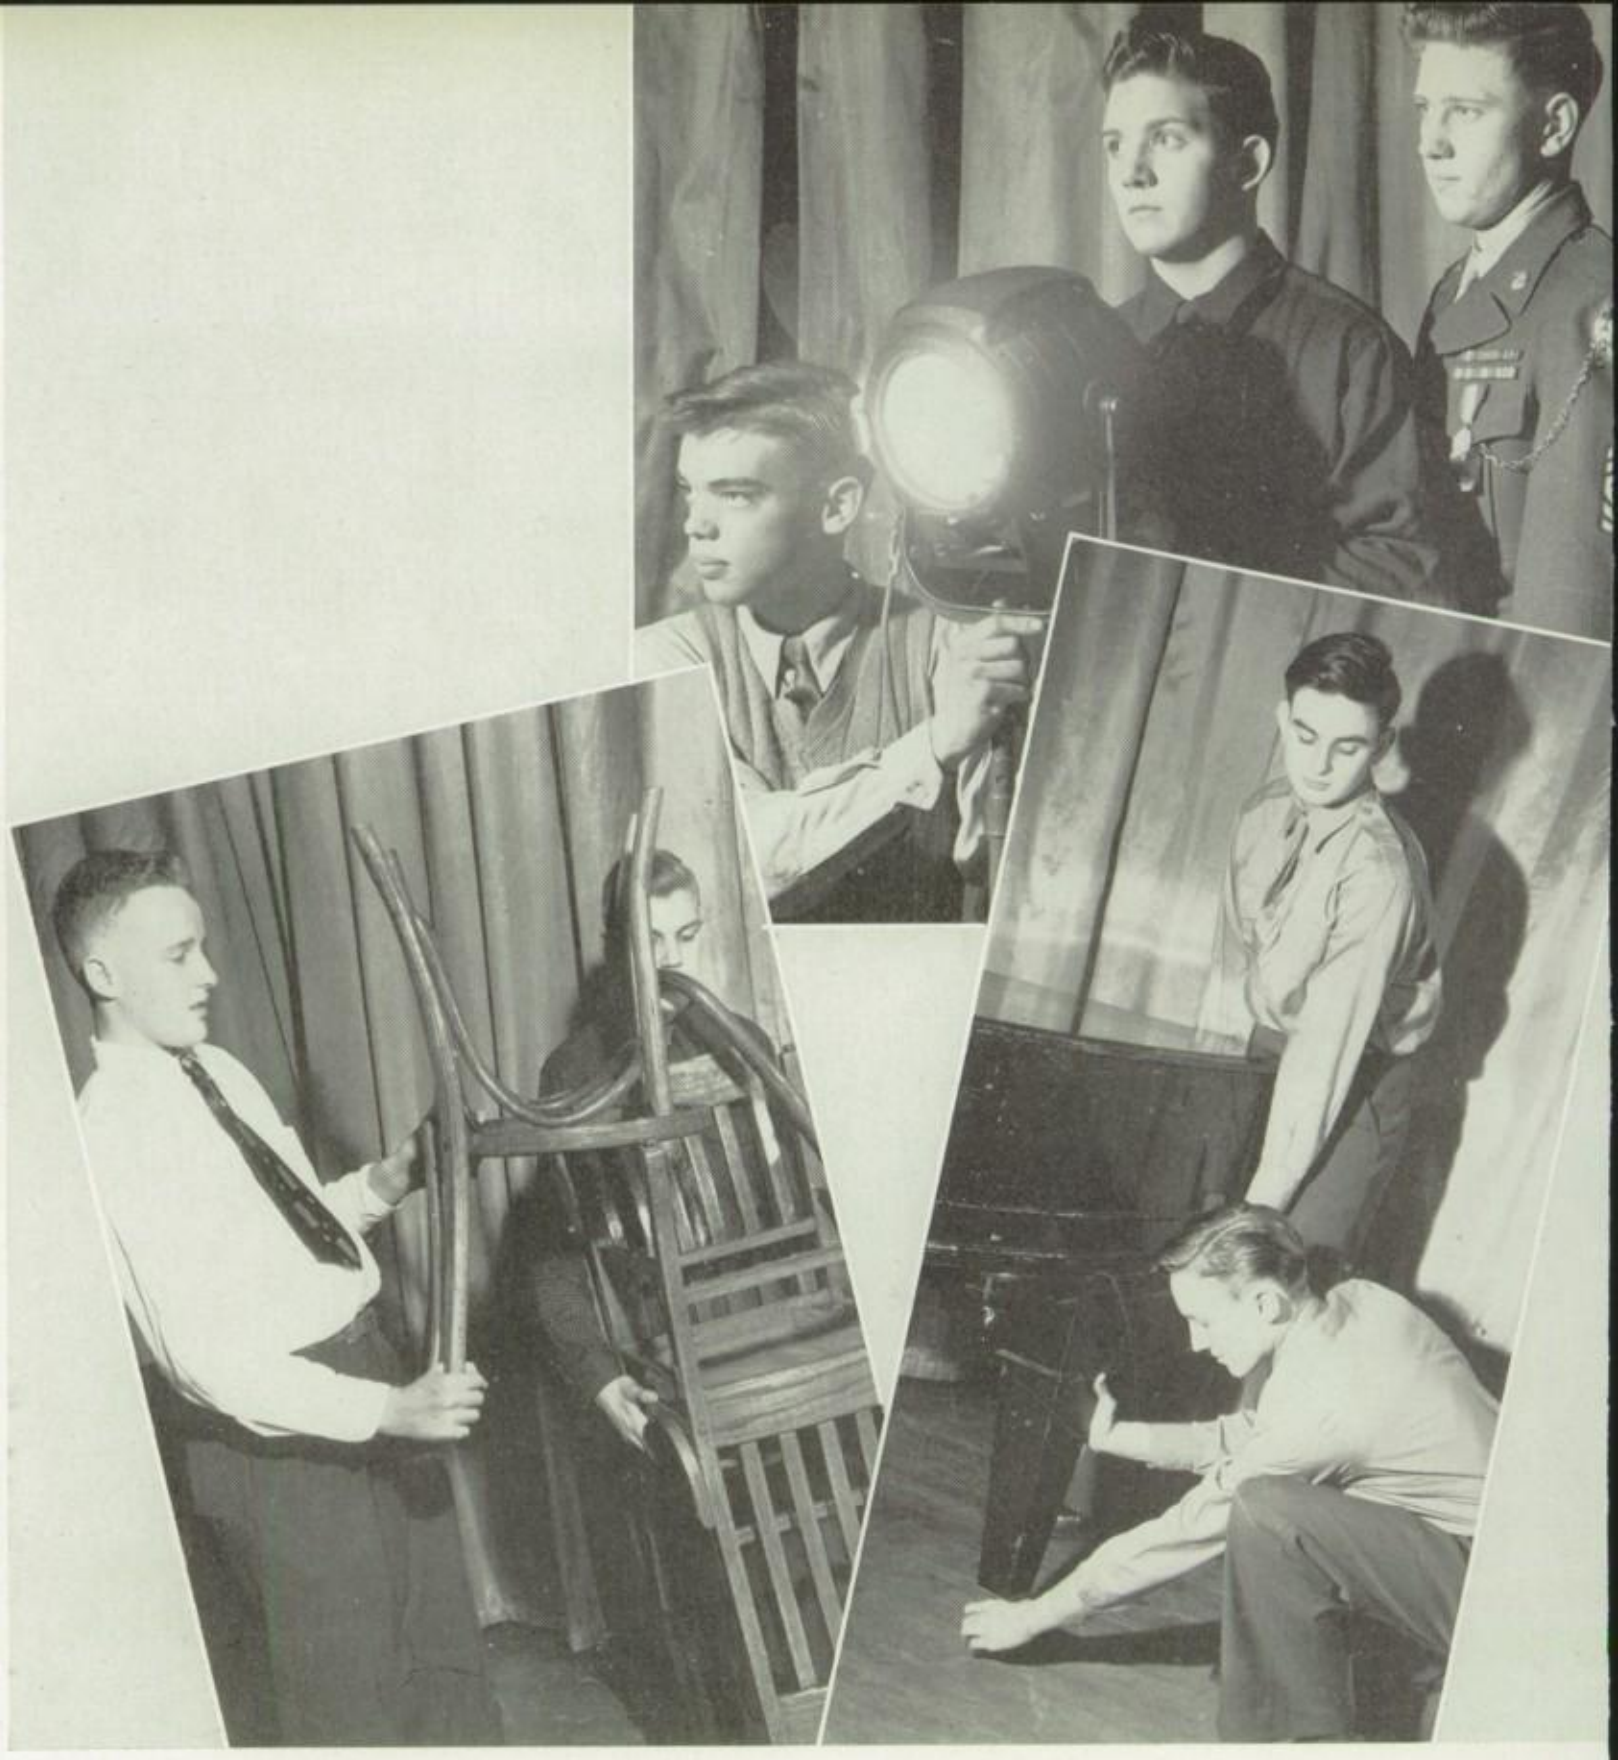
Row three—Mr. John Carroll, 4th vice-president; Mrs. Elmer Elgin, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Charles MacKimm, treasurer.

Row four—Mrs. L. E. Baugh, delegate to H. S. Council; Mrs. D. Holmes Wilson, delegate to H. S. Council; Mrs. James Dunlop, delegate to H. S. Council.

Parents of South Shore students have always shown an interest and enthusiasm in adding to what the basic school program can give their youngsters. This enthusiasm has shown itself this year under President Mrs. Andrew Unrau in a very large and very responsive membership, in the popularity of the autumn Fathers' Night, in the Spring Carnival when ninety-two parents co-operated with teachers and students to enrich the school to an amount exceeding $2400.

An innovation this year has been the organization of a Parents' Athletic Booster Club under Mr. James C. Grindey, which will foster local interest in school teams.

In the spring, the P.T.A. gives a luncheon where the mothers "stay in the kitchen" for the day and fete the teachers.



Upper—Putting the "Spot" on one of South Shore's talented performers are Ed Ellinghausen, Don Will, and Tom Ferry.

Lower left—Tom Browning adds another chair to Vic Winquist's seemingly "light" load as they prepare the stage for a panel discussion.

Lower right—Glenn Harris is a tower of strength as Wally Engle puts a finishing touch to the Stage Crew's piano-moving assignment.

Stage Crew

The Stage Crew are truly the unsung heroes of South Shore. The group is in charge of the preparation of all materials necessary for school assemblies, P.T.A. meetings, and any other special programs. They are responsible for the maintenance of all the equipment back stage and in the projection booth. Tom Ferry, Glenn Harris, and Wally Engle have received letters for outstanding service.

The present manager is Tom Browning. His assistant is Edgar Ellinghausen.

To become a member of the stage crew, one must be either in 2B or 2A and maintain a "G" average. If one has these prerequisites, he is interviewed by the older members of the group. The sole decision of acceptance rests with them. Letters are awarded after three years of service. The sponsor of the group is Mr. John O'Connor.

Curtain Going Up!

Members of the Freshman Drama Club met in their spare time last semester to study, present, and discuss famous plays. They were sponsored by Mrs. Collette Bird, Drama and English teacher.

These ambitious students were not without creative imagination, for they themselves wrote and produced plays for their own enjoyment.

After becoming acquainted with the styles of various playwrights and their different philosophies, the young dramatists enjoyed analyzing them with critical and open minds.

Few members will make a career of stage acting or become critics or playwrights; all of them will have a little deeper insight and just a little more appreciation for the drama than those who struggle to understand and enjoy it by themselves.

Upper: Lance Lawson, student director of the Freshman Drama Club, explains the finest points of the classic play, Romeo and Juliet, to Richard Halpert, Bennett Lentczner, Sara Moore, Rose Ann Golber, and Allan Stewart.

Center: Richard Halpert, president of the Drama Club, reads a new play to Sara Moore, treasurer, and Ray Elias, vice-president, for their approval.

Lower: "To use or not to use?" is the question bothering Drama Club Members Bennett Lentczner, Rose Ann Golber, Lance Lawson, and Ray Elias.

Junior Mixed Chorus

The Junior Mixed Chorus channels its attention toward music appreciation and preparation for the Senior Mixed Chorus. It also promotes duets, trios, and quartets.

Its schedule this year has been a busy one. The members have gone caroling and have sung for the P.T.A.

On Carnival Night they presented colorful skits in "Holiday Time."

Upper left—Industriously sorting music are Elliott Stiegel, Laurie Pachman, Gerrie Owen, Joan Piowaty, and Miriam Factor.

Upper right—Putting their hearts and souls into song are Joan Brown, Pat Rose, Pepper Blackwood, Dennis Netherton, and Les Davis.

Lower—Members of the Mixed Chorus, Joan Pagenkopf, Lois Rosenberg, and Elayne Caro, listen attentively to a duo-piano selection played by Curtis Coutts and Bob Hechler.

Senior Mixed Chorus

To be a member of the Senior Mixed Chorus is a great honor. Mrs. Frances Witting, the director of the chorus, guides the group in its preparation for performances at P.T.A. meetings, assemblies, and evening affairs. The chorus entertains the students at Christmas time by caroling in the halls.

During the spring semester, the chorus presented "Holiday Time" on Carnival Night.

Upper—Harry Oppenheimer and Leta Blumberg play a duet for the pleasure of Judy Ansick, Gerrie Barzinski, Ben Butler, and Minnette Kalmikoff.

Center—The cream of the crop, Senior Mixed Chorus's quartette and trio, render an old favorite, one of the last they will sing together.

Row one—Dorothy Dale, Marcia Crawford, Barbara Clark.

Row two—Bob Nielsen, Bruce Aufderhaar, Fred Aron, Jim Lundergan.

Lower—Senior Mixed Chorus President Jack Johnson discusses plans for a talent show with Doris Smith, John Barker, and Mary Ann DiSylvester.

Let There Be Song

Upper—Does it or does it not fit? Barbara Lewis will soon have the answer for Janice McGregor, Sandra Newman, Diane Kulwin, and Muriel Fine, who anxiously await the verdict.

Center—Admiring these works of art painted by South Shore students and hanging in 320 are Sue Ominsky, Louise Elley, Joyce Rosenblatt, Nancy Edelstein, and Claude Netherton.

Lower—Awaiting their cue, Senior Mixed Chorus members Carol Janisch, Joan Rutt, Jean Muir, Don Miller, Sue Glenn, and Herbert Albert gather around Pianist Grace Berberian and Bill Carlson.

Besides its daily program of music and song, the Senior Mixed Chorus engages in various school extra-curricular activities. The girls in the group have organized a volley ball team which won the championship of the G.A.A. Inter-club Tournament.

Yearly, on Carnival Night, the entire chorus presents one of its famous musical shows which are always a great attraction. At other times the chorus takes part in, or is the backbone of the many shows that the school sponsors.

The guiding lights this semester are Claude Netherton, president; Diane Kulwin, vice-president; Eileen Hochberger, secretary; and Jerry Thurman, treasurer.

They Are the Music Makers

The Senior Mixed Chorus, which meets daily in Room 320 under the direction of Mrs. Frances McCourt Witting, not only sings for its own pleasure, but also renders innumerable services to the school.

The members can always be counted on to perform at various functions and have been heard at P.T.A. meetings, Memorial Day programs, Social Center Dances, Freshie Orientation assemblies, and neighborhood music festivals.

Singly, the members have performed on Morris B. Sachs' Amateur Hour, Ruben's Stars of Tomorrow, and at various other functions in the city.

Upper — "Put your right foot out," and that's just what the Senior Mixed Chorus kick line are doing. Left to right—Marianne Casey, Lynn Wernecke, Diane Brodine, Florence Strand, Magdeline Lamperis, Marilyn Williams, Marilyn Edwards, Mary Ann Hickman, Phyllis Mintz, and Carol Unrau.

Center — Catch the angelic looks on the faces of Judy Brill, Dave Birkner, June Crawford, Louis Keith, Betty Roemer, and Jim Giltmier as they practice their Christmas caroling.

Lower — Only Fred Waring's unequaled recordings could produce that look of intense concentration on the faces of Barbara Schwartz, Mary Stuart, Don Gibbs, Margaret Lewis, and Joyce Bechtel.

"The Music Plays"

Upper—"On your toes!" and that's exactly where Joyce Slou is as Joanne Hayes, Ruth Carlson, Beverly Beer, and Judy Parker watch her admiringly.

Lower—Suzanne Wall displays her outstanding talent to an admiring group consisting of Nancy Shupe, Mary Trevelyan, Ada Brown, and Barbara Brown.

Right—"Through the Looking Glass" peep members of the Girls' Chorus. They are Myrna Salomon, Virginia Hill, Virginia Daniel, and Kay Prescott.

The Junior Girls' Chorus, sponsored by Miss Agatha Long, has done a creditable job during the school year by exhibiting the talents (musical and otherwise) that have made this group one of the most accomplished and successful organizations at South Shore.

In addition to providing entertainment for South Shore students at Student Service League and special assemblies, for parents and faculty at P.T.A. meetings, and for their mothers at the annual Mother-Daughter tea, the girls did a spectacular job of entertaining the entire community on Carnival Night through their presentation of Black Face Jamboree, a minstrel show. Costumed and made up as vaudeville minstrels, the girls also demonstrated some of their talents at the Orientation Assembly given for the incoming freshmen in May.

Upper—Doris Soderberg tries on a pair of gloves as Janis Kornafel, Joanne Dahl, and Shirley Johnson try to sell her pennants.

Lower left—Happy over the treasurer's records are Junior Girls' Chorus officers. They are Beryl Ragins, secretary; Janet Howard, treasurer; Barbara Midkiff, president; and Shirley Layman, vice-president.

Lower right—Pretty as a picture are Shirley Layman, Barbara Midkiff, Lois Kornafel, and Mary Lou Marrs, quartette.

Junior Girls' Chorus

One of the traditions of the chorus is the initiation of new members. On initiation day, each new girl must wear a white blouse with a dark skirt, her hair in an upsweep with a large bow, and one green, one blue sock. If asked what she is pledging for, she must answer with a saying of the famous Metropolitan Opera star, Lotte Lehmann.

Large pictures of members engaged in various chorus activities decorate the walls of Room 121. Many of the special events for which the chorus has sung are represented in these pictures, as well as some of the group's past officers and soloists.

The accompanist of the Junior Girls' Chorus, Sue Wall, has distinguished herself not only through work with Miss Long's group, but also through her participation in many contests in Chicago and other cities.

The officers of the semester ending in June were Lynn Wilson, president; Barbara Brown, vice-president; Ruth Carlson, secretary; and Beryl Ragins, treasurer.

Senior Girls' Chorus

Upper: The Senior Girls' Chorus are always in season. Right now it's Christmas carols. In row one are Dot Bloom, Jackie Barzinski, and Mary Rose Gleason. Row two includes Marilyn Moore, Cathie King, Bobbie Hoenle, and Lillian Powers.

Center: Efforts to beautify Room 121 are made by Margaret McConaghey and Arlene Imbrowicz, who are hanging pictures. Bea Piotrowski and Rita Hogg sort photographs while Ceil Murphy offers advice.

Lower: Jeannetta Girault, Sonya Meyer, Jane Lagen, Shirley Nelson, and Madonna North listen dreamily as Aleda Peters plays her accordion.

Because their participation in programs is so willing and so frequent, proper credit is seldom given to the members of the Senior Girls' Chorus, who are song birds all year 'round. Although their ordinary duties are many, the girls always seem to find time to sing for mothers at P.T.A. meetings, to join the Open House activities, and annually to sponsor a Mother-Daughter Tea. This last activity, they feel, shows mothers how the members spend their time and what values such training may have for the future.

The sponsor, Miss Agatha Long, wants her girls to learn to appreciate music while the school learns to appreciate the girls.

"With a Song in Their Hearts"

The Seniors Girls' Chorus meets every day, second period, in Room 121. Though it meets early in the morning, the girls are always wide awake when it comes to singing.

During the summer months, the Chorus serenades the school because the windows are open and their songs are heard in most class rooms.

Among the members are several people who excel in other fields. Aleda Peters plays the accordion, while Norma Hawkinson and Jackie Buchsbaum have been the accompanist for seven semesters. The Slou sisters and Alice Schwebke have danced for several assemblies.

One of the popular activities of the Chorus during the semester is the presentation of student programs each month.

At the Award Assembly this semester, 28 of the graduates received letters for distinguished service for two semesters or more of participation in the Chorus.

Upper: Officers of the Senior Girls' Chorus, standing at the piano, are Lois Kornafel, president; Lynn Wilson, secretary; Norma Hawkinson, vice-president; and Sally Blades, treasurer.

Center: Studying the entertainment chart in 121 are Jackie Southman, Helen Stefan, Dolores Ericcson, Helen Daleanes, and Dolores Roberts.

Lower: Judging from the rapt expressions on the faces of Jackie Buchsbaum, Yvonne Seadin, Beth Busschaert, Anita Zoller, and Joan Phillips, that record they're listening to must be pure music by the angels!

Upper—First chair in the woodwind section is held by Clarinetist Dan Goldsmith. Others in row one are Jim Letsos, who also plays the clarinet; Lois Holt, an oboe artist; Robert McLeod, who performs on the bass clarinet; and Ron Ratcliff, a saxophone player. In row two are Charles Shannon, a flute player; Peter Abrams, basoonist; and Dick Tapley, bass clarinetist.

Center—John Miller and Ed Mazure play their tubas while Al Bougher concentrates on his music.

Lower—In row one of the brass section are Ray Overholt, Harold Billings, Sheldon Getzug. Row two includes Joe Gray, Sandy Jacobson, and Phil Bransky.

"The Band Played On"

"And the band played on" under the leadership of its musically adept officers. For the June semester these officers consisted of Ricky Doody, president; Robert McLeod, vice-president; Frances Smet, treasurer; and Ann Weston, secretary.

Lesser, but nevertheless necessary, notes in the world of South Shore's band are their librarians, Frances Smet and Hazel Black, as well as the band managers, Joe Womble and Joe Gray.

Not to be forgotten is Mr. Gorbach, teacher, sponsor, and director of this organization.

From Bach to Be-Bop

"And the South Shore Band will now play." These words have been heard many times during the past two semesters. The band has played for P.T.A. meetings and for student programs. During Carnival Night the band presented its own show. The band also played for Orientation Day and the Award Assemblies.

Under the direction of Mr. Gorbach, the band gave two demonstration concerts at the Bradwell and Bryn Mawr Grammar Schools.

At the end of the semester, the South Shore Band leads the graduates down the aisle, completing its melodious year, full of enjoyment, hard work, rehearsals, and, of course, music.

Upper—Clarinet players are, in row one: Peter Abrams, Janice Eichhorn, Carol Condee, Charles Greene.

Row two—Jim Letsos, Ann Weston, Joseph Womble, Dick Tapley, Jim Malkus.

Row three—Joe Appel, Dan Goldsmith.

Center—Here comes the South Shore Dance Band! Larry Stone directs Sandy Jacobson, Harold Billings, and Sheldon Getzug in the front row; Ronald Ratcliff, Mac Jolly, Dave Einbinder in the second row; and John Mizanin in the last row.

Lower—Artistry in percussion is demonstrated by Paul Newberger, Bob Kirchner, Carol Watson, all of whom play snares; Guy Manaster, drummer; and Milton Levinberg, tympanist.

Bookroom and Storeroom Aides

Pencils and politics mix happily in Mr. Artman's storeroom. Here are kept paste, paper, pencils, tape, chalk,—anything that the teachers may wish to use. From their ladder-top perches the aides distribute the supplies listed on requisitions, and the argument usually gets hot, as hot, in fact, as the windowless storeroom itself.

The traffic in books is always heavy, but only at the beginning and end of the semester

Upper—Sandra Venzer, Helene Padden, and Elaine Berman help "Doc" Artman take inventory in the supply room.

Lower—Bob Quinn and Mrs. Wiltshire cheerfully do their task in checking in books.

are the greatest number of books on the shelves. The science books reach the ceiling, the language books pack the space below the work table, and the English books stand four and five deep on the shelves on one side of the room.

Mrs. Greene, Mrs. Wiltshire, and their aides are always busy keeping records, taking inventory, supervising book withdrawals, and handling lost and found books.

Upper—Don Zehme displays his stamp collection to Howard Meyers, Adrian Fox, Richard Myers, and Leroy Brown, fellow members of the Stamp Club.

Philatelists and Office Aides

The South Shore Stamp Club which was organized in 1948, has celebrated its hundredth meeting. The object of the club is to promote that "king" of hobbies, stamp collecting. Under the sponsorship of Miss Caroline Swanson, the club has many activities. Discussions, exhibitions, and help for beginning collectors are a part of every meeting. Committees obtain new issues at face value and auctions are held at which stamps are sold; a reference library has been made available for all members.

"Who put the bulletin in Mrs. Arthur's box?

"'It was I,' quoth an office aide, while tugging at her locks!"

This little poem describes one of the many duties of the Office Aides. In addition to putting the bulletins in the mail boxes, the aides also sort the mail and packages for the different departments. They deliver messages throughout the school and see that the absence lists are distributed.

Lower—That's Phyllis Galnick demonstrating the new electric mimeograph machine to Office Aides Carol Vandersee, Carol Unrau, Donna Davis, and Doris Lee.

We Co-operate With Others and Build Happy Memories

Upper—Master Sergeants Robert Robinson (center) and William Bonham (second from left) explain a map to a group of cadet officers consisting of Cadet Capt. Wililam Olsen, Cadet Lt. Donald Keith, Cadet Maj. Donald Yovich, and Cadet Capt. John Tontsch.

Lower—Cadet Capt. William Olsen, Cadet Maj. Donald Yovich, and Cadet Capt. John Tontsch present the Picked Platoon for review.

Reserved Officers' Training Corps

The R.O.T.C. graduate must not only be able to lead his platoon in peace or war; he must have acquired elements of moral fitness and the desire to help and inspire his fellows that will mark him for leadership in any community. If he is thoroughly trained, he will be the man to rely on, the one to respect in danger or in calm.

There is a place in this world, an important place, for the R.O.T.C. graduate. Where leaders are needed, the R.O.T.C. will have produced such leaders, men who will be masters of both the gun and the olive branch which comprise the Great Seal of the United States.

Military Strategists

In addition to strictly military drills, the R.O.T.C. takes time off for demonstrations and just downright fun. Parades on Memorial Day, Armistice Day, Cadet Day, and Armed Forces Day always have the marching feet of South Shore's platoons. Impressive is the word for the R.O.T.C.'s manual of arms and guarding of the Colors.

When Federal Inspection ends, the cadets break ranks, form teams, and play baseball for the remainder of the semester. Sports, coupled with the rifle matches, make for both exercises and good times.

Upper—Planning sand table strategy are Cadet Lt. Robert Cook, Cadet Lt. Warren Kneis, Cadet Capt. Steve Zachary, Cadet Lt. Terry Wilson, Cadet Lt. Claude Netherton, Cadet Capt. Ronald Ringenberg, and Cadet Lt. James Letsos.

If the Bugle Calls

Throughout its history, the Reserve Officers' Training Corps has always taught that patriotism is to be prized; that honor, integrity, and faithful performance of duty are to be valued above all personal advantage.

In March of each year the high schools of Chicago hold their annual competition to select the best trained platoon of the year. This year South Shore's Picked Platoon triumphed over all other schools in the South Side district. This is the tenth year South Shore has entered this competition.

These and other honors have brought an extra shine to the buttons of South Shore's cadets. South Shore is a much respected unit, and its insignia is one of champions.

Upper—Cadet Capt. William Olsen instructs First Platoon Company A in a map reading.

Lower—Cadet Major Don Yovich demonstrates first aid to members of the First Platoon.

The Sound of Fire

Upper—Cadet Allen Irwin shows Cadet Sgt. First Class David Rosenberg how to use a bazooka while Second Platoon Company B look on.

Lower—Second Platoon of Company A practice disassembling M-1 rifles.

In May, the annual Federal Inspection of Chicago's R.O.T.C. units is held to determine the best trained unit in all subjects relating to R.O.T.C. studies. South Shore has continuously shown the excellent training it has received from its commanding officers. In 1951 South Shore's R.O.T.C. was again chosen as an Honor Unit.

Since the arrival of Sgt. Robinson and Sgt. Bonham, South Shore's R.O.T.C. activities have greatly increased. One example of this is the recent compass course planned by the Sergeants and the unit's commanding officers.

Varsity Football

Lower left—Ron Bowker, Red Myers, and Pete Stoneham show why the South Shore line withstood enemy charges.

Lower right—Two fine ends, Quentin Ruchte and Gene Natzke, set to rush down field.

The tireless Tars had one of the toughest schedules in the city this year. Although the team lacked experience and depth of reserves, they needed no alibis.

Only two regulars returned from last year's varsity eleven. This lack of seasoned players posed a problem. The boys, still determined and courageous, worked hard, and soon the huge gaps in the line and backfield closed up.

The first practice game with Battle Creek found South Shore losing on the scoring end, but gaining valuable experience which helped them overpower the Morgan Park Military eleven, a team which has proved too tough for the Tars for the past three years. The soldier boys were held scoreless as the Tars pushed over six big points.

"Our Team Will Fight"

After the league opener against Bowen ended in a heart-breaking 6 to 8 loss, the Tars showed their real strength as they trounced once feared Calumet, 25-6. They continued on to crush their close rival, Hirsch, 19-0. Then in a thrilling contest with Morgan Park, the Tars boosted their morale when they surged over the goal line for 13 points in the last half, to come from behind and tie the game 13-13.

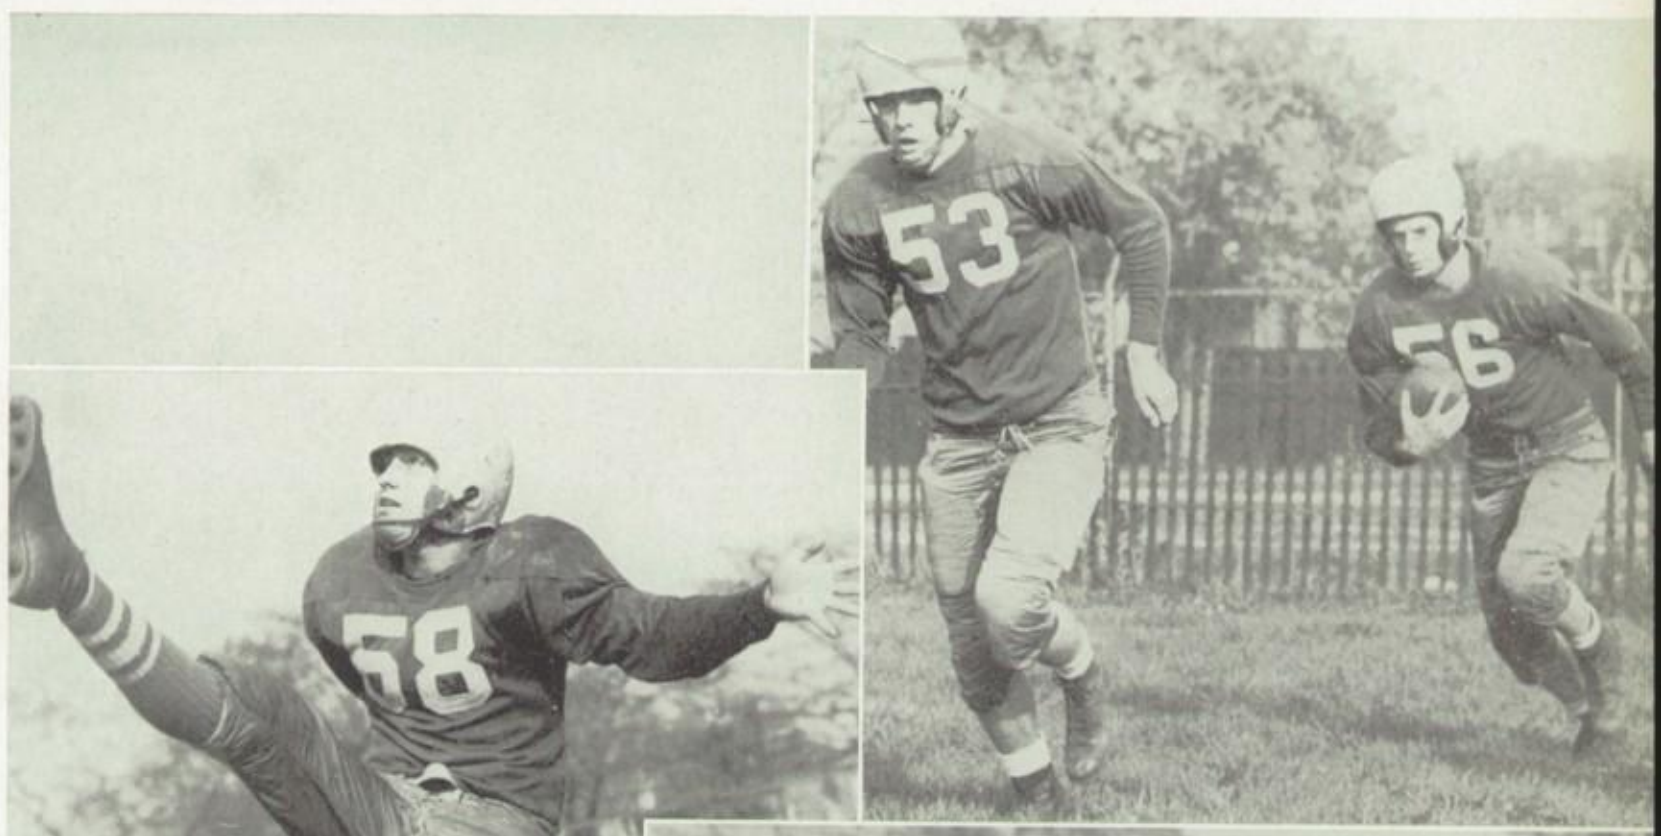
Sandwiched between these victories were losses to a terrific C.V.S. team and a great Fenger squad. The boys moved the ball well against C.V.S., but failed to stop the surging Navy and Gold. A blinding blizzard, which hindered the passing attack, enabled Fenger to come out on top of the Tars in the scoring column.

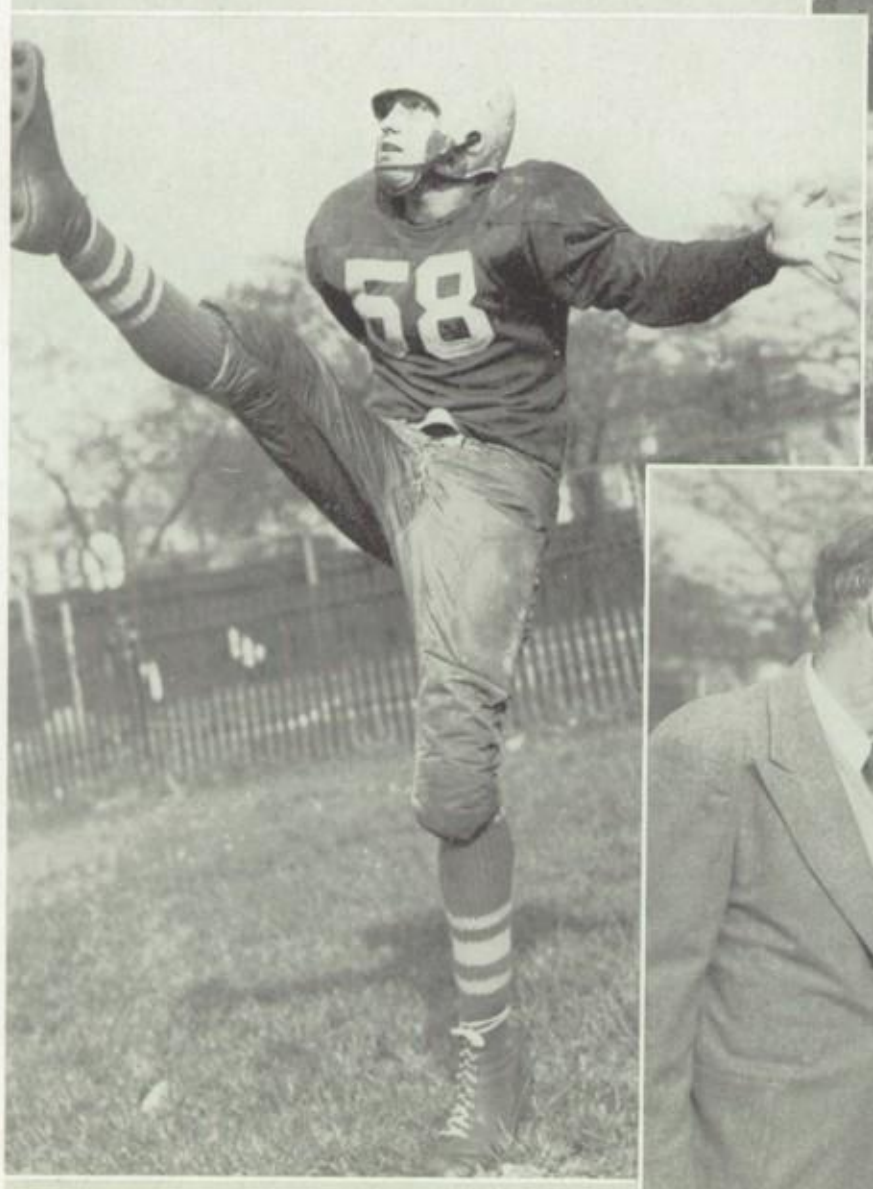
Always the highlight of the season is the annual Wagon Wheel Game. This year South Shore defeated Hyde Park 26-6 to retain the wheel.

Left—Ted Spieler gets away a long spiral.

Upper right—Les Johnson and Herman Kleiman dig hard in a pre-game warm-up.

Lower right—Coaches Maurice Williams and Ted Anderson give some last minute instructions to Captain Bud Schencker.





For the Blue and the Green

Upper—Hard-driving Tars gain seven yards through a tough Boilermaker line.

Center—Tar reserves are anxious to get in and dish it out.

Lower—Gene Natzke reaches in vain for a Tar aerial.

Every year coaches select the best players among the South Section teams.

Captain Bud Schencker, one of the finest passing quarterbacks South Shore has had, and Gene Natzke, speedy right end, were the two Tars to be named to the first team.

Quentin Ruchte, left end; Red Myers, hard driving center; Chuck Grunhard, right tackle; Ron Nylen, left tackle; and Les Johnson, tireless, battering fullback, were given honorable mention.

These were not the only bright spots, for a team consists of eleven men, all working and fighting together.

† Wagon Wheel Game

Frosh-Soph Football Team

Row one: Marshall Gonsky, Jerry Chambless, Earl Hagberg, Joe Kriechbaum, Dave Garretson, and Paul Migdal.

Row two: Richard Krooth, Don Sayer, Gordon Johnson, Bill Shropshire, Al Lorenc, Jerry Brown, Bob Chegwidden, and John Nickerson.

The late start last fall greatly hindered the chances of the Frosh-Soph team. Practice did not begin until the end of September, almost one month after the other schools had started.

Many boys showed promise, among them Captain Phil Conklin, quarterback; Earl Hagberg, Gordon Johnson, and Jim Connors, halfbacks; John Chelius, Dave Aggerholm, and Dan Garretson, linemen.

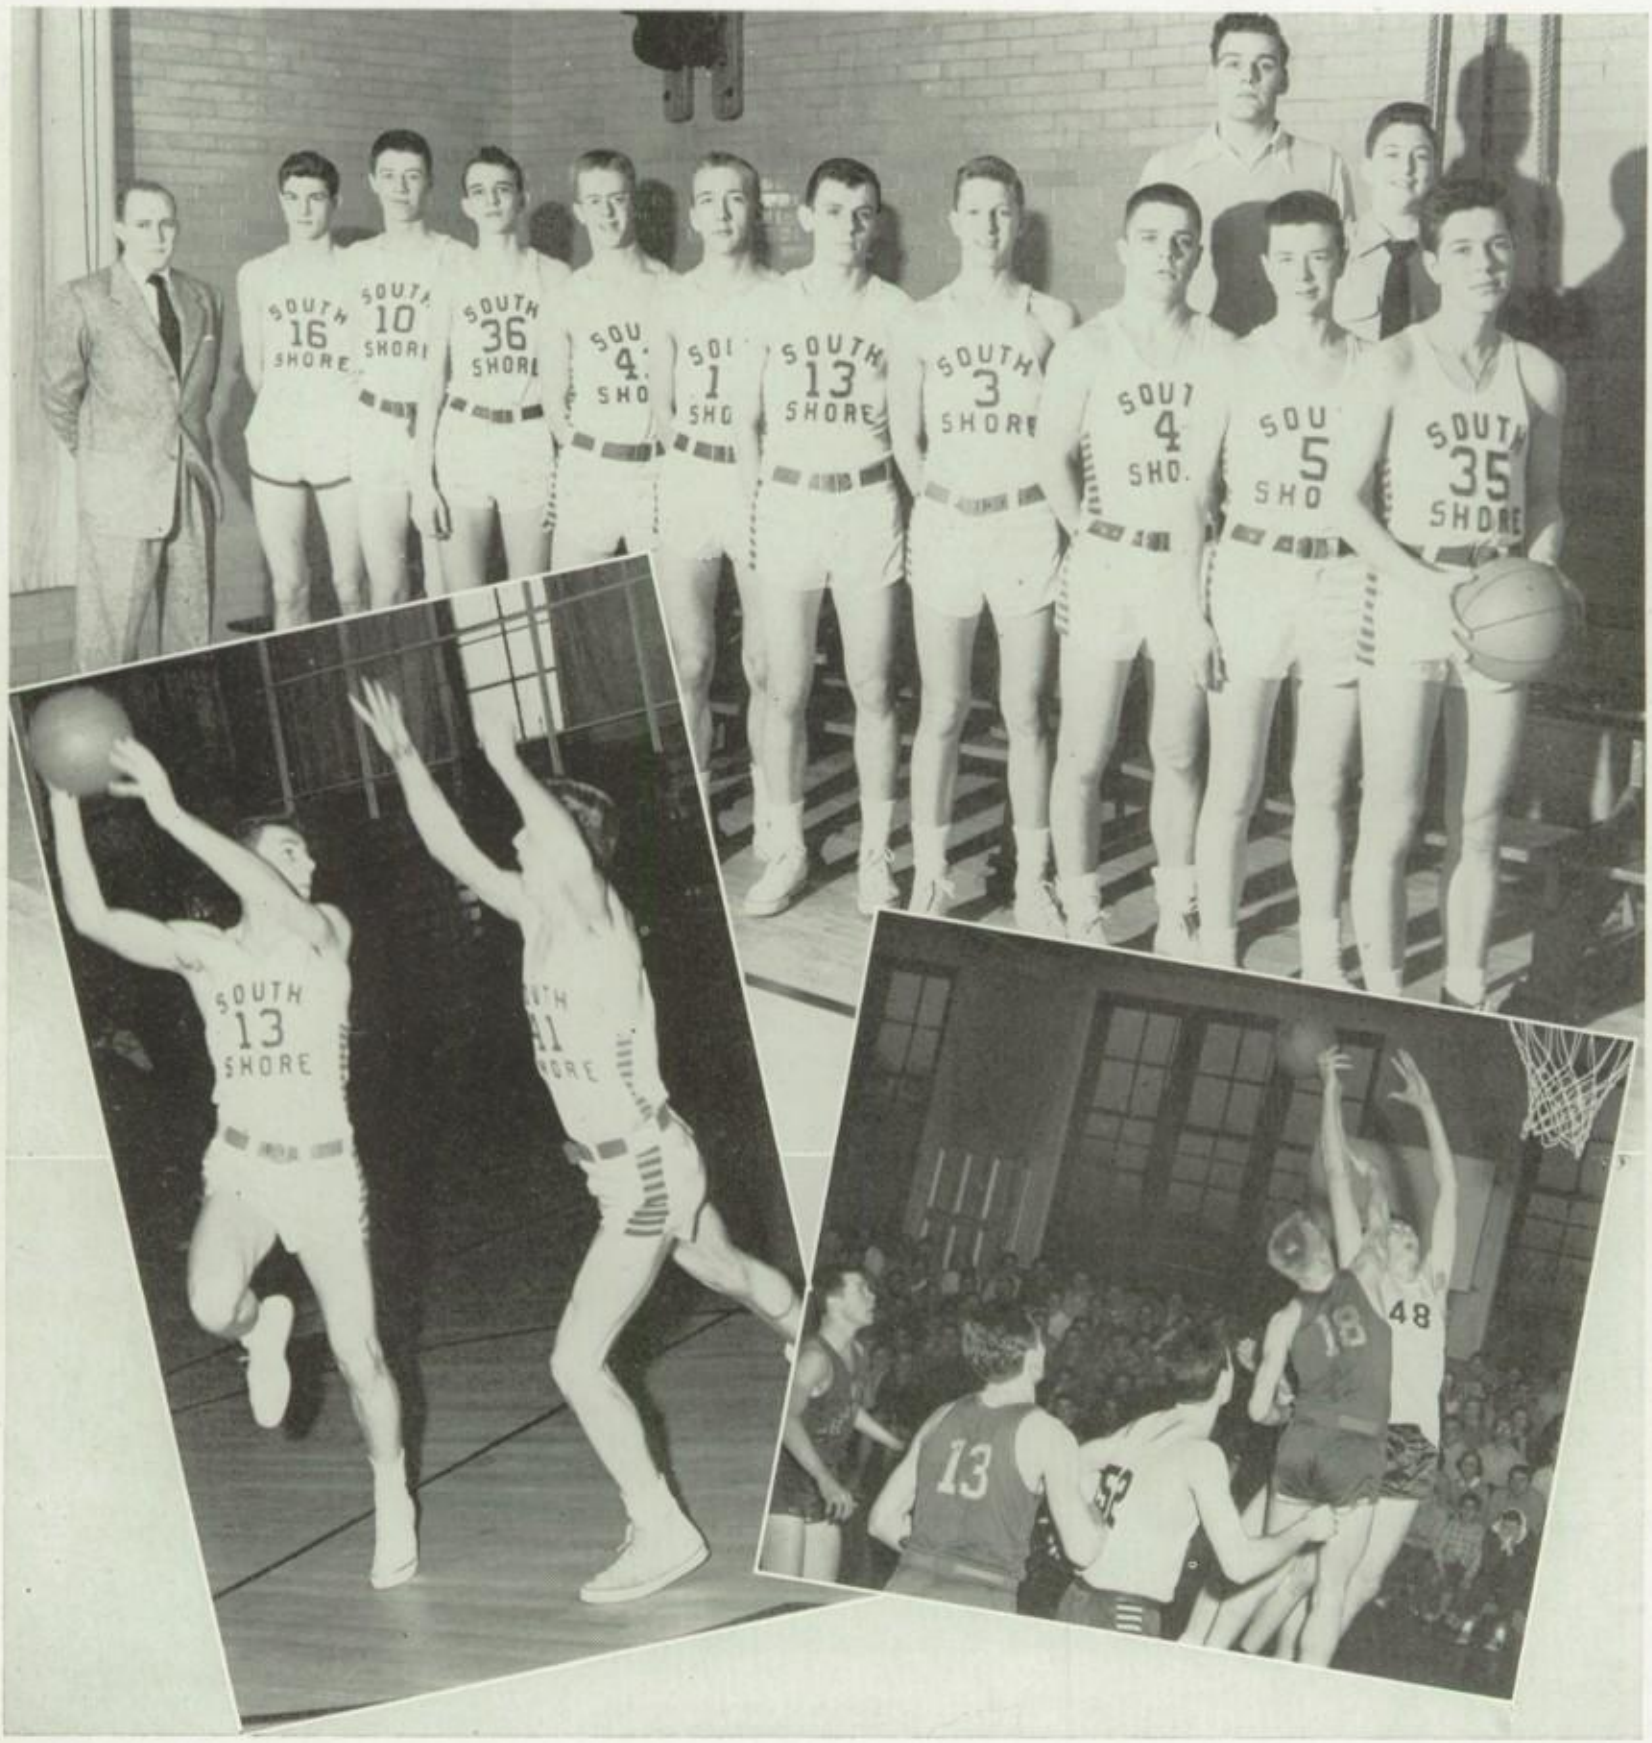
One of the highlights of last year's season was when 130 pound defense man, Dick Krooth, stopped a 240 pound Wendell Phillips quarterback. The big back had traveled 50 yards untouched when Dick stopped him.

Another high point came in the Bowen game. Joe Kriechbaum was playing defensive safety in loafers, having forgotten his football shoes. Joe intercepted a pass and ran 85 yards for a touchdown, but by the time he had crossed the goal line, he was running barefooted.

The Frosh-Soph team has always proved helpful in developing varsity stars. In the last two years, such stand-outs as Bernard Schencker, Les Johnson, Jim Lundergan, and Al Meyers have come up to the varsity from this team. Varsity Coach Maurice Williams recently said:

"We shall get just as many good players out of that last Frosh-Soph team as any other similar group we have ever had."

Senior Basketball Fighters



Row one: Coach Ted Anderson, Mike Merriman, Chuck Rubey, Joe LaGuess, Bob Reinert, Maynard Thompson, Walt Lencki, Ed Bood, Al Goss, Tom Neary, and Paul Mance.

Row two: Managers Herbert Albert and Lorry Greenberg.

Lower left: Bob Reinert tries in vain to block Walter Lencki's basket-bound hook shot.

Lower right: Tom Neary and Walter Lencki watch as Bob Reinert's tremendous leap aids him in blocking a Hirsch cager's shot.

Plagued by the lack of experience and height, the Seniors tried valiantly to stay in title contention in the South Section race. But the mid-term graduation of Eddie Randall made the task even more difficult.

The Tars acquired a three won and seven lost record, but they enjoyed some success in beating the neighborhood rival, Hyde Park.

As in years gone by, South Shore traveled down state to play many of the State's strongest quintets. In all these games the Tars proved to be tough competition for these more experienced teams.

They Never Gave Up

Left: Bob Reinert and three Hirsch cagers are left flat-footed as Ed Bood attempts a one-handed jump shot.

Upper right: Ed Bood is dazzled by Al Goss's drive for the basket.

Lower right: Sherwin Strauss and Al Goss, Junior and Senior captains respectively, get last minute instructions from Coach Anderson.

The Tars traveled to Kankakee to defend their Christmas Tournament title, but they were defeated by Hebron, the State champion. South Shore was outclassed, but they never gave up, thereby receiving the admiration of their fans even while going down to defeat.

Next season the Tars will miss their captain and stellar guard, Al Goss. Al received honorable mention on all star teams in the weekly polls conducted by the Chicago newspapers. With most of the squad returning, students can look forward to another highly successful team to carry on the South Shore tradition of winning.

Junior Cagers

Under the dynamic leadership of Coach Ted Anderson, South Shore's spunky cagers finished fifth in the South Section race. Coach Anderson replaced Coach Clarence Applegran when the latter became ill just before the season got under way. The new coach did a fine job with the material and green players he had on hand.

The league record of the "Little Tars" this past season was five won and five lost. This record is not really a true picture of the action. All the games were close and would have put the Juniors in title contention had they won.

The Tars' trouncing of their arch rivals to the north, Hyde Park's Indians, made what might have been an average season a triumphant one.

Row one of the Junior Tars includes Coach Ted Anderson, Howard Simon, Edward Berman, Kent Beauchamp, Don McGinnis, Mgr. Lorry Greenberg.

Row two — Jerry Friedman, Mark Lieberman, Fred Good, Jerry Goldman, and Sherwin Strauss.

Row three — Melvin Olshansky, Larry Cohen, Ed Sheridan, Henry Taylor.

Rear—Mgr. Herb Albert.

Lower left—As Ed Sheridan (left) dribbles around Larry Cohen, his puzzled expression brings a smile from the Tar guard.

Lower right — With a burst of speed Don McGinnis drives past his man and lays up a sure two pointer as the Tar opponents stand helplessly by.

Big Things in Small Packages

Many of the 1952 veterans will not be returning next year. Ed Berman, Kent Beauchamp, Jerry Goldman, and Howard Simon are all graduating from South Shore.

Returning for the 1953 season will be Larry Cohen, Hank Taylor, Don McGinnis, Fred Good, and Jerry Friedman. These players saw considerable action this past season and are ready to step into starting assignments next year.

With these prospects South Shore can look forward to a winning season in 1953.

Upper — "Now what?" Jerry Goldman seems to be asking himself as he is rapped by three Hirsch cagers. Kent Beauchamp and Ed Berman come up fast to help their Tar teammate.

Lower left — Sherwin Strauss exhibits the dribbling form that has baffled many a South Shore opponent.

Lower right—Under the basket Kent Beauchamp (right) tries desperately to block Howard Simon's field goal attempt.

Upper left—Owen Deutch keeps in step with Vic Levadi as he passes the baton.

Upper right—Irwin Schwartzberg gets some practice on fast starting.

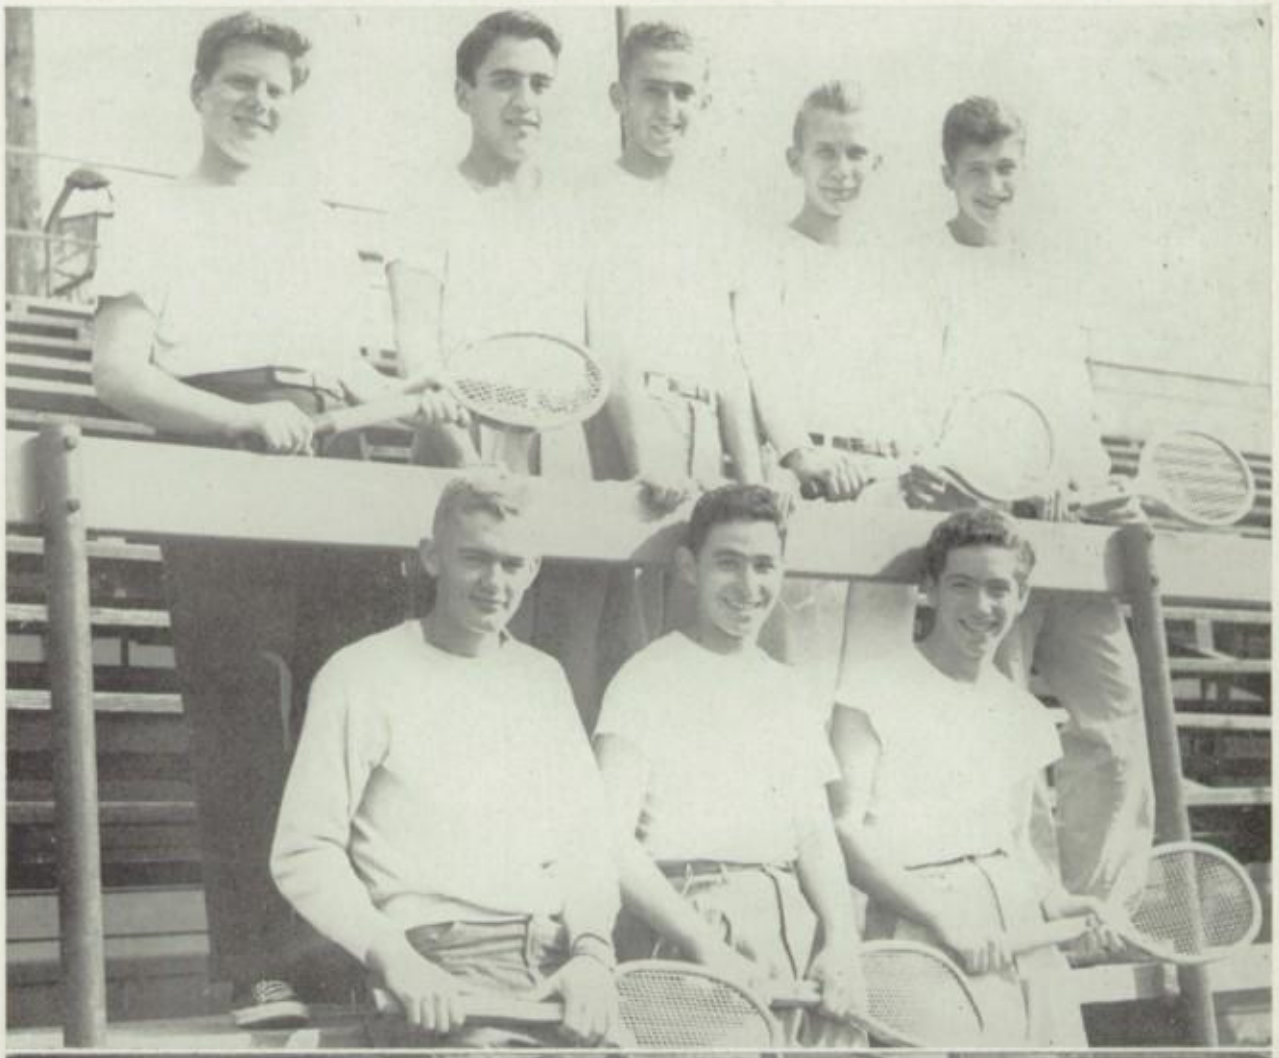
On Winged Feet

Each spring some of South Shore's ambitious students don track uniforms and proceed to run, run, run. Unfortunately, this great body building sport has never reached a real peak in South Shore.

This year, Mr. Jim Burrows, a practice teacher, has coached the track team. Leading runners have been Owen Deutch, John Klawans, Vic Levadi, Gene Pope, Herschel Schneider, Irwin Schwartzberg, and Harry Slan.

Deutch suffered a foot injury in mid-season and missed the sectional meet. Hershey Schneider led the field for the first few seconds in the Senior 100 yard dash in the South Central Relays, but failed to place. The track team scheduled no meets this season, but practiced instead. Next year the experience acquired during this season should put them in the front ranks.

Tennis and Baseball Teams



Upper—In row one of the Tennis Team are John Barker, Ed Fine, Jerry Gordon.

Row two—Jim Malkus, Roger Baskes, Don Cohen, Larry Patchen, Seymour Byman.

Lower—In row one, Baseball Team members are Burt Kushner, Lyman Goss, Ed Sheridan, Tom Neary, Paul Mance, Jack Ellis.

Row three—Jerry Goldman, Bill Johnson, Tom Heylin, Tom Conner, Jim Connor.

The 1952 South Shore Tennis Team has been one of the most successful of those that have represented the school. Captain Dick Oakley qualified for the state tournament and made a very fine showing. Other members of the team were Bill Shropshire, Seymour Byman, Dave Patchen, David Birkner, Bob Factor, and Joel Miller.

Although the record of the Baseball Tars for this year was not impressive, the season could be called successful. This year's squad was composed mainly of lower classmen who will return next year to give South Shore a more experienced and stronger team.

Many of the games were close and, had South Shore received some lucky breaks, its record might have been much better. Mr. Ted Anderson, coaching the team for the first time, did a fine job of instilling confidence in the inexperienced players.

Victorious Mermen of '52

Winning the South-Central Section Championship climaxed a victorious year for the Swimming Team. Strong in every event, the 1952 Juniors added eleven more triumphs to the string of 25 league wins, under the able leadership of Coach Williams.

In the city meet, Bill Johnson finished second in back stroke and Bob Grindey placed third in hundred-yard breast-stroke competition. With many boys graduating, the 1953 Swim Team will include many of this year's Juniors, offering a promising 1953 season for both teams.

Upper—David Becker, Junior captain and swim star, churns into the last lap.

Center—Combined Junior and Senior swim teams include in row one: Frank Caraher, Roger Stevens, Bill Carlson, Alan Beel, Bill Johnson, Charles Grunhard, Bob Grindey, Bob Stuart, and Dave Becker.

Row two—Mgr. Martin Ernstein, Art Lange, John Mizanin, Frank Hailand, Curtis Coutts, Jim Zuckerman, Harold Johnson, Tom Mitchell, Jim Taylor, Jerry Gordon, and Coach Williams.

Row three—David Cross, Joe Kaier, Bruce MacNeish, William Moore, Wilmar Weinberg, Edel Mikell, Larry Fisher, Daniel Crane, and David Crane.

Lower—Jim Taylor, Junior diver, executes a perfect swan dive.

Members of the Girls' Swim Club form an "S S" for South Shore.

Our Amphibious Aqua-Debs

The Girls' Swim Club, newly christened the Aqua-Debs, is under the able direction of Mrs. Isabel Lassen. The club, which meets every Tuesday, tenth period, provides a wonderful experience for any girl. Tryouts for girls who are able to swim in the deep end of the pool are given at the beginning of each semester.

The Aqua-Debs made their debut at the show during the Carnival Night last year. The entertainment at these shows includes various types of dives. In this category are the back dive, swan dive, jack-knife dive, as well as many others. Also demonstrated were the different strokes ranging from a slow scull to a fast crawl. One of the girls' most difficult feats is to swim in time with music. Evidence that they have mastered this art was clear to those who saw "South Pacific" on Carnival Night.

However, all is not play for these industrious girls. During the spring season they are given a course in life saving. This practical instruction is one of the many extra benefits given the mermaids.

Officers this spring are Carol Adams, president; Carol Mulhall, vice-president; Beth Saphir, secretary; June Forde, treasurer.

Champion Keglers

June brought to a close the most successful bowling season in the eleven year history of South Shore High School.

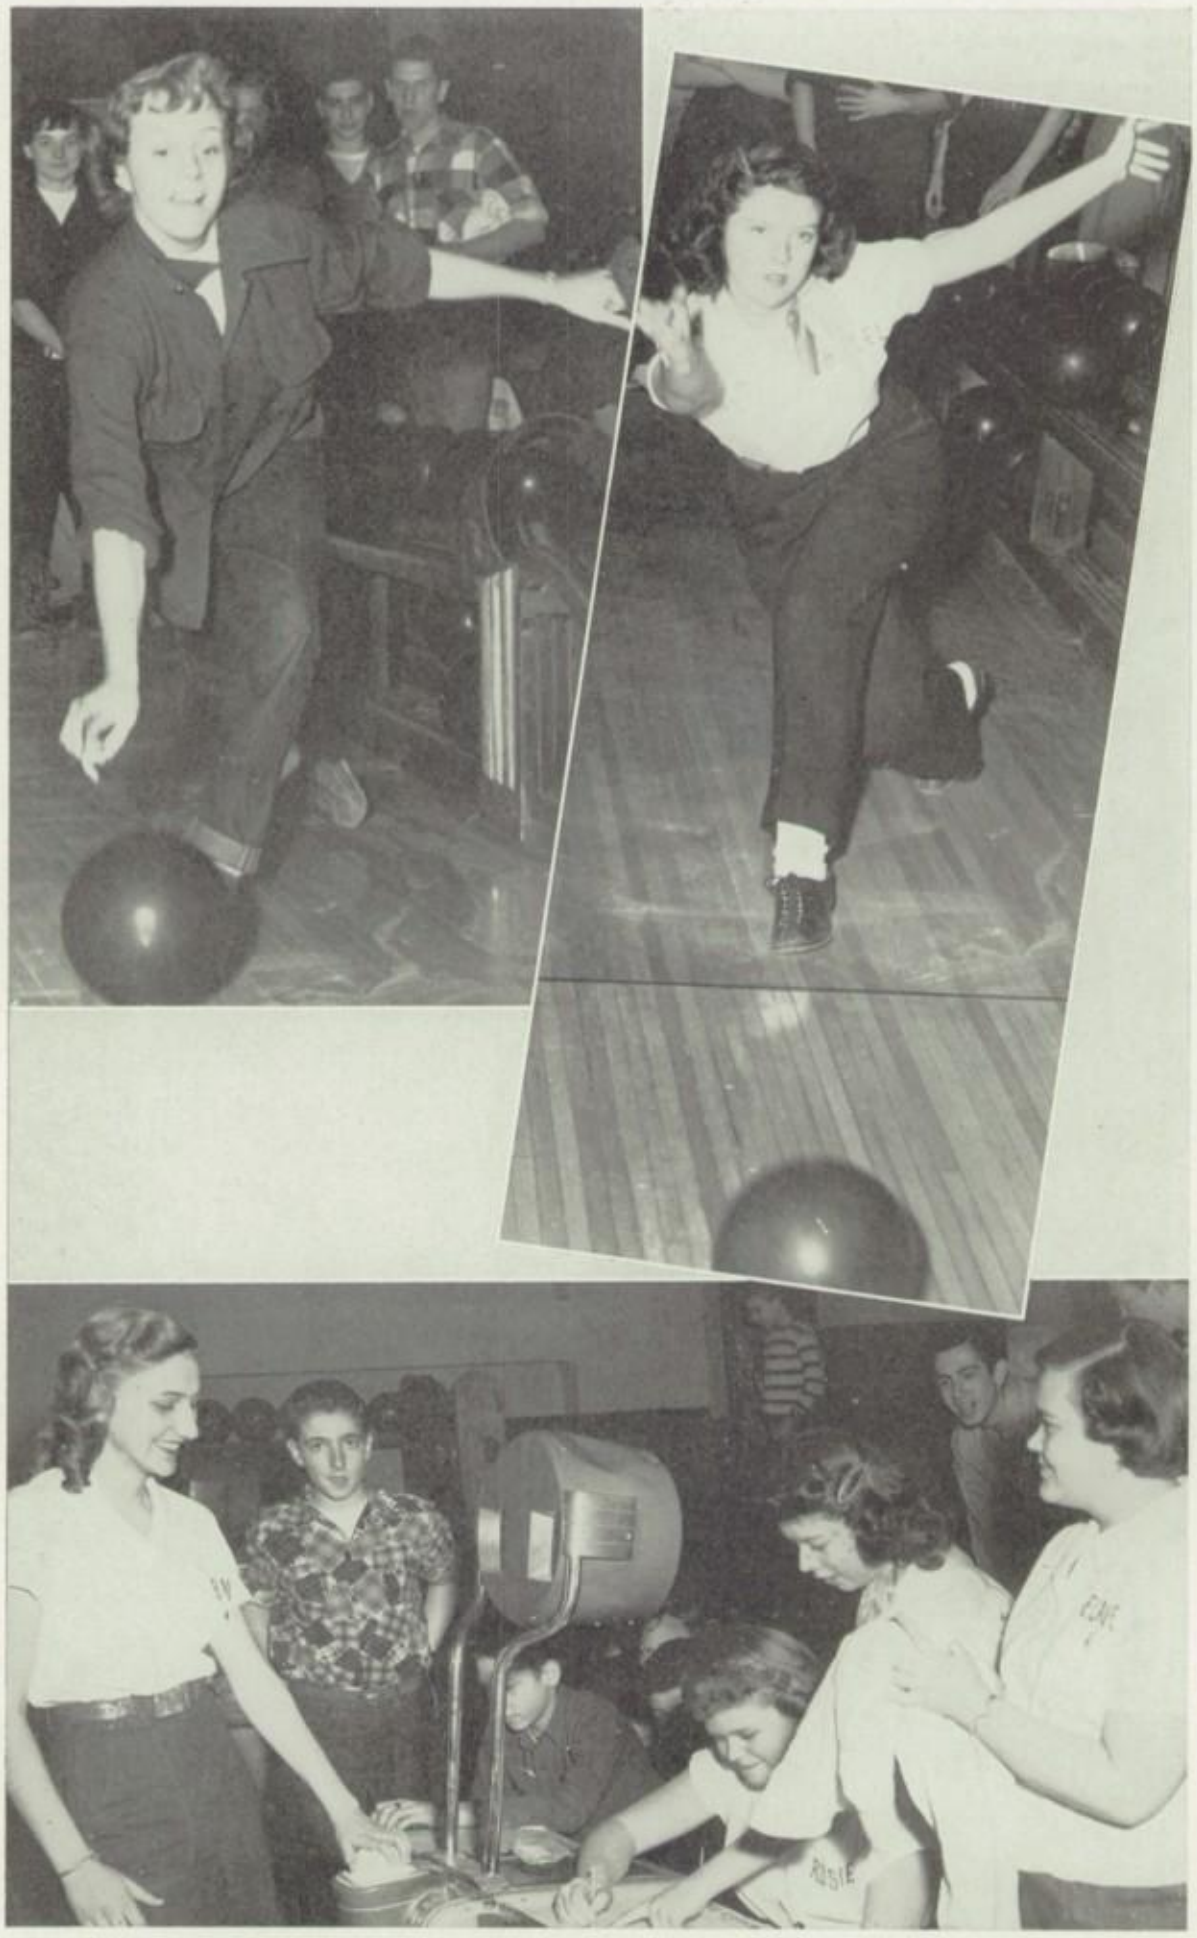
The Bowling League, under the sponsorship of Coach Ralph Wiltshire, was filled to capacity as eighteen teams entered in the hot race for the league championship. It had been quite some time since so many teams have entered the league competition.

Near the end of the season the Tars amassed a total of 2635 pins to win the fourteenth annual city prep title. The Tars' total was only 86 pins short of the record set last year by Harrison High School. This was the first time since 1943 that South Shore has been able to win this honor.

Upper—Gritting his teeth, Reese Jadwin sends the ball down the alley for a possible strike!

Lower—Reese Jadwin, David Kosvick, Paul Davis, and Eddie Kaplan appear to be pleased with their scores.

Roll, Roll That Ball



Upper left—Star athlete Betty Jo Greenawalt starts the ball rolling toward another strike.

Upper right—Hazel Black keeps her eye on the pocket as she releases the ball.

Lower—Hazel Black makes sure Rose Mary Thorsen puts down the score accurately as her team mates, Barbara Baugh and Elaine Frank, get ready for the next frame.

South Shore feminine league bowlers have a fine record for 1951-1952. The girls have been guided by their sponsor, Mr. Wiltshire, who has tried successfully to make the girls' record as good as that of the boys.

Elaine Frank, Betty Jo Greenawalt, Hazel Black, and Rose Mary Thorsen are the members of the Four Stars, the team in first place in the league.

The secretary, Elaine Frank, has many duties, including those of figuring the averages of the team members and keeping score at tournaments.

At the Bowling Banquet, which is held each June, awards are given to the best teams and the two best players.

Girls' Athletic Association

Upper right—Girls who help plan G.A.A. activities are Board members. Ranging in S form are Carol Janisch, Janet Fulrath, Lauren Pachman, Joann Leasure, Carol Adams, Elsie Arnold, Sue Glenn, and Myrna Salomon.

Lower—"Fun for all" is the motto of Fall G.A.A Board officers. Clockwise are Secretary Barbara Cassel, Treasurer Shirley Johnson, President Jackie Buchsbaum, and Vice-President Lynn Wernecke.

The Girls' Athletic Association, most popular organization at South Shore, is sponsored by Miss Frederika Marston.

The G.A.A. sponsors the student-faculty volleyball game which gives the students a chance to compete with the teachers.

A contest to choose the girl with the best posture in the school is also sponsored by the G.A.A. This group is always striving to keep the girls of South Shore healthy and neat.

Spring officers are Betty Boyd, president; Shirley Johnson, vice-president; Lynn Wilson, secretary; and Joann Leasure, treasurer. They work hard to maintain the standards of the association.

They Cheer to Victory

Playing a large part in keeping up school spirit are the cheer leaders. They attend both basketball and football games where they help to cheer the Tars to victory.

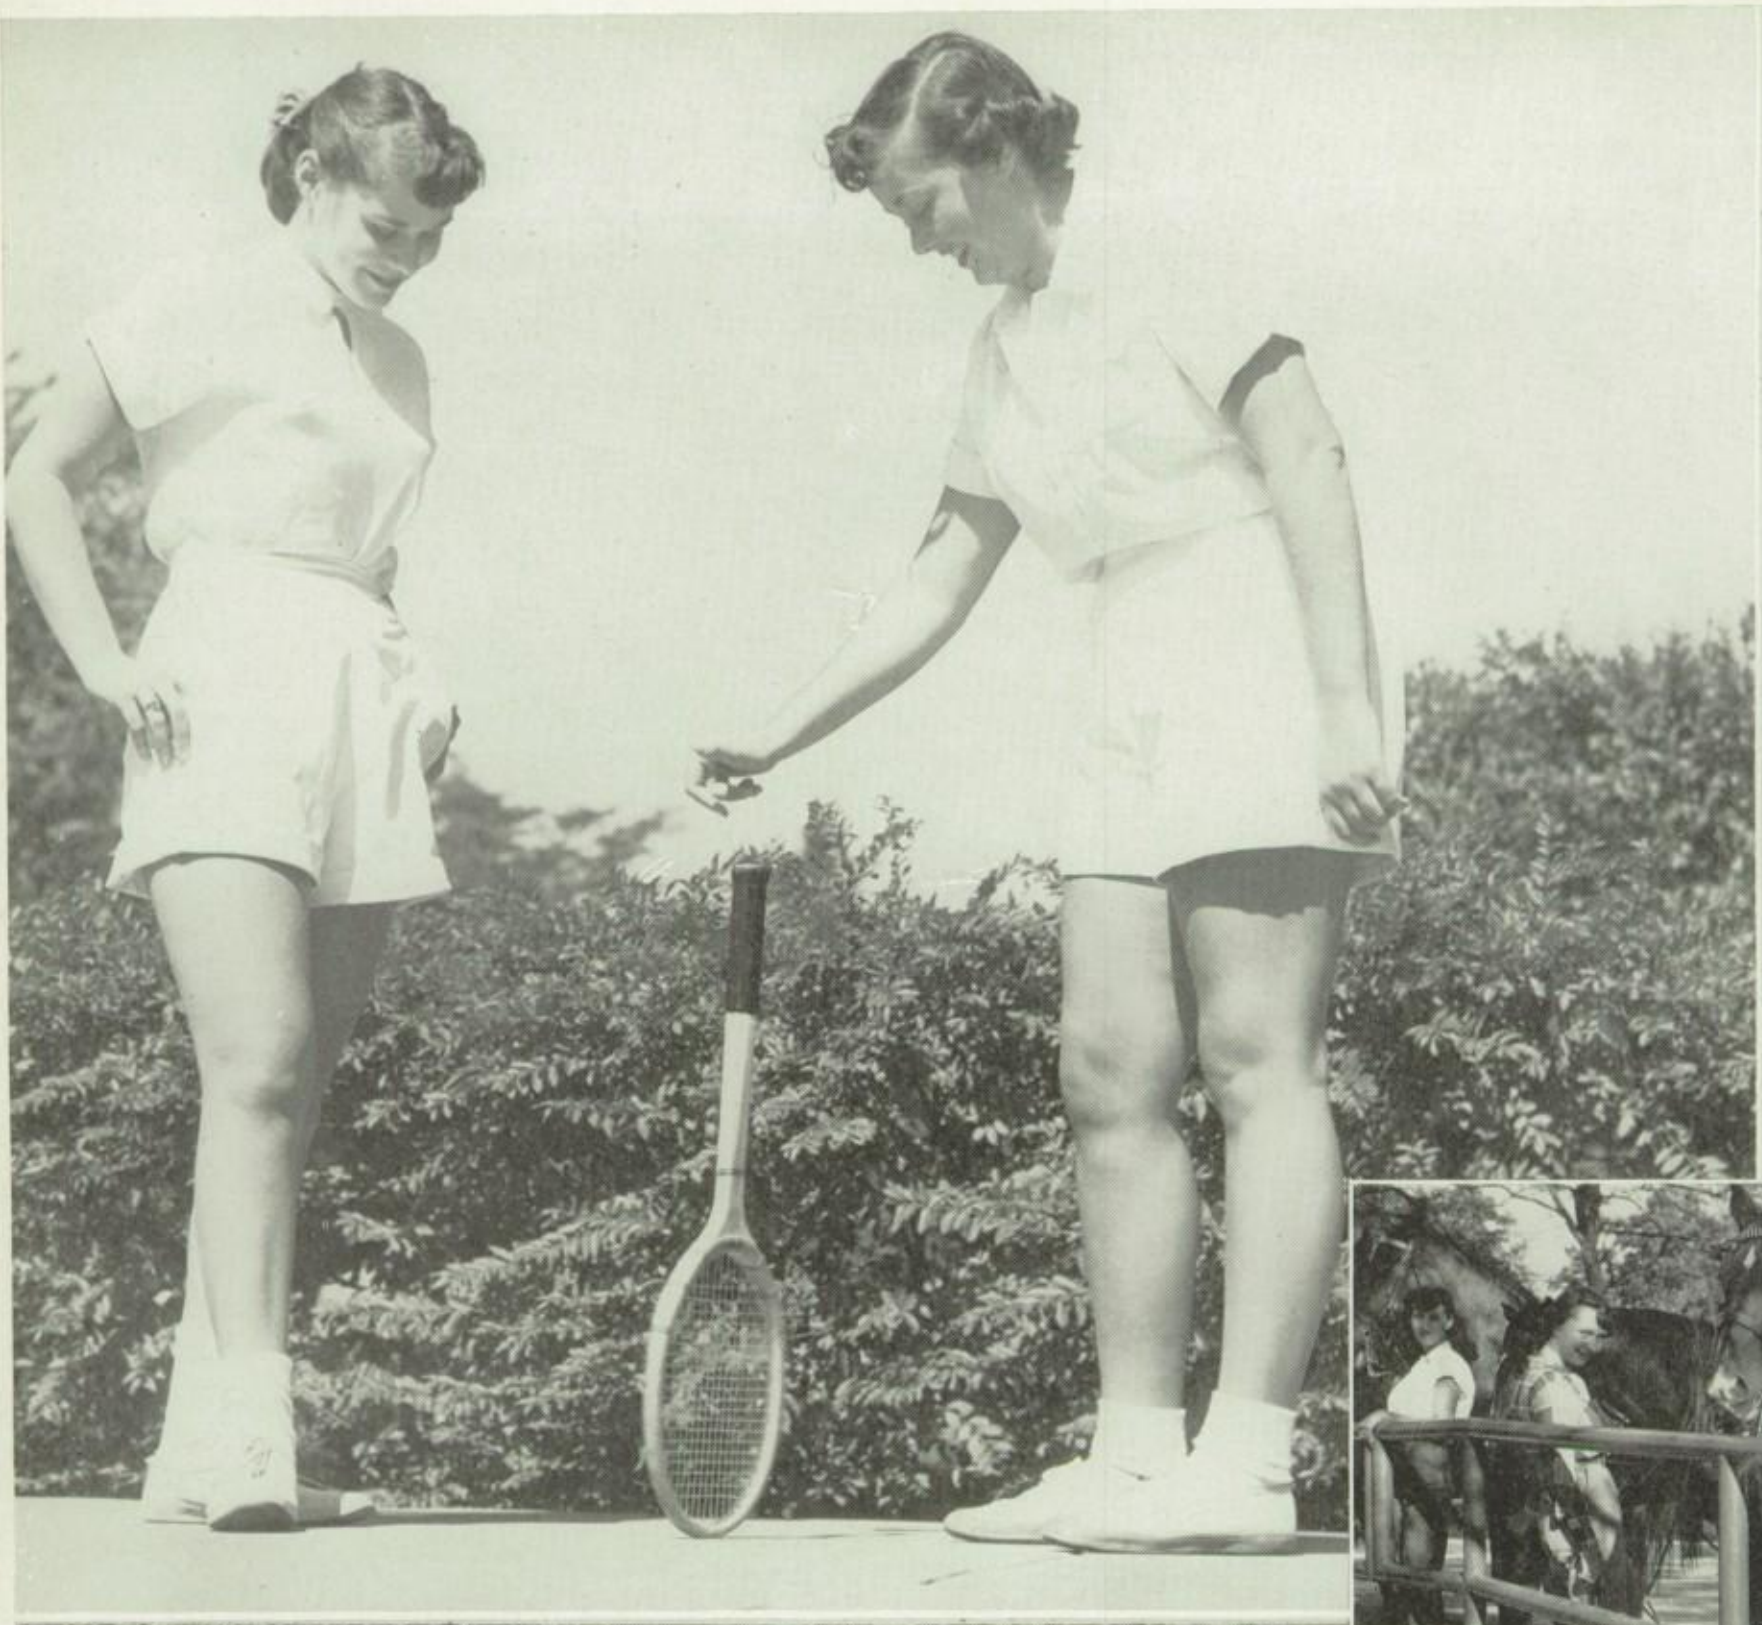
To become a cheer leader a girl must attend cheer leading classes for one semester and attain a "G" average.

Officers this semester are Leah Embree, captain; Joan Grabill, co-captain; Barbara Cassell, secretary-treasurer. The sponsor is Mrs. Isabel Lassen.

Upper—Carol Janisch, Barbara Cassel, Lynn Wernecke, Joan Grabill, and Judy Brown demonstrate one of their cheers.

Center—Fall Officers consist of Secretary Lorna Schafer, Captain Gerrie Malloy, Co-Captain Betty Boyd, and Treasurer Leah Embree, who relax between cheers.

Lower—Betty Boyd, co-captain, and Gerrie Malloy, captain, start a rousing cheer.



All's in Fun

The G.A.A. sponsors many activities throughout the year. An all season favoirte is the Horseback Riding Club, directed by Lauren Pachman. Warm weather favorites are the annual tennis tournaments which are held each spring to determine the champion girl tennis player of the school. The Bowling Club, which meets every week under the guidance of Judy Johnson, also has its champion. Bowling and tennis awards are given at the Award Assembly.

Other activities thoroughly enjoyed by the girls, although they are not sponsored by the G.A.A., are ping-pong and bicycle riding.

PICTURED ON OPPOSITE PAGE:

Upper: Vickie Spear and Lois Kornafel spin the racquet to decide who will serve first.

Lower: Laurie Pachman asks Trigger if he would like to take a dip while Jo Duggan looks on.

Right: Resting their horses are Illeana Mihas Marilyn Moore, and Judy Brown.

Upper: "Nice return," remarks Janet Howard as her team mate, Pat Moore, returns the ball to their opponents, Dolores Roberts and Joyce Krippahne.

Lower: Hoping that she won't be late, Donna Moen removes her jacket as she hears the five minute bell.

To Maintain the Straight Course We Have Charted

Dear Elsie –

It's really been swell having you next to me during that tough math struggle, Trig. But we're still alive to talk about it.
